Cotton Gin Burned Near Fairmont

$4,000 Loss Partially Covered by Insurance—Several Fires of Same Kind About This Time Last Year—Personal.

By H. V. Brown
Fairmont, Sept. 9.—Fire of undetermined origin totally destroyed the cotton gin belonging to a stock company composed of F. C. Ashley, G. W. Thompson, A. S. Thompson and others, Thursday night about ten o'clock, two miles east of here. The blaze of the fire could be seen by those leaving the big tent meeting and a large crowd went to the scene. Mr. Ashley, who has had charge of the gin, was attending the services and did not get there until the fire was nearly out. The loss is estimated at about $4,000, partially covered by insurance. There had been no ginning done at this gin this season but a saw mill in connection with the gin had done work during the day. Mr. Ashley stated to the correspondent that he would have installed there within next 10 days a larger and better gin and would be in position to care for cotton that is brought there for ginning. Much comment has been made regarding this fire as several fires of the same kind were reported at this time last year.

Durham, Sept. 7.—N. Underwood, local contractor, was yesterday awarded the contract for the construction of the Alumni Memorial gymnasium at Trinity college for $11,979. Work on the building will start this week, according to Mr. Underwood, and will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible. Trinity authorities had planned to award the contract some time ago but were held up when illness prevented the architect completing plans on time.

THE WEARY WAY

Daily Becoming Less Wearisome to Many in Lumberton.

With a back that aches all day, With rest disturbed at night, Annoying urinary disorders, 'Tis a weary way, indeed.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney trouble.

Are endorsed by Lumberton citizens. Elizabeth Edmund, 404 Water St., Lumberton, says: "When I first arose in the morning I felt listless and there was a dull misery in the small of my back. It seemed as though I had had no rest during the night. As the day wore on a dull heavy bearing down feeling in my kidneys bothered me and by night it had extended clear to my shoulders. Then my head felt dizzy and peculiar. I attributed these ailments to my kidneys as their action wasn't normal. I heard that Doan's Kidney Pills were good and decided to give them a trial. I had only used one box before I was again tired of the misery."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Elizabeth Edmund had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Culling Demonstration—An "Inch" Party September 16 for Church—Personal.

Correspondence of The Robesonian.. St. Pauls, R. 2, Sept. 6.—The cooling showers for the past day or so are nice on the turnip patches and will improve the roads as they were getting dusty.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Johnson took their guest Miss Monnie Carlyle and a few of their friends to White Lake one day last week.—Messrs. W. D. Watson, H. J. and Dannie McRae spent a few hours in Fayetteville and at Camp Bragg, last Sunday.

Sorry to report Mr. B. W. Rozier's family very sick with whooping cough. Glad to report Master David Johnson improved from the pink eye, also Mrs. Jim Mauldin improving from a case of rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Odum are smiling, a little daughter came to make their home cheerful.

There were a good many people took advantage of the demonstration of culling the fowls which was held at Mr. Bledsoe's last week. Mr. Bledsoe has a fine chance of pretty white Leghorn chickens.

Mr. Donnie McRae of Elrod is spending some time with his brother Mr. H. J. McRae.

The W. M. U. will give an inch social at Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barker's home Saturday night, September 16. Everybody invited. You will be measured how tall, you will pay a penny an inch and pass through to the dining room, where cake and cream will be served. This is done to get money to get carpet for the Great Marsh church. Remember what this social is for and come to get a real nice entertainment and meet your friends.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Ratley of Florence, S. C., spent a few days with Mr. Ratley's sister Mrs. W. B. Barker.

The death angel visited Mr. and Mrs. Hester's home and claimed their infant daughter. Our sympathy goes to the father and mother.

Good many of our young men are expecting a trip to Greensboro this week.

Messrs. C. W. Watson and E. C. Perry of Rennett spent a few minutes with Mr. Watson's son last eve.

BRIDGE AT WILLIAMSTON RECLAIMS NINE COUNTIES TO NORTH CAROLINA'S FOLD

Williamston, Sept. 7.—Roanoke river bridge and causeway, crossing the marshes of Marton and Bertie and reclaiming for North Carolina nine counties lying to the southeast that the rivers and swamps have given to Virginia, was formally opened to public travel with exercises here today, attended by the governor, State Highway commission, half a hundred others of Statewide prominence and fully seven thousand people of the surrounding country. The list of those present reads like a North Carolina "who's who," and a survey of the accomplishments sounds like a tale of wonder surpassing Aladdin and his fantastic lamp.

This stupendous piece of highway and bridge construction, begun back in March, 1919, and costing $350,000, makes next door neighbors of some tens of thousands who have been as far apart as the mountains and the sea. Thirty minutes' ride now reaches the same objective from Williamston that formerly required a day's journey. Nine counties that had been going to Virginia because they could not get into North Carolina, and some south and west contributions toward city building can be shifted from Norfolk and Portsmouth to the growing towns down home.—Brook Barkley in Charlotte Observer.

Lieut. Maynard One of Four Killed.

Rutland, Vt., Sept. 7.—For a crowd of 30,000 people assembled at the Rutland fair grounds this afternoon "a flying circus" started with aeroplanes and balloons was turned into a tragedy, four participants meeting death. An aeroplane crashed from a height of 2,000 feet carrying to their deaths, the pilot, mechanic and a passenger. A few hours later an aeronaut leaping from a balloon 1,500 feet in the air, was killed when his parachute failed to open.

The dead: Lieutenant Belvin W. Maynard, known through the country as "the Flying Parson," pilot of the airplane. Lieutenant L. R. Wood, of Ticonderoga, N. Y., passenger with Maynard. Mechanic Charles Mionette of Plattsburg, N. Y. Henry A. (Dare devil) Smith, of Boston, aeronaut.

Lieutenant Belvin W. Maynard was a native of North Carolina, winner of the transcontinental flight New York to San Francisco and return; winner of the New York to Toronto flight; at the outbreak of the World War was a student at Wake Forest college; served with distinction in France as an official airplane tester.

Doem
by UNCLE JOHN

In former events, calm as still, we used to hear the whippoor-will send forth his plaintive note; we heard the twitter of the frog— the laying of the old coon-dawg; the grunting of the shot. The glory of the summer night, when cricket's chirp and screeker's hiss, lent spirit to the hours, delightful in its way. An' now, alas! The modern way commences when we hit the hay, an' seems the midnight bell. We hear the squawks from Timbuctoo—the dismal groans from Waterloo—the frenzied shrieks from hell! We gather in all noise that's made—the devilish roar of every grade— broadcasted through the air. We tune our dingus in a night, an' catch the hymns of hate an' spite, that's let off—ev'ry night. I used to use a poultice hot, for all the inward pains I got—to draw 'em to the skin—but I ain't got no desire for rigs that draw 'em out no wire, an' fetch hyster-
