St. Pauls News

Stores Will be Closed Armistice Day—Regret at Close of Rev. G. W. Starling's 4-Year Pastorate—A Death—Church Notes and Other Items. By Bess, G. Johnson. St. Pauls, Nov. 7.—Well all this dust will be settled now, we guess, as a slow rain is falling which was very much needed. So many people are succumbing to colds, possibly this dust has had something to do with it. Quite a little number of our young people from the local Christian Endeavor society here went over to Red Springs last p. m. and night to attend a C. E. convention which was held over there, all reporting a very nice time. Among those attending we note, Messdames E. C. Murray, N. A. McEachern, Misses Lilly Belle McDuffie, Christine Guiton, Mable McDonald, Ethel Fisher, Georgia Bennett, Bert Jones, Elizabeth Hartman and Sarah McGeachy, Masters Hugh Murray, John D. McLinn and Theodore Northrop.

The many friends of Mrs. Maggie Oliver are delighted to have her return to St. Pauls again after several months absence which she spent among the mountains, where she usually spends her summers. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brock and small son spent Saturday night and Sunday at the home of his father, Mr. W. K. Brock. Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McEachern of near Maxton spent Monday with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lockety, on Main street.

Saturday being Armistice Day the local stores will be closed here that day, we were informed this a. m. practically all the merchants and business men presumably having agreed to close their places of business this day. The members of the Woman's auxiliary will have a mission study and prayer circle next week, which will possibly meet at the Presbyterian manse, on Main street, beginning Monday afternoon. The many friends of Mrs. G. W. Starling will regret to know she hasn't recovered yet. Rev. Mr. Starling's numerous friends regret his time as pastor of the Methodist church has expired, he having been here 4 years. He tendered his farewell sermon last Sunday night, a very large audience attending. It is with deep regret their many friends bid this good family adieu.

A little Barfield child died last night at the mill village. Mr. C. R. Hester had charge of the funeral services this a. m. Mrs. J. F. Nash has returned home after a few days in a hospital in Fayetteville, much to her friends' delight.

Executive Committee Meets November 14. Correspondence of The Robesonian. The executive committee of the Robeson Baptist association has been called to meet in the First Baptist church of Lumberton Tuesday, November 14th, at 2 p. m. All churches desiring to make application for aid from the State Board of Missions should have their application in the hands of the committee by that date.

Fiddlers' Convention Friday Night—Splendid Concert by Orphanage Class—Social Items. By H. V. Brown. Fairmont, Nov. 7.—Gus Floyd chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy met at the home of Mrs. E. G. Floyd, North Main street. Tuesday afternoon and spent some time in profitable and pleasing business. During the meeting delicious refreshments were served. With Mrs. Floyd was Mrs. A. S. Thompson as joint hostess. The next meeting of the club will be on the 6th of December at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Lalah Bracey, when she and Mrs. Ward will entertain.

Miss Bessie Turbeville entertained a number of her friends at her home on Morrow avenue last Friday night. Miss Turbeville is the popular assistant in the postoffice and has many friends who enjoyed her hospitality and reported the occasion a social event that will be remembered.

The Oxford orphanage singing class gave a recital here last night in the First Baptist church. As has been the custom for years, the little ones have been giving plays here, but this one eclipsed anything that they have ever before presented. Young Massengill was by far the leading star and is being talked of often since the play. On Friday night, November 10th, there will be an old time fiddlers' convention held in the Jones Hall under the management of Messrs. R. H. Cuddington and C. L. Pittman. Many contestants have already entered and it is promised that a great night of fun will be seen. Many prizes will be given for best clog dancers and fiddlers.

Messrs. Worley & Jones, managers of the co-operative tobacco warehouse here, have been advised by wire that James Craig, treasurer of the association, will begin making second payments to members of the organization on Monday of next week, November 12.

Many People Think They Have a Solution. Washington, Nov. 6.—Suggestions for settling the question of the allied wartime indebtedness to the United States have been pouring into the treasury since President Harding recently expressed a willingness to award a prize for any practical concrete suggestion for its collection. The President it was explained at the White House at the time, considered interesting suggestions by numerous individuals that the debt should be collected but he had found a unanimous disinclination to make concrete proposals as to how collection was to be accomplished.

Church Notes

WANT DR. BEAMAN TO RETURN

Resolutions Passed by Official Board of Chestnut Street Methodist Church Express Beloved Pastor and Express Hope That He Will be Returned.

Dr. E. C. Beaman is now winding up his fifth year as pastor of Chestnut Street Methodist church. Owing to the new dispensation of the General conference this church was fortunate in breaking last year the four-year rule that has obtained, and it is hoped not only by the congregation he has served but by the community at large that Dr. Beaman will be returned for another year. At a meeting of the board of stewards of the church Monday evening the following resolutions were passed: "WHEREAS our beloved pastor, Dr. E. C. Beaman, has served Chestnut Street Methodist church for five years; "AND WHEREAS, during his pastorate, he has by the force of his character, the high quality of his preaching, and the consecrated life that he has lived among us endeared himself, not only to the members of his congregation, but to the community at large, so that he stands out today as one of our first citizens; "AND WHEREAS it is the desire of those closely associated with him to attest in some manner their appreciation of his services; "Now, Therefore, be it resolved by the board of stewards of Chestnut Street Methodist church: "FIRST: That we take this opportunity to express to Dr. Beaman our very high appreciation of his services as pastor of our church, and that we recognize in him a man of superior attainments, broad visioned, high minded, generous hearted, and withal deeply pious and consecrated to the best interests of the Church. "SECOND: That we express the strong desire and hope that the presiding bishop of our next annual conference will return Dr. Beaman to this charge for another year. "THIRD: That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this board, and that copies be sent the presiding elder of this district, the presiding bishop of the next annual conference, and the press for publication."

Fairmont, Nov. 7.—The funeral services of the late Samuel J. Smith were held at his home 5 miles west of here Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. The remains were brought to Fairmont and interred in the Fairmont cemetery. A large number of sorrowing friends and relatives attended these services, and huge floral designs were laid on the grave. The active pall-bearers were Messrs. R. E. Lee, Carson Barker, R. L. Edmund and H. M. McAllister of Lumberton and J. F. Johnson of Fairmont. He was always considered one of lower Robeson's best agriculturists and was a very large landowner, both in Robeson and Columbus county. He lived in one of the prettiest homes in Robeson county, situated on his farm in Thompson's township, half way between Fairmont and Rowland. During his early manhood he was wedded to Miss Mattie Inman, daughter of the late Aaron Inman. To them two children were born, Bernice and Ernest. This faithful wife died in her young womanhood and was buried in Asbury cemetery. Several years later he married Miss Edna Grantham, daughter of the late C. P. Grantham of Fairmont. To this union the following children were born; Hoke, Margaret, Samuel J. Jr. and Woodrow.

81 Woodrow avenue, placed a revolver to his own head and killed himself this morning.

Mrs. Pressley is at a local hospital, believed to be fatally wounded. In a statement to the police, she said her husband shot her because she had contributed 25 cents to a church collection Sunday night. The statement also sets out that Pressley had sustained an injury to his head about two years ago and since then had been subject to irrational spells.

The shooting occurred about 10 o'clock and was witnessed by a small daughter of Pressley by a former marriage.
