

Financial Aid For Farmers Planned

Plan is to Make Intended Relief Available to Small Farmers as Well as to Large Cattle Raisers and Grain Growers.

Washington, Nov. 30. (Associated Press.)—The new administration program for immediate financial relief to farmers was formulated and practically perfected today at a conference between President Harding, Secretary Wallace and 15 Republican Senators headed by Senator Watson of Indiana. It will be put before Congress at once and pressed with the full force of the administration.

Broadly, the plan brings together in one administration measure the approved portion of various relief measures already pending in Congress and contains also provisions to make the intended relief available to the small farmers as well as to the large cattle raisers and grain growers.

The plan proposes to utilize the federal farm loan board as the agency through which relief is to be given. The details of the financing have been practically worked out. The general purpose is larger and more liberal credits and cheaper interest rates. The opinion of those participating in the conference was that while the war finance corporation had been of great value in alleviating the distressed condition of agriculture, its loans, because of certain limitations, did not reach down to the average small farmer who raises a few cattle or has small quantities of grain to market. By using the federal farm loan board as the agency to carry out the plan of financing, the new administration plan proposes to make the government relief available directly to the small farmers who need it.

The whole subject of farm relief work was discussed exhaustively, but the marketing problem was touched upon only in a general way. The general opinion at the conference was that to extend the program now to include so complex and much controverted a subject as co-operative marketing would only serve to delay the immediate object of relief. The President was told that the pressing need was to provide at once financial aid to thousands of farmers who face mortgage foreclosures because they are unable to dispose of their cattle and crop without tremendous losses.

All the senators present gave their approval to the program and pledged their support for its immediate consideration in Congress.

The following statement on the conference was issued at the White House tonight:

"The legislation though to be best suited to the agricultural and livestock emergency contemplates provisions for:

"Increasing the maximum loan limits of federal farm land banks from 10 thousand dollars to 25 thousand dollars.

"Provision for the voluntary creation of livestock and agricultural credit associations primarily to deal with loans on livestock.

"Amendment of the federal farm loan act to provide for the rediscout of agricultural production and marketing paper. Also to add two members to the federal farm loan board.

"The program contemplates creating a division in the federal farm banks to deal specifically with production and marketing credits, thus supplying a means of discount to the farmer on longer time notes than are eligible to discount by the federal reserve banks. Credits to the maximum period of three years are to be provided where the turnover covers that period.

"The conference brought out a clear determination to develop a workable plan of dealing with the relief of farm credits at the short session of Congress, and will have the cordial sanction of the majority in Congress and the President."
