Curb Market Will Open Saturday

Success of Market Rests Upon Both Consumer and Producer—Producer is Asked to Grade Products as Much as Possible—What Market Calls For—State Senator Varsar Will Make Opening Address.

Correspondence of The Robesonian. The curb market for selling country produce direct to the consumer will open Saturday morning, July 8, at 9 o'clock, on the court house square. This call is to the producer and consumer, as the success of the market rests equally upon both.

The producer should keep in mind quality, as this is the thing the market and the consumer wants. However, there will be a place in the scale of grading for second and third quality products. In order that the grading at the market may be done with as much rapidity as possible, the producer is asked to grade as to size as much as possible. Example: If you are bringing a bushel of tomatoes, do not mix the large, medium and small sizes, but put them in separate containers.

The market calls for vegetables, fruits, melons, chickens, eggs, butter, home cooking, etc.

The opening address will be delivered by Hon. L. R. Varsar.

The market will be under the supervision of the home and farm demonstration agents.

Red Springs Celebrates the Fourth

Address by C. U. Harris of Raleigh, Bountiful Picnic Dinner, Meeting of American Legion Post, Athletic Stunts and War Pictures Features of a Delightful Occasion—Mr. Harris Sets Before Legion Members Task of Forcing United States to Enter League of Nations.

Special to The Robesonian. Red Springs, July 4.—Red Springs celebrated the Fourth in a delightful manner today, outstanding features being an address by Mr. C. U. Harris of Raleigh, Democratic nominee for the State Senate from Wake county, a picnic dinner that could not be surpassed for quality and quantity, a meeting of the local American Legion post and athletic stunts in the afternoon, and war pictures in Flora Macdonald college auditorium this evening. Business was suspended for the day and it was a thoroughly enjoyable occasion for the many who attended.

In his address, delivered in the wonderfully attractive Woodland theatre on the college campus, Mr. Harris set a precedent for saying much in short space of time. He spoke only 16 minutes and quit while his audience was hungry for more of the same, but he packed into those few minutes words that stirred his hearers to frequent applause and gave them a new vision.

Motto for Legion Members

Mr. Harris made an appeal for the League of Nations, not as something dead which should be mourned but as a living thing which the united effort of Legion members the country over can charge with new life and purpose if by united and determined effort they will force the United States to take its rightful place as a leader among the nations that have joined hands in the effort to avoid future wars. References made by the speaker to former President Wilson were greeted with hearty applause. The American Legion, said the speaker should take as its motto that war should be made impossible, and should keep up the fight until the United States goes into the League of Nations. It can be done, he said, if the four million Legion men in the United States determine that it shall be done. This he declared to be a purpose worthy to engage the effort of the Legion. The United States has lost, he said, the lofty position it won in the regard of the world by its unselfish stand during the war, had lost it by the short-sighted and jealousy-inspired blunders of a Republican Senate, but the American Legion can yet save it and civilization.

Mr. Harris rapidly reviewed some history of this great republic from its natal day 146 years ago and with a few deft strokes placed boldly upon the canvass the record of undying fame made by American service men in the great war in which Charlie Hall, a Red Springs boy, among others, lost his life. In closing he declared that America and England united can save the world, and appealed to his hearers to keep the fires of patriotism and Christianity burning in their homes.

St. Pauls News

Baptists Are Planning to Build New Church—Watson-Dunn Marriage—Personal and Other Items.

By Bess G. Johnson. St. Pauls, July 4.—Well the "glorious 4th" is with us again. Almost sure to rain today as it usually does, "ye fourth of July day."

Miss Maisie Guiton returned to Pittman hospital, Fayetteville, Thursday, 29th, after a very pleasant 2 weeks vacation among home folks here. Miss Guiton has been in training something over a year and seems greatly enthused with the work. Two of the girls, Misses Register and Beard came out for her all returning Thursday p. m.

The many friends of Mrs. J. M. Butler are glad to note she seems to be doing nicely since her operation last week. Mrs. Butler is at the Pittman hospital, Fayetteville, her operation being immediately following her arrival there Friday, the 30th.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McCraight and 4 children of Ruby S. C., spent the week-end with Mrs. McCraight's sister, Mrs. J. C. Lindsay.

A good many from our little city seem to be patients in some of the various hospitals recently in Fayetteville. Among these, we note Sid Odum, son of Mr. J. F. Odum of St. Pauls, Messrs. J. C. Lindsay, R. H. Coley, Mrs. Butler and Mr. Bert Herndon, of St. Pauls. R. F. D. Mrs. R. H. Coley spent Sunday in Fayetteville with Mr. Coley. Said he seemed to be doing nicely. On Thursday, the 29th, Mrs. Coley took her little daughter, Lucy Belle, to Pittman hospital and had her tonsils removed. The many friends of Miss Maggie Wilkerson of Laurinburg will learn with regret of the very serious operation she had to undergo last week at Cumberland general hospital, Fayetteville, but will rejoice with us that she was getting on O. K. last account we had. Miss Wilkerson is a noble "piece of humanity", being so full of life, etc. does one good to come in contact with her, if only a "wee" bit. She is a cousin of Mrs. T. L. Northrop of our town and has very often visited in St. Pauls. May she soon prove convalescent and be able to return to her friends, is our sincerest wish.

We are all delighted to have Miss Florence Murray with us for the summer after a very successful year at Old Fort, where she taught the past session. Miss Murray arrived in St. Pauls last Saturday p. m.

Saturday a. m. Mr. Robt. Murray and his young bride of a few months arrived in our little town. Dr. and Mrs. Murray are quite happy to have so many of their "children" with them for "once." Mr. "Robt's" bride you will recall, was Miss Madge Pritchett of Alamance county, but who at the time of their marriage held a government position in Washington, which she still retains, while her "better half" is taking lectures at Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore. In one more year he will win his degree. Mr. and Mrs. Murray will be here for a week at least.
