

THE PASSING SHOW

M. MONTE.

The flare of torches
And the fulsome praise
That filled the earth
In pre-election days,
All vanished, and discontent
The portion of a President.

Erstwhile, when we had naught better to do, we have referred to the gentleman in the White House with considerable levity. But a more careful contemplation of the subject very nearly moves us at times to tears. To be surrounded by statesmen of ten, twenty and forty candle power is bad enough, but when these are succeeded by those of "lightning bug" power, the situation becomes acute. We assume from various comments hatched out by divers persons, that the Hon. gentleman who at present essays the job of being an incumbent, enjoys the association of one Laddie Boy above that of all other statesmen round about. For this we shall not chide him. Being on the ground, he doubtless has better opportunities of judging the equation between the two, than we, at this distance.

Things happen in Washington which have hitherto seemed impossible—anywhere. For instance, never since the populi have registered the politicians' desires with their votes, has it happened that the majority metamorphosed itself, or had it done for them, into a minority, until the present aggregation, popularly supposed to be a Congress, began operations. If any one can recall when or where the majority put anything over, or through until the minority led it to the trough and jammed its nose into it, they will please hold up their hands.

In days, not old,
The bugs are bold,
And the weevils get quite gay;
They bore some holes
In cotton bolls
And the very devil's to pay.

The boll weevil appears to be a very versatile bug. In one part of the country a monument is erected in his honor, while in sundry other bailiwicks his status as an example for youthful bugs lacks much to be desired. Various methods for putting brakes on his activities have been tried. We are reminded that a certain ebullient individual put the blocks under the French army in Haiti by keeping them awake until they were exhausted, but this method doesn't even peeve an industrious weevil. Spraying poison athwart the landscape is as disastrous to his slumbers, and no doubt as pleasing, as a whiff of spice laden zephyr from Araby. It's passing strange that while we are about it we should have overlooked the one very simple and efficacious remedy—an injunction! Almost everything has been injected, more or less, in recent years. Why should the Hon. Boll Weevil escape its intricacies?

You may caricature the Governor,
The President you may flout,
But 'ware of saying a Sojer
Is naught but a boyish scout.

By way of saying something else, we noticed recently that a couple of individuals up Salisbury way became gay and festive, to the extent that a real live soldier struck the retina or something of their optics in the guise of a boy scout. We should never have pre-supposed that this was especially heinous, but would ordinarily have excused it as a dinky little hallucination, but it was a whole lot more than that either, it was lese majeste, as our old chum Willie Hohenzollern was wont to exclaim. Anyway, one of the individuals was fined fifty perfectly milled dollars, and the other had to say "excuse me boss," or words to that effect. In the absence of Hurluck Shomes, we are unable to state why the penalty possessed differentials, but it may be tone inflections entered into the matter. One of them hadn't studied expression, or something.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MT. TABOR

Much Cane Being Hauled to Mills—
The Tent Meeting at Red Springs—
Personal.

Mt. Tabor, Sept. 12.—From the amount of cane being hauled to the mills around here I think we can "soy" some for a while without going to the store and paying a big price for syrup and molasses that we don't know of what it is made. I believe in making as many of our eats at home as is possible for us to make, and then if the boll weevil takes full possession of the cotton we won't perish; and as for clothes, well, if the present style continues it won't take much to make them. I guess the boll weevil thought from the small amount the women are using in their dresses, he could just help himself, with never a fear of not leaving a plenty to make them, they are so "low" and "high."

We were glad to have our pastor, Rev. Mr. Dixon of Red Springs, with us Sunday p. m. after a month's vacation.

The tent meeting at Red Springs, conducted by Rev. Lonnie Brown of Texas, closed Sunday night. The tent and surrounding grounds were crowded. It was a great revival from beginning to finish. All denominations in and around Red Springs took great interest in it. "There's a reason." Some said he is the best preacher that ever came to Red Springs. That they heard such good preaching, if saying some for him, for Rev. Ed Caldwell, "The youthful evangelist," McLeod, and many other good preachers, have preached there. I will say this, he is as good as I wish to hear, and I do love to hear a good sermon. I do not know how many converts he got, but taking new converts and backsliding church members they were in the hundreds. May the work be so earnestly and untiringly did bring lasting results.

Mrs. Carey Johnson and children of the Marsh section visited relatives near Mt. Tabor last week. Miss Mona Carlyle went to Raleigh last week to enter a business college.

Mrs. John McNeill and small children spent a few days last week with her brother Mr. Claude McIntyre out near Maxton. Miss Ala McNeill visited her sister Mrs. John Conolly last week near Maxton. Mrs. Will McLean of St. Pauls visited her sister Miss Annie Jane Harrell a few days ago.

Lumberton Home Demonstration Club Holds Monthly Meeting. Reported for The Robesonian

The Lumberton Home Demonstration club held its regular monthly meeting in the domestic science laboratory of the high school building on Tuesday, Sept. 12.

In the absence of the president Miss Andrew's presided. The members of the club were thanked for their hearty support given the curb market. The question of shelter during the winter months was discussed. Committee of Mrs. C. H. Soyoy, Mrs. S. McIntyre and Mrs. Ballard was appointed to assist Miss Andrews in selecting a site and in making plans for suitable building. A few moments were devoted to the discussion of poultry and a demonstration on culling of flocks was given.

Next, the members were privileged to glance through the "Minerva Knitting Book" to obtain new ideas for the fall sweater.

The announcement that Miss Swindell of Hertford would give demonstrations in basketry during the week of the 25th was received with enthusiasm.

The lecture of the afternoon was in Dietetics and nutrition, special stress being layed on the value of mineral salts and vitamins in the diet.

WEDDING BELLS AND GREATEST WEALTH

Miss Anne Burnett, of Ft. Worth, Tex., is heir to the famous Burke-Burnett oil fortune. Guy Waggoner, of the same town, is heir to vast oil fortunes of the Southwest. If they wed, as is reported, theirs will be a fortune estimated greater than Rockefeller's wealth.

Mother-To-Be, Read This—

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers. When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first child I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse. I was in bed only a few days and had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

GUESS WHO

A handsome porch swing has been sent up to the teacherage by some local young men. The following verses were printed on individual cards above the name of each man interested, and each card tacked to the swing:

I know this swing will likely squeak,
But please don't let it ever speak,
For in it I may get quite bold
And say some things I don't want told.

I haven't been with girls a lot,
You'll find my heart without a blot;
So please be careful while we swing,
And do not let the love-bug sting.

I'm a bachelor, bold and free,
The girls don't seem to interest me.
But if with me a girl will swing,
I'll lose my head and everything.

I've swung with her for miles, I guess,
'Twas all for naught I must confess;
But as my aim to her is clear,
I'll swing up here another year.

While we swing here happy and gay,
Into some girl's heart I'll weave my way;
And if my girl she'll only be,
She's forever bank on me.

While we swing here please have a care,
And do not miss up my sick hair,
It sure does shine and looks "some class,"
We'll use it for a looking-glass.

I'm setting old—My hair is out,
I'm one the girls don't care about,
So, while I swing above my shoes,
I want a girl to "Ward" off blues.

While we swing here to and fro,
My heart will they enrapture so,
But if he answer is a "No,"
My heart will be "In statue quo."

I live some distance in the sticks,
And am not one to all lovers strike,
But now that I have on long pants,
With girls and swing I'll take a chance.

I've gone with girls more than twice,
They run from me like they do mice,
I'll try again, knowing one thing:
No girl can stand up in a swing.

I'm a man with the Ford coupe,
I'll be up here most every day;
We'll swing a while and then hop in
My Ford coupe, and take a spin.

I'm not much strong for a brunette,
Nor girls with hair as black as jet,
But just like to take to a blonde,
I'll swing with her if she's a blond.

My last name rhymes with a snow-ball,
And sometimes for nice girls I fall,
I'll swing with one if there's no doubt
That we will surely not fall out.

ACT QUICKLY

Do the right thing at the right time.
Act quickly in time or danger.
In time of kidney danger, Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective.

Plenty of Lumberton evidence of their worth. Ask your neighbor.

A. J. Hanchey, carpenter, R. F. D. No. 4, Lumberton, says: "Only a short while ago I caught cold. My kidneys were weak and had me up at night passing the secretions which were frequent in passage and scanty, the secretions were also highly colored and burned in passage. All this caused my back to ache and pain. Sometimes a sharp twinge of pain shot through my kidneys when I stooped and I was feeling pretty miserable until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at the Pope Drug Store. Doan's relieved my kidneys in quick order."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Hanchey had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
