1920

The Record of the year 1920 is history, and in the Book of Time is written either Failure or Success. The Old Year opened in a blaze of almost limitless Activity and Prosperity, but closed with industrial stagnation everywhere.

1921

What Promises The Year 1921?

It would be exceedingly hazardous to formulate an iron-clad prophecy covering the course of events, FINANCIAL & INDUSTRIAL—for the year 1921 and we have no such intention. But a sort of individual stock-taking or inventory, should be helpful to us in the formulating of our plans for the present year. In the contemplating of material losses, we are prone to forget that no epidemic is sweeping over our land carrying disease and death into thousands of homes, as we had last winter and two years ago. We are not confronted by famine because of shortage of food. Our barns are laden with food for man and feedstuffs for livestock. Why then, should we sit down and moan because our material prosperity has been temporarily halted? Our blessings outweigh, a thousand times, our difficulties. The old year had its trials and difficulties. Let us put them behind us.

The new year brings us new problems to face. We shall have to build anew the prosperity we have lost, but FAINT-HEARTED MEN NEVER WON A VICTORY.

We have gathered a wonderful harvest. Think of it 70,000 bales cotton grown in Robeson County, bread, meat and feedstuffs enough and to spare. Many people will say our crops are too large. Not so, let them remember that a BUMPER CROP IN HAND is a more tangible asset than what MAY BE produced this year. Herin lies our financial uplifting for the present year. Plant fifty per cent less cotton and tobacco, use sixty per cent less commercial fertilizer, practice strictest economy in expenditures, do not plant more cotton than you can grow at a cost not exceeding ten cents per pound.

Expressing our deepest appreciation of the splendid patronage and confidence extended to us by our eleven hundred patrons during the past year, we beg to state that our greatest pleasure will be to serve your banking interests again during the present year. We have the financial and business ability to render you a banking service to the limit that safe and sound banking principles will permit. We are,

Your friends,
