This pays one-fourth the cost, the balance being paid by the State and national governments. Dr. Chas. V. Herdlika, of the Division of Venereal Diseases, U. S. Public Health Service Bureau at Washington, appeared before the commissioners and told of the plan of the campaign and the ravages of these secret diseases.

The educational plan consists of a social hygiene field car, or traveling motion picture show, carrying its own motion picture machines, films, stereopticons, lantern slides, animated pictures, exhibit of books on sex education, etc. Robeson is the third county in the State to be selected, Cumberland having been first and the second Harnett.

Further details of this campaign, which is perhaps the most important ever launched in Robeson, will be given in the next issue of The Robesonian.

Worm Doing Considerable Damage in Cotton Fields.

Mr. W. F. McLeod, who lives on the Fairmont-Lumberton road, brought to The Robesonian office yesterday two bolls of cotton that had been ruined by a worm. Mr. McLeod says he has 18 acres of cotton the top crop of which has been completely ruined by this worm; or rather he thought that perhaps the damage had been done by a bug which he also brought along and which he thought might be the boll weevil. He came to compare the bug he found with the boll weevil in the Robesonian office, but found that they were not at all alike. County Farm Demonstrator Dukes was shown the bug and the worm Mr. McLeod brought in and he said the damage had been done by the worm. This worm he thought might be only the corn worm with which all farmers are familiar, but he said he would send it to Raleigh and get a report on it. Mr. McLeod said that his neighbor Mr. Mark Leggett said his top crop had been damaged in the same way.

THE BOLL WEEVIL

Habits of the Cotton Pest and What May Be Expected in the Way of Damage.

DAMAGE NEXT YEAR IS APT TO BE SMALL

There is No Occasion for Excitement But Every Farmer Should Begin to Prepare a Live-at-Home Program—Don't Wait for the Weevil to Take Complete Charge to Make Necessary Changes.

METHOD OF CONTROL SHOULD GIVE SATISFACTORY RESULTS

By O. O. Dukes, Robeson County Farm Demonstrator.

Since the boll weevil has appeared in two townships in Robeson county it is thought wise to give something of the habits and what may be expected in the way of damage.

The adult weevil punctures the square, lays an egg, and seals the puncture with a bit of substance from the side of the square. The sealed puncture is about half way from the base to the top of the square, and is small, usually less than half the size of a pin head. The egg hatches to the worm in about 3 to 6 days. The worm feeds upon the developing parts of the square. Its injury causes the square to turn yellow, flare and fall off. The worm passes from this stage to the stage in which wings, legs, bill are developed. The weevil is still in the sealed square. As soon as fully developed it cuts its way out and is ready to begin puncturing squares for another generation. The period from the egg to the grown weevil is from 17 to 21 days, depending on the season, the development being more rapid in hot wet weather.

The weevil will not puncture bolls as long as squares are plentiful, but when these get scarce the half-grown bolls are punctured. The damage done by the weevil next year is apt to be small. Heavy infection may be expected year after next. Should the migration be heavy from now until killing frost, and then a mild winter and a late spring, the condition may be changed and damage will be expected next year.

The weevil passes the winter in the adult stage. As soon as killing frost comes the weevil goes into winter quarters and there remains without feed until spring. Shelter is found along the fence row, ditches, around buildings, under trash, stumps and anything that is left in the field. Since the damage next year will depend on the number of weevils passing the winter, great care should be taken to clean up the fields as soon as possible after the cotton is picked. If the weevils in the field are destroyed, there will be none to contend with except those that come from the weeds.

There is no need of excitement, but every farmer should begin to prepare a live-at-home program; that is, grow everything that is needed on the farm. There is no need of waiting until the weevil has taken complete charge before beginning to make these changes.

For those who want to continue to grow cotton there will, in all probability, be a way. The use of calcium arsenate is proving satisfactory in many parts of the cotton belt. The method is being improved all the time and when the weevil is well established in North Carolina this method of control should give very satisfactory results.

Another Boll Weevil Brought In.

A full-grown Mexican boll weevil was brought to the Robesonian office this morning by Lloyd Lowrey, Indian, who farms on a plantation belonging to Messrs. Crichton & McLean, three miles north of Lumberton. Lowrey said he found the weevil crawling on the ground in his cotton field. This plantation joins the one owned by Mr. A. H. McLeod upon which a weevil was found last week.

PARKTON NEWS ITEMS.

Mrs. Nan Carter Becomes Wife of Rev. Mr. Taylor of Duke—Rev. J. L. Jenkins Will Resign as Pastor of Baptist Church in October—Brick Placed for New Church—Other Items.

BY C. D. WILLIAMSON.

Parkton, Sept. 7.—Quite a surprise marriage took place on last Thursday evening when Mrs. Nan Carter became the bride of Rev. Mr. Taylor pastor of the M. E. Church at Duke. The marriage took place in Fayetteville as the pastor of the bride, Rev. W. L. Maness, was away on his vacation. The bride has made her home with her sister Mrs. W. T. Fisher for several years and has made many friends who will greatly miss her. She was an active church worker and one of the efficient teachers in the M. E. Sunday school. She was conducting an up-to-date millinery business in the Perry building. Many congratulations to the happy couple. The groom will preach at the M. E. church here on next Sunday night. The public is most cordially invited.

Mr. T. W. Thompson arrived home Saturday from Little Rock, Ark., where he spent a couple of weeks seeking restoration of health, and he reports his condition much improved. Mr. F. N. Fisher spent several days in Texas and other states on business and returned home Sunday.

Rev. W. L. Maness and family left a week ago to visit relatives in Moore and Harnett counties and will return the latter part of the week.

Mrs. C. D. Williamson and two little boys, Donovan and Wilbur, left Friday for a visit to relatives in Chatham county, will return the latter part of this week.

We congratulate our young friend E. A. McDonald in his successful law course. He is at present with home folks. He is one of Parkton's most energetic young men and a bright future, we trust, awaits him.

Miss Roena Odom of Red Springs spent the week-end with her friend Miss Louise Garris, and all her friends are always glad to greet her.

Mr. Chas. Renesburg of Fayetteville installed last week a handsome monument to the grave of Mr. O. L. Johnson and son, E. V. Johnson.

Rev. J. L. Jenkin preached a most able sermon at the Baptist church Sunday to a record-breaking congregation. His theme was the second coming of Christ and it was most interesting. At the conclusion of the service he announced that he would tender his resignation the middle of October. Mr. Jenkin has been pastor of the Baptist church here for about 8 years and has always been admired by all denominations in our town, and his resignation, or the announcement to that effect, came as a great shock. We all regret to give him up. His place will be hard to fill. He is holding a revival meeting at Green Springs church this week.

The following from our town were Lumberton visitors today: T. M. Blue, B. A. McDonald, Collier Cobb and this scribe, and while there we were shown some real live boll weevils and we were advised they were found 3 miles north of Lumberton, and we heard some of the ravages of Robeson are afflicted. Look out, Cotton! But what's the difference! We can raise other stuff—peanuts, tobacco and most everything that grows.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hughes, on the 3rd, a fine girl.

The rain broke up the married and single men's game of baseball Friday evening at the 4th inning. The game stood 3 to 0 in favor of the youngsters. This afternoon they tried their skill again. Much interest in this game. The rain broke up the above game, only one inning each, and no score.

The Parkton band has closed an engagement to play at Pembroke Thursday.

Mr. H. B. Culbreth left this morning for Davidson college, while Charles Vance McMillan left for Chapel Hill.

Mr. R. Faircloth is building a nice cottage in the southern part of town. The brick are all on the ground for the new Presbyterian church and only for the timber everything would soon be moving along nicely.

Worth Williamson of St. Pauls made a brief call on home folks this p. m. He will leave Wednesday night for Richmond, Va., medical college.

Mr. B. P. Walters of Cerro Gordo is a Lumberton visitor today.

Reported for The Robesonian: Mr. David Hodge of Alcolu, S. C., and sisters, Misses Alma, Aloux and Ida, spent the week-end with Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Fleming. They made the trip by "Ford".

TOBACCO FARMERS UP IN ARMS BECAUSE 50 PER CENT SLUMP

Tobacco farmers in eastern North Carolina, says yesterday's Raleigh News and Observer, are up in arms because of a fifty per cent reduction in prices for the opening day as compared with last year. Greenville warehouses were closed shortly after opening Tuesday when it is reported that angry farmers refused to allow the sales continued. Sales were also discontinued at Farmville and Ayden, but the large markets remained open though the price slumps caused a lot of the weed to be hauled back home and many indignation meetings were held.

The State and county tax scrolls were turned over to County Auditor J. M. McCallum yesterday and the task of compiling the tax lists under the revaluation act has begun. This work is usually begun more than three months earlier, but owing to the revaluation of all property, it was impossible to get the scrolls earlier.
