EQUAL SUFFRAGE IS THE LAW OF THE LAND

Secretary Colby Issued Proclamation This Morning Upon Receipt of Official Certification of Ratification of 19th Amendment by 36th State. Official proclamation of the 19th amendment, granting women the suffrage, was issued this morning at Washington by Secretary of State Colby, upon receipt of official certification of Tennessee's ratification of the amendment. A last effort of the anti-suffrage forces was blocked yesterday when Justice Siddens of the District of Columbia Supreme court refused to issue a "show cause" order against Secretary Colby. Gov. Roberts certified Tennessee's ratification Tuesday after receiving from his Attorney General an opinion that a writ issued by Chief Justice Lansden of the State Supreme court set aside a lower court order temporarily restraining the Governor from taking such action. Upon receipt of Governor Roberts' official notice Secretary Colby proclaimed the amendment in effect and equal suffrage the law of the land.

SPECIAL SESSION ADJOURNS TODAY

House Refuses to Raise Salaries—Repeal of Primary Will Be Submitted to Voters—Registration and Voting of Women Provided For. Both houses of the General Assembly held sessions last night and speeded up with the purpose of adjourning today at noon, the time fixed by both houses for the end of the special session. The House defeated by a large majority 4 bills to raise salaries of constitutional officers, State officers, judges, and clerks of the several departments. Under the provision of a bill which passed both the Senate and the House this week, repeal of the primary will be submitted to both parties in the November election and if a majority of the vote cast shall favor repeal, the bill will be in force from that date. The constitutional amendment bill, which previously had passed the House, passed the Senate Tuesday. The Senate Tuesday passed a measure providing for the registration and voting of women. The act provides that "nothing in any of the laws of North Carolina shall be construed as to prevent the registration and voting of women 21 years of age and having other qualifications provided for men and that women shall not be required to pay poll tax as a prerequisite to voting. A bill was passed to increase the salary of solicitors, a sliding scale of fees ranging downward from the $40 given for conviction in capital cases to $10 in lesser offenses. The maximum in the old schedule was $25 for murder cases.

The House rejected the Governor's proposal to create a commission to prepare a suitable road bill for the regular session in January. It passed a resolution asking the Corporation Commission to maintain the present intra-State passenger rates.

OFFICER SHOT DEAD IN PRESENCE OF HIS FAMILY

Belfast, August 22—Police Inspector Swansey, against whom a verdict of wilful murder was given by a coroner's jury in connection with the assassination of Mayor McCurtain in March was shot dead today while proceeding to his home from church at Lisburn to which town he had been transferred after the finding of the coroner's jury. The killing of Inspector Swansey was among the most daring of a long series. The congregations were leaving all the protestant churches at the time. The officer had been with his mother and sister in attendance upon the service at Christ church and had reached the corner of Railway street, where he resided. Here three men armed with rifles confronted Swansey and fired on him in the presence of his horrified family. Swansey fell, but, to make double sure, the assassins discharged their weapons again into his body.

NEGRO LYNCHED AT GRAHAM: ASSAULTED CHILD

Mob Took Prisoner From Sheriff Near Scene of Conflict Between Machine Gunners and Masked Mob—Negro Admitted Crime. A Durham dispatch of the 25th gives the following: On almost the identical spot where James Ray fell mortally wounded during the battle between a masked mob and the Durham machine gun company guarding the Alamance county jail, on the night of July 19, another mob this afternoon overpowered Sheriff C. D. Storey and six deputies and took away from them John Jeffress, a negro charged with assaulting a four-year-old child. Afterwards the mob carried the negro, without resistance to a lonely spot half-way between Burlington and Belmont cotton mills, west of Graham, and riddled his body with bullets. He was reported to Sheriff Storey, afterwards, as dead. The crime for which the young negro was put to death is alleged to have been committed at 10 o'clock this morning near the child's home. Cries of her mother, it is said, caused the negro to run, leaving the little girl without serious injury. An armed posse formed immediately after the crime was reported, but it was Sheriff Storey's posse, composed of deputy sheriffs and police officers of both Graham and Burlington, that landed the prisoner. They found him crouched in a honeysuckle vine near the Graham railroad station. He was arrested and placed in the Alamance county jail shortly after the noon hour. He admitted the crime, Sheriff Storey said.
