ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Miss Anabel Bridger of Bladenboro and Mr. Robt. D. Caldwell of Lumberton will be married in October—Announcement Party.

Correspondence of The Robesonian, Bladenboro, Sept. 14—One of the prettiest affairs of the season was the delightful party given this afternoon by Mesdames J. L. and D. H. Bridges at Mrs. J. L. Bridges home in compliment to their sister-in-law Miss Anabel Bridger whose engagement and approaching marriage to Mr. Robt. D. Caldwell was at this time announced.

The house was lovely with early autumn flowers. In the reception room the predominating color was pink and white. Tables were arranged in the reception room, sun parlor and music room for progressive hearts.

In the center of each table were attractive silver vases tied with white mulline holding pink and white flowers. To the right of each player were nut cups in the shape of pink roses, also pink kewpie place cards were found there. At the close of the game a salad course was served consisting of green peppers stuffed with chicken salad on lettuce leaves asparagus in red pepper rings, sandwiches in the shape of hearts, cheese balls in the form of apples and pears, cheese fingers and bow-knots. Following this an ice course. The ice cream was most attractive and unusual being miniature baskets of strawberries with floral handles tied with pink and ribbons. On the plate with the cream was a bar of angel food cake on the top of which was a pink rose candle holder bearing a tiny white candle. This was most effectively served lighted. Fancy French candies were served with the ice course. Mesdames, Henry Bridger, Jr., and C. C. Dunn assisted in serving.

Top eodre prize was awarded to Mrs. C. C. Dunn and honor prize to Mrs. F. W. Dickson.

On the front porch as the guests were about to depart little Miss Josephine Bridger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bridger attractively dressed in pink georgette awaited them holding a silver tray bearing kewpies tied with white mulline forming wings on which were tiny pink hearts with the initials of the contracting parties and the date of their approaching marriage. A. B. and R. D. C., October 24, 1923. The guests all returned to extend their good wishes to the bride. Just at this time she was presented with a corsage from the groom elect, also a lovely brides book from the hostess in which each guest was asked to register.

The bride to be, a beautiful brunette was especially pretty in a striking fall costume of the color of ashes-of-roses in chiffon, brocaded in velvet with hat, shoes and gloves to match.

Miss Anabel Bridger is the fourth daughter of Dr. H. C. Bridger of Bladenboro, N. C., who is a prominent merchant, banker and cotton manufacturer. Miss Bridger is a graduate of Meredith college, Raleigh, N. C. She has a beautiful soprano voice having studied later in Chicago. Her engagement will be of interest to her numerous friends throughout the state.

Mr. Caldwell is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Caldwell of Lumberton, N. C. He received his education at Wake Forest college. He is McCORMIC—McLEAN.

Miss Mary McLean becomes Bride of Mr. Angus A. McCormick in a Beautiful Church Wedding at St. Paul.

Correspondence of The Robesonian, St. Paul, Sept. 14.—It has been many years since the old St. Paul Presbyterian church has witnessed a more charming wedding than that solemnized there Wednesday afternoon when Miss Mary McLean, became the bride of Mr. Angus Archibald McCormic. Long before the appointed hour the church was filled with friends and relatives of this well-known couple. The church had been transformed into a scene of sylvan beauty. Boughs of longleaf pine and ferns artistically grouped filled the front of the chancel. Leading to the rostrum were white pedestals supporting huge brass bowls of goldenrod and linked together with wisps of white tulle. The central feature of the rostrum's decorations consisted of a background of white trimmed with goldenrod and holding suspended a shower of white ribbons and fern beneath which stood a mass of golden glow. As the hour approached, Miss Murphy Hall, presiding at the piano, began the wedding music. Miss Florabel McGooagan of Flora Macdonald College, dressed in orchid with corsage of pink roses, sang two numbers, "Al for You" and "Believe Me Of All Those Endearing Young Charms." As the first strains of the processional march from Lohengrin began, Dr. E. C. Murray, pastor of the church, entered from the session room. The two ushers, Mr. Lee McLean, brother of the bride, and Mr. Hector McRaney, cousin of the groom, took their places near the rostrum. Following them came Miss Maria Lofton of Wilson, in old blue and silver with picture hat of black, and Miss Pearl Evans of St. Paul, in apple green georgette and silver, also wearing a black hat. Both carried orchids and white asters. The maid of honor, Miss Nettie McLean, sister of the bride, in pink taffeta, girded with silver and wearing a large pink picture hat, took her place.

The bride, leaning on the arm of her father, entered from the vestibule and met the groom and his brother, Mrs. Neill McCormic, his best man. The bride was becomingly gowned in traveling suit of dark blue moline with beaver collar. Her close-fitting hat was of blue and grey velvet. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's tears.

Dr. Murray united the couple with the impressive service of the Presbyterian church. As the last words were spoken by the pastor, the party proceeded down the aisle to the strains of Mendelssohn's march. The young couple immediately left for Asheville on their bridal trip. They will make their home near St. Paul. The bride is the daughter of Mr. W. N. McLean, a prominent farmer and business man of the county. She is a graduate of Flora Macdonald college and has taught several years, five of which have been spent as a member of the St. Paul high school faculty. Her character and gentle disposition are such that none know her but to love her. She is an active worker in both church and Sunday school and has been organist for many years. The groom is the son of Mr. Neill A. McCormic and is a highly respected young man of this community and a prosperous farmer.

RECEPTION GIVEN BY WOMAN'S CLUB IN HONOR OF TEACHERS.

Delightful Social Event at the Teacherage Friday Evening. With warmth and cordiality in keeping with their importance as a vital part of the community, teachers of the local schools were welcomed and made to feel at home at a reception given in their honor Friday evening from 8 to 10 at the teacherage, 8th street, by the Woman's club. It was a most delightful occasion.

In the receiving lines, formed in the parlor and the living room, on opposite sides of the hall, were the following: teachers—Misses Aileen Gramling, Elizabeth Peay, Rosa Dukes, Nell Sutton, Linda Newton, Ruth McEwen, Ada Edwards, Eva Oglesby, Vivian McNeill, Emma Lucas, Ward, Evelina Beckwith, Dovie Prevatt, Katherine Redwine, Winifred Rowland, Caroline White, Pennie Rowland, Carolyn Shooter, Emma Norment, Onie Davis, Lillian Cook, Evelyn Boyd, Katherine Sartor, Supt. W. B. Crumpton, Mr. W. L. Haltiwanger; Mrs. Mary Fowle Harvard, matron of the teacherage; members of the school board—Mrs. Alf H. McLeod, also president of the club, Mrs. H. T. Pope, Mr. K. M. Barnes, chairman, and Mrs. Barnes, Mr. Jas. D. Proctor; Mr. T. L. Johnson and Prof. J. R. Poole, chairman and secretary, respectively, of the county board of education, and the latter superintendent of the county schools.

Guests were welcomed at the door by Mesdames L. T. Townsend and J. R. Poole, Mesdames R. C. Lawrence
