

Cotton "Co-op" Rallies September 2nd

Big County Rally Will be Held in Each Courthouse in Cotton Belt—Cotton Growers of Each Community Will Meet August 31—Final Arrangements Being Made for Orderly Marketing of Cotton of Members

Raleigh, Aug. 22.—Secretary A. E. Bing, of the North Carolina Cotton Growers' Cooperative association, is visiting the principal banking cities of the State this week to complete final arrangements for financing the orderly marketing of cotton by the 27,000 members of the association. Secretary Bing left the capital city with his plans endorsed by the Raleigh Clearing House association, and the promise of Raleigh banks that they would back the association to the limit of their resources.

The date for the first delivery of cotton has been set for September 1, and Secretary Bing will have all his financial arrangements completed by that time. B. F. Brown, manager of the cotton department, has received assurances of ample warehouse space to handle the cotton of the members.

General Manager Blalock, is completing arrangements for classing the cotton in Raleigh. T. H. Donnelly, a Liverpool cotton grader employed for the special purpose of looking out for the long staple cotton, arrived in Raleigh this week and will be on the job when the first cotton comes in.

Homer H. B. Mask, manager of the field department, is continuing the membership drive with increasing success. Many new contracts are being received daily. The drive will be continued until Saturday, September 2, when a big county rally will be held in each courthouse in the cotton belt. Five thousand new contracts is the goal set for that date.

Field representatives for the Association have been called for a conference in Raleigh next Monday. They will meet with group leaders in each county courthouse on Wednesday afternoon, August 30, at 2 o'clock, and in each community on Thursday, August 31, at 8 o'clock, there will be a meeting of cotton growers to receive the final plans for handling the cotton of members of the association.

A MALICIOUS FALSEHOOD

To the Editor of The Robesonian:

I have just learned that the report has been circulated that I said that during the Baptist State convention at Rocky Mount Rev. J. J. Bell, Indian, of Saddletree township, stayed in a negro hotel.

In as strong language as is proper I desire to brand this as a malicious falsehood that has no foundation whatever.

N. C. STATE FAIR

Grounds Are Being Beautified—Premium List Totals Over $39,000.

Raleigh, August 22.—The North Carolina State fair will be held on the old grounds this year October 16-21, but the buildings and the grounds will present a far different appearance from what they did last year, for Mrs. Edith Vanderbilt, in carrying out her idea that the grounds should be beautiful, has directed the management not only to plant flowers, shrubbery and fall bulbs at many places on the grounds, and has induced the North Carolina florists to aid in this part of the beautification work, but she has also directed the purchase of several hundred gallons of paint. The old buildings will be given a liberal treatment of this white paint and they will all be trimmed off in a blue, which is Mrs. Vanderbilt's own selection.

Comfort and rest stations for men and women have been located at many places on the grounds during the past summer. Sewerage connections have been made, and additional watering places installed.

Premiums totalling $39,948.75, an amount 50 percent in excess of what has ever before been offered at a North Carolina fair, are listed in the premium list, which has been mailed out to all known exhibitors by Manager E. V. Walborn. Already 2,500 of the catalogues have been mailed out and the demand for them is brisk, although the entry lists will not open until September 1.

Road Sentence for Slander

Judge Harding gave a man convicted of slander 12 months on the roads the other day.

This sentence is rare enough to be worthy of remark, if not positively startling. It is too rare. If justice were done, this fellow would have plenty of companionship on the rockpile; and the personnel would be amazing.

Of all the crimes on the calendar, this one is the meanest, simply because it is so difficult to punish. There is no manner of defense against it. There is only a deterrent—the fear of the law. Therefore the fact that a slanderer actually has been sent to the roads for a year should be trumpeted abroad. It should be emphasized that this offense is a damage suit. If the slanderer is worth it, damages can be collected from him, too; but even if he hasn't a cent, he can be put on the chaingang.

Lying maliciously about one's neighbors may be a pleasant indoor sport, but those inclined to indulge in it should bear in mind that it has its risks; one of which is the risk of wearing stripes and a ball and chain.—Greensboro News.

Only Safe Way

The young fellow who defrauded a local bank out of $10,000 gets seven years in the penitentiary. He should have known better. Anyone who reads the newspaper accounts of court cases might know that the only way to steal from the bank with impunity is to get on the inside.—Greensboro News.

REMEMBER

Remember that all subscriptions to THE ROBESONIAN are stopped when they expire. This applies to every subscriber, rich and poor, black and white. Watch the label on your paper (the slip upon which your name is printed) and send in renewal 5 days before subscription expires in order not to miss a copy. If you neglect it and allow your paper to stop, don't get mad. This does not mean that the management of the paper doubts your honesty—it simply means that it is the policy of the paper to stop all subscriptions when they expire—and remember that the same rule applies to every subscriber, and not you alone.

VAGARIES OF VACUUM TUBES

Peculiar Actions That Always Astonish and Sometimes Frighten the Amateur Radioist.

Everybody who has had anything to do with vacuum tubes has from time to time had them do unexpected things and give results that at the moment seem beyond explanation.

The explanation of several characteristics of these miniature giants which are met with in daily operation is sure to prove of great interest to the amateur. In cases where the actions of the tube are not understood these peculiarities have sometimes frightened people.

One instance of a newborn fan's fright was brought to attention in a letter of inquiry. The instrument had just been set up and was being operated for the first time. The tubes had been firmly adjusted and were just at the spilling point and—over they went, giving vent to the most unearthly sounds. The embryo enthusiast who looked upon the audion tube as an electric light, thought it was going to explode. He jumped away from the instrument and out of the room, and did not venture near it for several hours, and then only after reaching round the corner of the door with a long stick and pulling the battery switch off.

Similar instances have come to attention when bulbs generate varicolored vapors in the vacuum chamber.

Moonshiners Using Radio.

Revenue officers seeking distillers of the far-famed and hardhitting "white lightning" in the mountains of Kentucky say that many raids made in the last few months have proven unsuccessful, due to the adoption of radiophone as a means of communication among the moonshiners.

QUEER PICTURES FROM MANY LANDS

Competing for $1,000 in Prizes

THE nation-wide photographic contest for $1,000 in prizes offered by the Copper and Brass Research Association for photographs showing the durability of copper, brass and bronze has brought replies from all over the country and photographs taken in Europe and America of objects some of which date back twenty-five centuries.

One of the most interesting entries to date is a copper bucket found in an underground dungeon at the demolition of the old Newgate prison, London, dating back to the time of William the Conqueror (1066 A. D.). The bucket is at least 500 years old.

Another is the photograph of an old bronze Etruscan chariot buried near Monteleone in the sixth century B. C. and recovered in 1902 in almost perfect condition.

From Chicago comes a picture of a hot water boiler 55 years in one house without a leak, and a soldier sends a picture of a brass mortar and pestle dug up at Thiacourt, France, bearing the date 1690.

From Oakland, Cal., comes a picture of the sanctuary knocker at Adel Church, Yorkshire, dating back before Oliver Cromwell. In the old days if a man seized this knocker he was safe from summary retribution for a crime.

A picture of the Quincey Market at Boston, Mass., shows a copper dome ninety-six years old. From Seattle was received a snap shot of the great bronze Buddha erected in 1252 at Kamakura, China.

Many of the entries have interesting human sidelights. There is a picture of a copper bucket in daily use for twenty-five years as a milk pail, and a copper tea kettle bought many years ago in Antwerp and kept because it reminds its possessor of "grandma." The contest ends September first.
