BOLL WEEVIL

HAS ARRIVED

Cotton Pests Have Played Havoc With Top Crop on Mr. A. H. McLeod's Plantation Near Lumberton.

Since the news item below was put in type Mr. C. A. Whittington, who farms on Mr. A. H. McLeod's plantation two miles north of town on the Fayetteville road, has discovered that boll weevils are plentiful in his cotton crop. Mr. Whittington says the weevil and a worm have destroyed practically all his top cotton crop.

Mr. Whittington brought a weevil to town and the weevil can be seen at The Robesonian office.

BOLL WEEVIL FOUND IN ROBESON

First Found in Robeson Brought to Town Friday by Mr. R. B. Baxley—Farm Demonstrator. Dukes Has This Rascal Bottled Up.

Town Friday by hartmahorahorrd a well-grown Robeson county boll weevil, and he very much alive, was brought to town Friday by Mr. R. B. Baxley of the Saddle Creek section. This was the first Robeson county boll weevil seen here and of course he attracted considerable attention for a visitor of his size. The weevil is now in possession of Mr. O. O. Dukes, county farm demonstrator, who has him bottled up.

The weevil was found on Mr. Baxley's wagon and not in his cotton field. This is evidence that there are other weevils in that section, no doubt.

According to theory, one female weevil can produce a crop of twelve and a half million weevils during one cotton-growing season.

Mr. Dukes has had a number of worms, bugs and other insects brought to him by people who took them to be boll weevils during the last few weeks, but the one brought in by Mr. Baxley is the only original cotton boll weevil yet brought to town.

BUTLER STORY BELIEVED TO BE A FAKE

Story About Dead Body of J. M. Butler Is Thought to Have Been Sent By Butler Himself—Police of Wendell Know Nothing of Nude Body Find.

Relatives of J. M. Butler are inclined to believe that the story sent out from Norfolk, Va., about his nude body being found dead in the woods, near Wendell, this State, was written by Butler himself. A letter received by The Robesonian and published in last Monday's paper telling of the finding of Butler's body was written on stationery of the Atlantic hotel of Norfolk, Va., and signed by Robt. E. Powell, who gave his address as Knightdale, N. C.

According to a news story in yesterday's Raleigh News & Observer, the authorities at the State insane hospital have heard nothing from Butler since he escaped from the hospital August 27. On the first of September another patient at the hospital received a card mailed in Washington, which it is believed was mailed by Butler. On the card was scrawled "South America bound." According to the News & Observer, the chief of police at Wendell, near where the body was reported to have been found, says he knows nothing of the find. The hospital authorities state that they believe the story was sent out merely as a ruse in order to throw them off the track of the escaped lunatic.

Butler is a native of the Boardman section, where his people now live. He served as a radio operator in the navy during the world war and lost his mind, following an attack of influenza, it is said. He had escaped the hospital twice before and the last time he escaped he told his people that he would die before he would stay at the hospital.

Law Gregory of the Raft Swamp section went fishing last week and caught 18 nice Lumber river trout in two days, according to information gleaned from Mr. Gregory by The Robesonian man. 40 CENTS MINIMUM PRICE FIXED FOR COTTON

Southern Cotton Assn. Recommends That Cotton Be Held for Minimum of 40 Cents, Midding Basis—Co-operative Marketing Systems Urged.

At its meeting in Montgomery, Ala., Friday the Southern Cotton association adopted a recommendation to members that cotton be held for a minimum price of 40 cents, middling basis, with 1 cent per month added after November 1.

A committee of 55 Southern bankers, business men and officials of the various divisions of the American Cotton association was appointed to confer with the governor and members of the Federal Reserve board on Sept. 15 for the purpose of ascertaining a clear-cut pronouncement of policy on the financing of the 1920 cotton crop.

Other proposals adopted urged establishment of co-operative marketing systems in every cotton growing county; the formation of an expert corporation to sell cotton in Central Europe; the reduction of acreage to cotton and increasing acreage for food and forage crops and retirement of 25 per cent of the higher grade cotton.

Southern banks with loans in Eastern banks are requested in a general resolution adopted to recall these loans in order that the money may be diverted to financing the South's crops, and a resolution by former Governor Manning of South Carolina calls on the governors of cotton States to proclaim September 20, "Cotton Day," on which date meetings are to be held in all counties to develop interest in the program of the association.
