Clans Gathered In Force To Greet Famous Chieftain.

Lochiel, the Famous Leader of "Ladies from Hell," Captivated Large Crowd at Red Springs—Brought Message of Friendship and Good Will.

SCOTTISH SOCIETY HOLDS MOST NOTABLE MEETING.

Many Distinguished People Present Including Two Governors—Dr. Vardell Re-elected President of Society—Famous Chieftain and His Wife Greeted by Numerous Speakers Who Made of Occasion a Beautiful Woodland Theatre a Veritable "Feast of Reason and Flow of Soul."

Editorial correspondence. Red Springs, Oct. 12.—Clan feeling strong in every Scotchman and which remains no matter how far removed by time and space from his native land, that feeling of kinship that makes "Scotch cousin" proverbial, suggests a great ideal, that the enormous influence wielded by Scotchmen wherever they are found must be used for good by bringing Great Britain and America together in a bond stronger than any formal alliance, said Col. Donald Walter Cameron, distinguished guest of the Scottish Society of America at its annual meeting at Red Springs today, in concluding the address of the occasion. Earlier in his address, which was frequently interrupted by applause, this chief of the clan Cameron from overseas declared that he is still optimistic that America will come in to win the peace of the seeds which were sown by "your great former President, Woodrow Wilson, as America came in to win the war."

Never was there a more perfect October day of mellow Indian summer, and the crowd from far and near that covered the sides of the Woodland theatre at Flora Macdonald college thoroughly enjoyed every minute of the exercises that began at 11 a. m. and lasted until nearly 2 p. m., when a halt was called for the picnic dinner that was served in the grove hard by the theatre.

Col. Cameron, who is invariably called "Lochiel" and who is the 25th super-chieftain of the great Clan Cameron, inheriting the dignity in an unbroken line of male ancestors who figure on every page of Scottish history, and his wife, Lady Hermione, daughter of the fifth duke of Montrose, head of the Clan Graham, came to America for this occasion, in response to an invitation extended them last year by the society and carried in person by Dr. C. G. Vardell, president of Flora Macdonald college and president of the society. Other distinguished guests were present.

A Deep Line in History. Following words of welcome by Dr. Vardell, and invocation by Rev. Dr. L. S. Massey, pastor of the Methodist church of Red Springs, greetings were extended to Lochiel by John Gordon Gray, past president of the St. Andrews society of Philadelphia. Mr. Gray spoke eloquently of Scotland's glorious record and declared that with the exception of Greece Scotland has made a deeper line in the world's history than any other nation. He referred briefly to the golden age in Scottish history in the 15th century, when that country led in science, in literature, and in divinity.

Courage, Chivalry and Devotion. In introducing Lochiel, Mr. A. W. McLean of Lumberton paid tribute to the record of Clan Cameron for bravery, chivalry and devotion to duty, and to the splendid military record of its present chieftain, who was badly wounded in the Boer war in Africa and who when the world was broke out, at the request of Lord Kitchener, raised the 5th battalion of the Cameron Highlanders and served with distinction throughout that great war, winning the rank of brigadier general, often cited for gallantry and decorated with the cross of St. Michael and St. George.

When Mr. McLean finished the audience rose to greet Lochiel, but the distinguished speaker was destined to have a double-barrelled introduction. Governor Cameron Morrison was called upon to extend a welcome to North Carolina, officially, which he did gracefully, referring to him as the most aristocratic democrat who ever visited these shores, as democratic as a distinguished ancestor who removed his shoes in order to be on equal bare-footing with his men and led them to victory in the battle of Killcraunkie, but who would be known by his latest title, leader of the "Ladies from Hell."

Scottish-American Hospitality. Lochiel expressed his gratitude for the Scottish-American welcome he and Lady Hermione had received since they landed. He does not feel that this is a foreign country, and he said he learns more about Scotland here than he learned at home. Indeed he finds, he said, that the further he gets away from Scotland the more loyal and enthusiastic Scotchmen are. He spoke briefly of the story of '45, of Prince Charlie and how he was saved after the battle of Culloden by Flora Macdonald, who is held in veneration throughout the Highlands.

Man Killed By R. & C. Train Near Fork.

Charles Phillips and Team Killed and Wagon Demolished—Drove on to Track in Front of Train, Without Heeding Warnings.

Mr. Charles Phillips and a horse and a mule which he was driving were instantly killed, the wagon in which he was riding was demolished and a bale of cotton which was in the wagon was badly damaged Thursday afternoon at 4:15 at Fork. S. C., when the Raleigh & Charleston passenger train struck them at a crossing near the station.

According to Mr. W. L. Daugherty, engineer on the train at the time of the accident, Mr. Phillips had just left a cotton gin and drove on to the track in front of the approaching train, which was running about 25 miles an hour. Two cotton gins, two seed houses and two box cars, the latter on a side track next to the seed houses, were all somewhat responsible for the accident, the seed houses and box cars blinding the view of Mr. Phillips and the noise from the gins possibly distracting his attention from the blasts of the engine whistle. When Mr. Daugherty first saw the mules the train was only a few feet away. He had already blown station blow and cut off the power. Just before the mules reached the crossing he gave the cattle alarm with his whistle but this did not stop them. He immediately applied the emergency brakes and threw the gears in reverse. The crash had come, the young man was killed the team was crushed, the wagon demolished and a bale of cotton was knocked nearly clear of the right-of-way. The train was stopped before the last coach had passed over the wreckage. The unfortunate man was lifeless when he was reached by the train crew and passengers. His remains were taken up, prepared for burial and taken to his home about 4 miles south of Fork.

A pittance, often as little as 33 cents a week and who were rich when they got as much as $50 a year, were responsible for the great men Scotland has produced and who established the finest educational system in the world, which provides that every one shall have a chance at an education, no matter what their station in life.

Will Pull Through. Conditions are bad in Scotland now, he said, but they have pulled through before and will pull through this time, though the tide of emigration to Canada has been strong for the past two years, draining Scotland of some of its best blood.

Col Cameron's address was well received and he was frequently interrupted by applause. He spoke of the strong attachment to the soil on the part of Scotchmen wherever they roam, and as stated at the outset, of the clan feeling that clings to Scotchmen everywhere, no matter what their adopted country, and which he sees as a powerful foundation upon which to build for the peace and advancement of the world.

At the conclusion of Lochiel's address, Gov. McLeod of South Carolina was called upon to do the customary thing in Scotland and so to make Col. Cameron feel entirely at home by moving a vote of thanks to the speaker. Gov. McLeod was entirely happy in his remarks. His mother was a McCallum of Robeson county, he said, and he was Scotch, but he had enough Irish in him to keep him from being weighed down with the responsibility of being a full-blooded Scotchman. He said he was glad to be vice president of the Scottish Society of America so long as Dr. Vardell is president and will do all the work, but if the need arises he is prepared to play the part even to wearing the plaid and kilts. That costume is all right, he said—it is on the installment plan, for which Americans are strong. A rising vote of thanks to Lochiel was given upon motion of Gov. McLeod.

At this point, as desert at a feast, was rendered a Scotch song by the Adanae quartette of Toronto, Canada, which gave a concert in the college auditorium in the evening. This was indeed a treat and made one anxious to stay for the evening performance, at which six Flora Macdonald girls danced the Highland fling.

A telegram of greeting was read by Dr. Vardell from former Governor Locke Craig, and Dr. Peter McIntyre of Goldsboro, president of the Arran Black River society, also brought greetings to Lochiel. This society, he said, was named for Arran, at the mouth of the Clyde, the "Little Switzerland" where Robert Bruce sought refuge and where the spider's perseverance encouraged him to further efforts—Arran, where all clans were represented. Mr. Britton brought greetings from the Caledonian club of New York, which club was organized 67 years ago to perpetuate the clan spirit. He told of a touching incident the Saturday night before when this club was entertaining Lochiel and Lady Hermione. Two members of Col. Cameron's regiment requested to be allowed to greet their former commander, and when they were admitted.

Fairmont Letter

Great Meeting at Baptist Church Closes—Lanier Club Meets With Mrs. G. L. Grantham—Personal Items.

By Mrs. H. G. Inman. Fairmont, Oct. 13.—Dr. A. Byron Holmes moved his office last week from the Fairmont drug store to the Grantham drug store. Dr. Holmes has made a vast number of friends since coming here several months ago.

The greatest meeting we have seen in Fairmont came to a close Wednesday night at the Baptist church. We had with us Dr. E. D. Poe of the First Baptist church of Weldon. Dr. Poe is truly a great preacher. He preached the old gospel with great simplicity and power. He emphasized his sermons so as to make them spell-binding, beautiful and attractive. The sermons the last day of the meeting were by far the best that he preached. Morning subject was "Stepping Heavenward and the night subject, "A Mother's Love; God's Love." Large crowds gathered for each service and surely the workings of the divine spirit was among them for they went in great numbers to reconsecrate themselves to God. Sixteen confessed faith in Christ and will be baptized at the Sunday services.

The second meeting of the Sidney Lanier Book club was held at the home of the president, Mrs. George L. Grantham, with Mrs. W. W. Lewis assisting hostess Tuesday afternoon at 8:30 with a full attendance. The guest of honor, Mrs. Henry C. Bridger Jr. of Bladenboro told of the doings of their club and also all the Bladen county club notes of interest. She made a very interesting talk. The guests were then ushered into the spacious dining room, which was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers and leaves. A buffet luncheon was served which was very much enjoyed. Other guests present were Messdames Erdman, Grantham, C. S. Bounds and Miss Rachel McNamara. The next meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. Claude Floyd.

Mr. James Gaskell of Newbern but who has been living here for the past two months as insurance agent, became suddenly ill Tuesday at the home of Mr. Henry Lewis and was rushed to the Thompson hospital. Doctors there pronounced it appendicitis and operated almost immediately. While Mr. Gaskell is still very sick he is slowly improving.

Mrs. N. A. Andrews has been confined to her bed for the past several days with a deep cold and sore throat. Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Thompson and little son, David, of Winston-Salem, are here to spend a few days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Thompson, on Cottage street, also Mr. Thompson's aunt Mrs. Smith of Greensboro is spending a few days in the Thompson home.—Mrs. Fred Williams left Thursday for her home in Warsaw after spending two weeks in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Jenkins.—Mrs. Sam Webster is visiting her parents in the western part of the State for two weeks.—Mr. W. W. Talbirt of Albemarle was a business visitor in town Wednesday.

600 GALLONS OF WINE POURED INTO A DITCH.

Officers Find 5 Barrels on Jimmie Locklear's Place 5 Miles from Town—Locklear Says He Made the Wine for His Own Use and Thought He Had a Right So to Do.

Three hundred gallons of wine were poured into a big ditch Saturday afternoon by Sheriff R. E. Lewis, Rural Policeman A. R. Pittman and Deputy A. H. Prevatt when they found five barrels containing sixty gallons each on Jimmie Locklear's place about 5 miles west of Lumberton. Locklear was arrested and will be tried this afternoon on charges of manufacturing, possessing and having for the purpose of sale, intoxicating liquors. Locklear was not at home when the officers arrived, but was found upon the road riding in his wagon on the way to a cotton gin. He was arrested and gave a cash bond in the sum of $200 for his appearance here this afternoon. He told the officers that he made the wine for his own use and had not sold any and that he thought he had a right to make it for his own use.

Locklear was tried before Recorder W. B. Ivey this morning and fined $50 and costs for manufacturing wine and had judgment continued upon payment of the costs on the possession charge.

Co-ops Meet Here Tuesday Oct. 16.

The regular monthly Robeson county unit meeting for co-operative cotton and tobacco members will be held at the court house here Tuesday, October 16, beginning at 11 a. m.

A field service representative of each association will be on hand to answer questions and give information.

W. K. Brock of St. Paul in Extremis. A phone message from St. Paul at 2 p. m. today states that Mr. W. K. Brock's condition is serious and that his death is expected at almost any moment.

Mr. D. P. Williams of Whiteville, R. 1, is a Lumberton business visitor today.

County Fair Closed With Gorgeous Display of Fireworks.

Crowds Not So Large as at Former Fairs But Exhibits Were Better—Only One Pony Given Away on Account of Small Gate Receipts—Winners of Premiums Will be Paid December 1st—Five Babies Won Prizes—Many Attractive Booths. The closing of the ninth annual Robeson county fair Friday night was featured by the best display of fireworks ever seen in this part of the county. After the fireworks the gates closed upon the best fair that has ever been held in Robeson county.

One Pony Given Away. The pony which was given away Friday afternoon was presented to Mr. O. P. McWhite of Lumberton route 7, who held number 9997 when it was read by Secretary W. O. Thompson. Others numbers were called, but no one answered as having either of them in their possession. These numbers were 515, 724, 1226, 4, 7308, 7479 and 7393. Before drawing for the numbers, Mr. Thompson announced to the small crowd that surrounded the tent in which were the ponies that the gate receipts had been so small that it was impossible to give all three ponies away, the receipts for Friday not justifying them to give even one away. He explained that he had done everything possible to get attractions for the crowds, and that the association would have a forfeit attached to any other contract made between it and a carnival company.

Mr. Thompson said that winners of premiums would be paid in full on December 1st, and thanked the people of the county for their co-operation in making the fair the best that has ever been held in Robeson. The exhibits, he said, were much better than ever before.

Prize-Winning Booths. Mrs. Bertha Singletary, owner of Hillcrest farm, was awarded first premium for the best individual booth, graded according to variety 27, quality 25, arrangement 37, making a total of 89 points. The booth was most attractively arranged. Using a white background, the name, "Hillcrest Farm," was spelled out with red peppers. On the table in the center of the booth was a placard, "Cotton Is King When Supported By These," and to the placard was attached several streamers which were attached to different farm products on the other end. Some of these articles were buttermilk, sweet milk, butter, ham and eggs. The placard was supported by a large stalk of cotton filled with mature fruit.

The second prize for individual booths was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. B. Sam Edwards of Lumberton and was graded as follows: variety 20, quality 20, arrangement 35. This was also a very attractive booth and like the winning booth contained a good assortment of farm products with lots of canned goods.

The individual booth winning third prize was that of Mr. L. B. Barnes of Lumberton R. 3, and was graded as follows: variety 30, quality 23, arrangement 20.

Other Booths. Other booths were as follows: United Daughters of the Confederacy, in which was served meals during the fair. Commercial booth of Mr. A. J. Holmes, local jeweler, in which beautiful displays of silverware were exhibited—Green Valley dairy, of which Mr. E. L. Hamilton is manager, very attractive, cow-hides, milk, butter and other dairy products being exhibited. A special feature of this booth was three miniature cows molded out of butter and kept on ice in a glass enclosure. The Elrose Fruit farm of Fairmont, of which Mr. J. A. Floyd is owner, had a booth which was very attractively decorated with canned goods, consisting of corn, peas, tomatoes and peaches. Mr. Floyd has an up-to-date canning outfit and makes his goods attractive by using attractive labels. The quality is also good. The economy booth, which was supplied by the home demonstration clubs of Robeson county, contained a large assortment of baskets and other work done by the clubs. Each of the 16 clubs in the county was represented. A beautiful furniture booth was next in line, being that of Stephens & Barnes of Lumberton and Fairmont, ment had the next booth, which was L. H. Caldwell's hardware department, attractive in every respect. The last booth was that of the Lumberton Vulcanizing Works, which displayed tires and tubes and gave an idea of the repair work done by that concern.

Baby Contest. The baby contest Thursday was the best ever conducted by the association. There were 43 entries with 33 contesting. The winners, which according to the judges were very hard to pick, were as follows: First, Mary Louise McGoogan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. McGoogan of Red Springs; second, Billie Rozier, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Rozier of St. Pauls third, Walter Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fowler of Lumberton R. F. D.; fourth, Mary J. Alford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Alford of Fairmont; fifth, Zada Lois Kinlaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kinlaw of Lumberton, R. 7.

The cost of operating the fair this year amounted to between $3,500 and $5,000. Mr. Thompson will not make any official announcement yet as to

St. Paul News

Great Marsh B. Y. P. U. Gives a Delightful "Wood-Sawing"—Kindergarten Opens 16th—Movements of the People.

By Bessie G. Johnson. St. Paul, Oct. 12.—A large number of our people are attending the annual meeting of the Scotch Society of America which is being held at Red Springs today, while a number of others are going to Lumberton this afternoon to attend the fair, the schools being suspended at noon to give the faculty and students an opportunity of attending.

On last evening the B. Y. P. U. of Great Marsh church gave a delightful "wood-sawing" and social combined which was held on the church grounds. A large number was present. A good old-fashioned picnic supper was served and the evening indeed was most thoroughly enjoyed. The regular B. Y. P. U. meetings are held over there each Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, to which all are invited.

Miss Mable McDonald will have charge of the kindergarten department again this season, school opening Tuesday morning, the 16th. The little folks will be taught in the graded school building this year ample room having been made to this effect. Miss McDonald with her charming personality has a wonderful discernment with the children and much progress was made during the previous term, which was the first of its kind in our town.

Our town is very much elated over the fact that "Billy," attractive 4-months old son of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Rozier, was chosen 2nd in the baby contest at the Robeson county fair this week, he having won a prize of $8 for being the best all-round baby among the large numbers displayed. Master "Billy" is a cunning little chap, "bless his heart," and a wonderful sample of humanity and his fond parents are to be congratulated upon his success. He was placed on the cradle roll here last Sunday and received his certificate and now that he is the recipient of this prize we trust that with this brilliant beginning life's roses will continue to smile upon him.

ANNOUNCEMENT PARTY.

Engagement of Miss Bess McLeod and Mr. Wayne Williams Announced at Party Given in Honor of Mrs. Hugh Barnes by Mrs. Lacy Williams.

Correspondence of The Robesonian. Maxton, Oct. 12.—Tuesday evening, in honor of Mrs. Hugh Barnes, a recent bride, Mrs. Lacy Williams gave a five-course dinner, covers being laid for twelve.

When the doors between the living room and the dining room were thrown open, a beautiful table was seen. From the chandelier, which was a white bowl, covered with ferns, smilax and white roses, hung a graceful shower of delicate white flowers and ferns. A tiny doll lamp dressed as a bride formed the centerpiece, ferns and two miniature bridal bouquets surrounded the refector on which this was placed. Crystall candle sticks with white candles with white shades with a tracery of smilax were used.

Place cards, bride's slippers containing tiny brides, disclosed the fact that this was an announcement party. In addition to the guest's name were additional words, "Bess and Wayne—November," announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Bess McLeod and Mr. Wayne Williams, the wedding to take place the latter part of November. A toast to the bride-to-be was proposed by Miss Bess MacNair.

Place favors of miniature Queen Mary bouquets of fern, white plox and sweet allysium with white lace background and dainty showers, carrying out the color scheme of white and green, were given the guests, which included Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Barnes, Miss McLeod, Mrs. R. L. McLeod, mother of the bride-to-be, Miss Bessie Williams, Miss Emma Jones, Mrs. H. A. McKinnon, Misses Elizabeth MacNair, Bess MacNair, Marguerite Townsend, Leila Barnes and Marguerite McQueen.
