HOW DO YOU LIKE HER SHOES, GIRLS?

This is the latest in footwear—a modification of the Russian boot. The new footwear is seen only on the flapper, who in summer time, simply must have something to take the place of the unlatched overshoes.

FRIENDS WERE ANXIOUS ABOUT MRS. HERBERT

Digestive Troubles And Rheumatism Wore Little Alexandria Woman Down To Mere Shadow Of Her Former Self.

"Nobody could see the wonderful change in me since I took Tanlac without being convinced that it's the greatest medicine in the world," said Mrs. Essie Herbert, 339 S. Patrick St., Alexandria, Va.
 "I had been subject to spells of indigestion for some time and finally got so I couldn't eat a thing without suffering afterwards. I had splitting headaches, felt tired and worn out all the time and fell off to a shadow. Besides I had rheumatism in my right arm so bad it was practically useless. My friends noticed how bad I looked and got anxious and I was alarmed myself.
 "Tanlac brought my husband out of a terrible case of stomach trouble, and I knew it was a good medicine, so I started taking it too. I have gained thirteen pounds, my appetite is fine and everything agrees with me. I never fail to give Tanlac full credit for my wonderful health."
 Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

FIELD MARSHAL ASSASSIN'S VICTIM

The whole world was shocked when cables flashed news of the murder of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson in London. Chief of the British General Staff, Gen. Wilson aided Marshal Foch in directing the occupation of German cities by Allied troops. He was commander of the British forces in Uster.

SEEN AND HEARD

By Happy Jack
 It happened a week ago, but the results are not yet known. A certain young lady who lives in Lumberton has (or had) two beaux, the two living in different parts of the State. Though both have been paying their respects to the young lady for several months, neither had ever learned that the other had ever called upon her. In other words, she was "fooling" them that far. It so happened that she decided to write each of the young men a letter on last Sunday. Of course there was nothing wrong or unusual about that, but she accidentally (supposed you'd called an accident) transposed the letters to the wrong envelopes. That is, each of the young men received the letter intended for the other. She is now trying to figure out a plan that will "patch" the thing up. Things will happen.

A wise old man,
 Was Sidney Spell,
 He knew some things,
 He didn't tell.

A foolish old man,
 Was Johnnie Small;
 He knew a lot
 And told it all.

Speaking of the prospect for a short cotton crop, one farmer was heard to remark that he would rather sell five bales than to give away ten. 'Nuf sed.

To whom does the fruit belong?
 The trees were planted on one lot and the limbs extended to another. As a result there are some difference of opinion as to who should have the peaches on the extended limbs.

Something that attracts—the limb display.

Who said Congress was in session?
 Time flies and house-flies, but what I started to say is—the house-fly is ever with us.

Some wives play the role of husband, and play it well.

What's the difference between a June bride and a July bride?

Perhaps it was too good to be true. However, it was reported that a certain Lumberton young man had married when he hadn't.

Robesonian advertising will sharpen dull business. Try it.

And still Lumberton has a chance to cinch the first-half of the Interstate series.

STRICTLY BUSINESS

Cooperative Marketing of Tobacco is the FARMERS' OWN MOVEMENT in North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia, which began with the 1920 collapse of prices for tobacco, and has made a growth within two years from small beginnings to an Association of 75,000 Tobacco Growers—the largest Cooperative Marketing Association in America.

It is a movement of the farmer, by the farmer, for the farmer. Its Directors are elected by the farmers. Of the 25 Directors, 22 are tobacco farmers, picked from the most successful planters, bankers and business men of three States.

The Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association is not a promotion scheme. It is strictly a business organization of farmers for the benefit of each and every member.

Each and every individual farmer owes it not only to himself, but to his family, his neighbor and his State to help.

As this is a common problem, with a common product, it must have the concerted support of all Tobacco Growers.

Why should any group of farmers desire to WAIT AND SEE, when for many years they have seen "the auction system," which has been tried and found wanting?
