To Serve

This bank believes that Service—personal attention and careful consideration to the depositor by competent men who try to give each customer the maximum of satisfaction in each transaction—is the main factor in the bank's progress. Without it our growth becomes dwarfed and checked in its development.

Whether the business of a depositor is large, small, or medium in size it counts not at all in the degree of the Service rendered. Intelligent and courteous Service to all alike is the policy of the management here.

PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY
 To Meet Next Year at Montreat—“Shorter Bible” Disapproved.
 Charleston, W. Va., May 25.—The 62nd general assembly of the Presbyterian Church adjourned today to meet next year at Montreat, N. C., the summer assembly grounds.
 The assembly declined to reconsider its action in retaining membership in the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America while withdrawing financial aid to the Council.
 The assembly reconsidered its action in refusing to appoint a committee to investigate the financial system of the church. The committee named for this purpose and instructed to report at the next assembly were: Rev. Ernest Thompson, Charleston, W. Va.; J. Nat Harrison, Virginia Synod; H. S. Wells, Paducah, Ky., and John Eagan, Atlanta. The committee will obtain from all financial officers of the church statements of their accounts and salaries.
 Disapproval of the “shorter Bible” was expressed by the commissioners and elders in response to an overture protesting against the further allowance of the book in the church, and the committee on publications was instructed not to advertise or accept orders for it. The “shorter Bible” is a digest of the Bible, containing selected passages.
 The Northern Presbyterian Church apparently is uncertain as to the relation of the Southern Church to the General Council of Reformed Churches in America, it developed when the moderator read a telegram received from the Northern organization asking a correct interpretation of the action of the Southern Presbyterians in this respect.
 After some discussion the assembly decided that the telegram was a personal one, but it was made clear that the Southern Church is a member of the Council whether or not the Northern Church considers it as such.
 Salary of the stated clerk of the assembly was increased from $1,800 to $3,600 with provision that he devote full time to the work.
 Other statistics showed that gifts for benevolences for the year ending March 31, 1922, totalled over $5,000,000, while other funds collected were more than $6,000,000 making a total to the church something more than $11,000,000. It was reported also that for the state period there were 3,492 churches, 2,056 ministers with $11,854 communicants and a Sunday school enrollment of 399,850.
 This general assembly marks the close of the first decade in the history of the woman's auxiliary as an integral part of the organization of the Southern Presbyterian church and the report of the superintendent submitted to this assembly shows that in every phase of its work the woman's auxiliary has achieved marked success through the 10 years that have passed since it was authorized by the general assembly of 1912, at Bristol, Va.-Tenn.

 Rev. R. C. Reed, commissioner of the Atlanta Presbytery and professor of church history in Columbia theological seminary at Columbia, S. C., was elected moderator of the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church which convened at Charleston, W. Va., Thursday. Rev. Thomas Law, who had been stated clerk of the assembly for many years, resigned, and Rev. J. D. Leslie, permanent clerk, was named to act in his place. Rev. E. L. Siler of Maxton was chosen temporary clerk.
 Report of the legislative committee of foreign missions showed encouraging growth of the work, especially within the past 20 years, both financially and spiritually. Report of the executive committee of foreign missions showed total receipts for this cause during the year of $1,231,223, and increase of a little more than $90,000 over total receipts for the previous year. The debt which this committee has been carrying for several years was increased only $9,000 the past year and amounts now to $251,704. Foreign mission stations of this church are found in 7 countries—Africa, Brazil, China, Cuba, Japan, Korea and Mexico—and additions in these fields the past year were 4,731, an increase of 41 over the number reported a year ago, Africa again leading in the number of additions, as has been the case for several years past, reporting 1,495 baptisms. During the year 3 missionaries have died, 2 have resigned, and 38 new missionaries were sent out, the largest number having gone to Korea.
 The assembly passed a resolution to use the secular press more and give publicity to their activities, and to appoint a committee to give out news about the assembly. Daily newspaper men at the convention designated the resolution as an attempt to muzzle the secular press.
 The assembly adopted a resolution proposing closer relations with the reformed churches.
