WORTH-WHILE CAMPAIGN

It would take a special edition every day to publish all the free publicity matter that finds its way into any newspaper office.

North Carolina is sending to other states for food and feed products $100,000,000 a year.

In a letter to "customers and friends" Mr. K. M. Biggs, local merchant, says, among other things: "There are numerous new problems facing us for the 1922 crop."

Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve board, in report to Congress on the general business outlook, says the United States is facing an era of prosperity of longer duration than the country ever has known.

Compromise Soldiers' Bonus Plan

Substitute for Cash Feature Provision by Which ex-Servicemen May Obtain Cash from Banks.

Washington, March 3.—Unanimous agreement on a compromise soldiers' bonus bill along the general lines outlined officially on yesterday was reached today by House ways and means committee Republicans.

Adjusted service certificates, with an added loan provision which would enable the men to obtain immediately from banks a sum equal to 50 per cent of the adjusted service pay; vocational training, home and farm aid and land settlement.

Banks in making loans on the certificates could not charge an interest rate in excess of two per cent above the rediscount rate charged by the regional Federal Reserve Bank on ninety-day paper in the district where the loan was made and they could not make the loans for a period in excess of three years from the date of the certificate which would not be rediscountable by Federal Reserve banks.

If the loans had not been repaid on September 30, 1925, the banks could make demand on the government for the money due.

"It is hoped and believed," said Chairman Fordney in a formal statement, "that when these insurance certificates become due and payable the money may be secured by the sale of property and securities owned by the federal government without any special charge on the treasury.

FARMING UNDER BOLL-WEEVIL CONDITIONS

Measures for Controlling Weevil. "Direct Measures for Controlling the Boll Weevil," was the subject of an address by Mr. Bruce Mabee, a member of the State Entomologist Department.

Earliness the Key Word. Weevils are first noticed when the squares begin to appear in early summer. Four or five generations follow during the season.

Picking weevils from plants early in the season, gathering infested squares and dusting the cotton weed with calcium arsenate powder were among the methods outlined for the destroying of the over-wintering weevils.

Breaking the land deep in the fall while the cotton stalks are green was also urged by the speaker. This, he said, would go a long way in destroying the last generation of weevils for the season.

Mr. Sherman's address dealt largely with the use of calcium arsenate in poisoning the weevils. This was declared by the speaker to be the best known method for poisoning the weevil.

dusting machines should not wait until they are needed to place the order, the speaker warned.

The use of calcium arsenate was held up as the greatest hope of the farmer in combating the weevil. The poison costs from 11 to 15 cents per pound in 200-pound lots, while the season-dusting cost per acre will reach a total of from 4 to 8.

The cost of dusting should not exceed 100-pounds of seed cotton per acre. All cotton saved above that amount will be a profit to the farmer.

Will Open Office in Lumberton. Messrs. Sherman, Mabee, Arce and Garen will hold like meetings in twelve counties in North Carolina, where it is predicted that the boll weevil will damage the cotton crop this year.
