

Bringing in the BISCUITS

Made with Occo-nee-chee Self-Rising Flour, biscuits, waffles and hot-cakes fairly melt in your mouth.

This flour is easy to use because it contains baking-powder, soda and salt in exact proportions to insure perfect baking. Occo-nee-chee is also very economical since the extra ingredients are already in it, because they cost less than when bought separately.

It takes but a few seconds to mix Occo-nee-chee with water or milk and a few minutes more for baking.

SEEN AND HEARD

(BY HAPPY JACK)

Perhaps no one line of business was affected by the drop of price of cotton to any greater extent than that of matrimony. It's awful to glance at the marriage license book in the office of Register of Deeds M. W. Floyd and note the "drop" in business. And, the drop came so suddenly. During the month of September Mr. Floyd enjoyed a rushing business in this particular line and then all at once it was practically over. Since that time very few have "taken wife" in "the State of Robeson."

Speaking of marrying when times are hard, one man expressed himself in favor of marrying at a time like which we are now passing through. It was his opinion that it would be better to "launch out" when the madam could not expect so much of hubby than to make the beginning when prosperity was abroad in the land and then have to "go back." It's true that there are two sides to every question.

While on the subject of things marimonial, I might tell of one man I happen to know who was married some 'steen years ago and when he was married he pawned his watch to secure the money to purchase the proper credentials. The watch has never been redeemed.

"If I had just one more bale of cotton I'd be ruined," remarked one farmer.

It's no longer necessary to cut down mother's dress for little sister observes the Geneva Times. The cutting down was done in the making.

"Junbo," the prophet, has writ a piece. Knows more of what is to be than of what has been, judging from his "piece." He answers all questions and then some, and, as you noted, did it in a creditable and convincing manner. He predicts that cotton will soon sell for 35 cents the pound and that the time will come when the laboring man can feed "hissself." It strikes me that "Junbo" should be called to Washington by the powers that be and consulted by those powers. As a prophet, he's got it bad, very bad. Here's hoping "Junbo's" anticipations will not prove sweeter than his realizations.

If you fail to read the advertisements that are appearing in The Robesonian, the chances are that you lose money. Merchants who are offering real bargains are telling the folks through this medium. It will pay you to watch the advertising columns of the Old Reliable.

Do your 1921 Christmas shopping early. It's too late to heed the cry to do it early—but there's still time.

Wilmington Star, Dec. 17: Romping around on the kitchen floor and toddling about the room while a colored woman was housecleaning, little Blackledge King, the two-year-old son of L. L. King, 419 North Fourth street, stumbled and fell backwards into a tub of boiling water yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, and was scalded so bad that he died two hours later at James Walker Memorial hospital.

Christmas Concert Next Sunday—Mr. Perry Davis' New Home Nearly Finished—Moving Time—Personal.
BY H. R. CHURCH.

Smyrna, Dec. 20.—There will be a Christmas concert at Smyrna church next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 cordially invited to come and be with us.

Mr. Joseph Biggs, from above Lumberton, was a Sunday visitor at the home of Mrs. Julia Dean.

Mr. Perry Davis has his new home nearly done and expects to move into it the first of the year.

Mrs. Laura Hamilton and daughter and her sister, Miss Willough Whisart, were visitors at Smyrna last Sunday.

Mr. Richard Willoby, who farmed the past year at Mr. Ivey's farm in the Long Branch section, is moving to Mr. Seb Lamb's farm on the Lovett road.

Mr. Clarence Lovett, who farmed on Mr. Seb Lamb's farm, is moving to Mr. Pink Britt's, where he will farm the coming year.

JOHNNIE'S DREAM.

BY H. R. CHURCH

Written for The Robesonian.

The house was still, the fire was dead,
And little Johnnie had gone to bed
With dreams of Santa and of toys
For little girls and little boys.

He saw a drum and a beating stick,
And a Teddy Bear that walked and squeaked,
A cannon and some soldiers, too,
That were made of tin, and painted blue.

A great big doll for sister Lou,
With rosey cheeks and eyes of blue,
And a ball for baby, with a rattler—
For Santa remembers everyone.

A nice big rug for mamma's room,
And pair of slippers for dear old dad,
A great big coat for sister Bess
Caus', she's wanted one for a year or less.

And oh! such a host of things to eat,
Till little Johnnie just couldn't sleep,
And was up next morning at break of day,
To see if Santa had been his way.

And oh! such a sight you never saw
For there in the corner standing
Was a beautiful tree all laden with toys
For good little Johnnie and Bess and Lou

So now, dear children, do not tease,
But go to bed soon on Christmas Eve,
And Santa will come with his reindeer sleigh
And fill your stockings on Christmas Day.

Two white boys were fatally wounded and two others seriously shot at Fincastle, Va., Saturday night when a negro named Edmund Thompson, 18 years old, fired into a crowd of boys standing in front of a store. Thompson ran away but later was arrested. One of the boys died, after being prisoner as he was being taken to Lexington, Va. and the negro escaped.

BACTERIOLOGIST FINDS NEW WAY TO GET RID OF SKIN ERUPTIONS

Bacteriologist, Through Gland Theory, Finds Way to Absorb Pimples, Boils, Tetter, Carbuncles, Poison Oak, Abscesses and Infections in a Few Days.

Preparation Known as Keison Blood and Body Builder, Stimulates All Body Glands, Restores Blood To Proper Strength, Absorbs All Poisons In the System, Leaving a Firm, Healthy Flesh.

Does In a Few Days What Has Heretofore Required Weeks and Months. Taken Once a Day. Quick and Positive Results Guaranteed.

Cold creams and cosmetics won't get rid of pimples, liver spots, sallowness, facial blemishes, and other skin eruptions, such as boils, carbuncles, tetter, abscesses, etc. These imperfections, according to recent scientific discoveries, are caused by the improper functioning of the various body glands.

Keison assists nature, by increasing gland activity, to do its work in a natural way. It not only purifies and strengthens the blood, putting rich, red blood in your veins, but repairs and cleanses the entire system, restores weight, appetite and energy and acts as a safe, gentle laxative.

If you want to quickly rid yourself of those horrible skin eruptions—eat what you like and enjoy it without bad after effects—sleep well at night and feed good all day—get a bottle of Keison from your druggist with quick and positive results guaranteed or money refunded. (Adv.)
