To Serve

This bank believes that Service—personal attention and careful consideration to the depositor by competent men who try to give each customer the maximum of satisfaction in each transaction—is the main factor in the bank's progress. Without it our growth becomes dwarfed and checked in its development.

Whether the business of a depositor is large, small, or medium in size it counts not at all in the degree of the Service rendered. Intelligent and courteous Service to all alike is the policy of the management here.

TOLARVILLE TOPICS

Series of Meetings—School Closes—Personal.
 Correspondence of The Robesonian.
 St. Pauls, R. 1, May 12.—We are having a series of meetings here this week. Our pastor, Rev. J. M. Page, is assisted by his brother, Rev. W. P. Page, of Newport News, Va. He surely is a good preacher and is doing a great work at this place which will be remembered long after he has gone. It is a rare treat to hear a man like him preach and we sincerely hope he will come back to see us again sometime soon. There seems to be right much interest taken in the meeting and we pray that there will be many souls saved in this community during the meeting.

We are having some real warm weather here now and the grass is sure hustling. The crops are growing right nicely too. We hope this will be a good crop year as the crops through here were destroyed by hail last year.

The children from here go to school at St. Pauls by way of trucks. The school closed there today and I know the children are glad that vacation time has come again for when the days get hot they get tired and restless. We didn't go over to the exercises given by the school at the close of school on account of preaching here.

Mrs. Annie Stone returned to her home at Proctorville last week after spending three weeks here with relatives.

Prof. G. E. Linberry and wife of Raleigh came down yesterday and visited at the homes of Rev. R. L. Byrd and Mr. T. W. Maxwell, returning to Raleigh today.

Mr. Colon Monroe, who had a stroke of paralysis about a month ago, is slowly improving. Mrs. Monroe is right sick at this writing but we hope they will both soon be all right.

Mr. Ellie Humphrey of Savannah, Ga., is visiting friends and relatives here this week. He is accompanied by his small son.

We were very glad to have Rev. R. A. Hedgpeth and Rev. Paul Britt with us Wednesday afternoon in our meeting. They are conducting a revival at Tar Heel this week.

BROAD RIDGE BREEZES
 Crops are Looking Promising—Some Damage Done by Hail—Two Tobacco Barnes Struck by Lightning But Not Badly Damaged—Personal.
 By Gertrude Britt

Broad Ridge (Orrum R. 1), May 15.—Farmers of this section are through planting and crops are looking very promising.

Miss Nina Wilcox of Smyrna is spending a few days visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Anderson.

Miss Pearl Lawson spent the week-end visiting friends near Smyrna.

Mr. Stokes Barnes and mother, Mrs. Maris Barnes, spent yesterday at Proctorville with Mrs. Barnes' sister, who is sick with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carter and small daughter of St. Pauls spent the week-end visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carter, also Messrs. Make and Luther Carter and sister, Miss Annie.

Glad to report Master Paul Carter, who has been suffering with appendicitis, improving.

Mr. Cory Anderson spent the week-end visiting relatives near Lumberton.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Watts are smiling: it's a girl.

Crops in this section were somewhat damaged by hail yesterday about noon. Some of the older people in this community say it hailed the longest they ever knew it to. Two tobacco barns were damaged by lightning during the storm one belonging to Mr. Swain Britt on a farm where Mr. Alfred Mayes lives, and the other belonging to Mr. J. R. Lawson on the farm where Mr. Willie Cox lives. While the barns are not badly damaged, part of the cover was torn off. As far as this writer has learned

Wake county Sunday honored the memory of Eliza Riddick and Lucy Page, volunteer nurses, victims of the influenza epidemics, with exercises in the Raleigh auditorium and the unveiling of memorials on the court house lawn and at the State college Y. M. C. A. Josephus Daniels was the principal speaker at the public exercises.

The Wilmington Dispatch was sold by the receivers at a public sale at the court house in Wilmington Monday. The only bid made was by Robt. Ruark for $100, but the property was sold to secure indebtedness of $63,028.68, so the purchase price was $100 in excess of that sum. It is understood that the purchase was made for clients who propose to organize a new corporation and improve the property.
