Lacy Lindsay Fatally Shot Near Rennert Sunday

Died This Morning in a Fayetteville Hospital—Luther Jackson Admits Firing the Fatal Shot at Home of Dead Man's Parents—Conflicting Accounts.

Lacy Lindsay, a white man about 20 years of age, died this morning in Pittman's hospital in Fayetteville as the result of a pistol shot wound he received yesterday afternoon about 4:30 at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Lindsay, near Rennert. Luther Jackson, also white, surrendered one hour later to Sheriff Edgar Hall of Hoke county, admitting that he fired the fatal shot with a 32-calibre pistol.

According to statements given Sheriff R. E. Lewis and Rural Policeman A. R. Pittman, who went to the scene of the shooting, Luther Jackson, his brother Lawrence, and Lawrence's son rode up to the Lindsay home, went in and began to raise a disturbance with one of Mr. Lindsay's daughters. Mr. Lindsay sent some smaller children to the home of his sons, Lacy and Murray, who live a short distance away, summoning help. Murray Lindsay arrived first and asked what the trouble was. Luther Jackson, who was on the outside of the house, began firing at him as he walked up the steps, none of the five shots taking effect but lodging in the facing of the door which he entered. Before he had time to get a gun and return, Lacy Lindsay had come up and asked about the trouble. Jackson is said to have told him that he would "shoot his heart out" and fired three times, two taking effect, one in the right chest and one in his arm. As soon as he wounded man fell, the Jacksons got in their car and left. Sheriff Lewis and Policeman Pittman started to Jackson's home near Raeford, notifying a Hoke county deputy to meet them at Dundarrach. It was here that it was learned the murderer had given up to Sheriff Hall who turned him over to the Robeson officers, who brought him on to Lumberton and lodged him in jail.

NEGRO CIRCUS EMPLOYEE TOOK TOO BIG A CHANCE.

Johannie Walker Goes Back to County Chain Gang to Complete Sentence He Was Serving When He Escaped 2 Years Ago—Surprised That Officers Recognized Him.

Johannie Walker, negro, took too big a chance by coming here Friday with Sparks circuit, thinking perhaps his cowboy suit and hat and his hardend expression brought on by his two-years service with the tented organization would keep local officers from recognizing him as the Johannie Walker who escaped from the Robeson county chain gang nearly three years ago. He was arrested on the show grounds by officers George Powers and Ed Glover, and turned over to county authorities to continue his work on the roads of the county. Walker was convicted in recorder's court at Maxton for car breaking and sentenced to 18 months on the roads. He had served only a short time when he escaped. He admitted to Mr. Glover that he was the man, stating that he recognized him as soon as he saw him, but was surprised that he had been recognized. The arrest took place as he and other employees were engaged in the erection of the big tent. The foreman in charge told the officers that Walker had been with them two seasons and was one of their best helpers.

THIS STATE SECOND IN COTTON RAISING.

Raleigh, Nov. 2.—"With the rank of second in the production of cotton among the states of the union, North Carolina attains an undreamed of position," declared Frank Parker, state agricultural statistician, in a statement issued here today after he had been informed of the government's rating of the 1923 crop as reported in press dispatches.

"For the second time," the statement continued, "the Tar Heel state produces over a million bales."

White Boy Flogged by Unmasked Men in Wake County.

Ernie Brewer and Purvis Woods, white boys of Holly Springs, Wake county, were abducted Thursday night at the point of pistols and flogged unmercifully by a band of 35 men, none of them masked. The kidnapping states a news item in The Observer, is the boldest of its kind and recent occurrences in Wake county. The young man is charged with operating an auto while intoxicated.

Superior Court Convenes Tuesday

Judge Sinclair Will Hold Term Which Was to Have Begun This Morning. Judge N. A. Sinclair Tuesday morning will convene the term of Robeson Superior court for the trial of criminal cases which was scheduled to begin today. The term of Lee county court which Judge Sinclair convened this morning has been annulled in order to allow him to preside over this term of Robeson court.

Owing to Exchange of Courts and Illness of Judge Daniels This Week's Term of Robeson Criminal Court is Halted—Efforts Being Made to Get a Judge by Tuesday.

The regular criminal term of Robeson Superior court which was scheduled to begin this morning is not in session today on account of the fact that no judge is on hand. Judge N. A. Sinclair of Fayetteville, who was to preside, exchanged courts with Judge Frank Daniels of Goldsboro, and Judge Daniels is unable to attend on account of sickness.

Efforts are being made to get Gov. Morrison to authorize Judge Sinclair to adjourn the civil term of court which he is holding in Lee county and come to Lumberton Tuesday morning to hold this term of court. If this term has to be annulled on account of the absence of a judge, another special term will have to be called. The term last week was a special, called to relieve a congested docket.

Court was opened this morning by Sheriff Lewis and was adjourned immediately after Clerk of the Court Skipper announced the reason for no judge being present.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Skipper was notified through the Governor's office that efforts to get a judge to take Judge Daniels' place had been futile, and another message this morning stated that Judge O. H. Allen of Kinston was unable to attend on account of sickness. Judge C. C. Lyon of Elizabethtown was tried, but it was impossible for him to come and hold court.

Different Terms For Slayers of Robert Wilkins

Four Indians Convicted of Manslaughter—Terms Vary from 6 Years to 4 Months—Special Term Closes.

The special term of Superior court for the trial of criminal cases which was held here last week with Judge B. F. Long of Statesville presiding adjourned Saturday afternoon following the sentencing of Dock Wilkins and others, who were found guilty of manslaughter and other charges.

Dock Wilkins, Walter Oxendine, Clarence Oxendine and Proctor Locklear, Indians, were found guilty of manslaughter, and all except Proctor Locklear were found guilty of aiding and abetting in forcible trespass, and felonious assault. The jury asked the mercy of the court as to Clarence Oxendine. Walter Oxendine was sentenced to 6 years on the county roads, Dock Wilkins 5 years, Clarence Oxendine 4 years, and Proctor Locklear 4 months. Appeal to the Supreme court was made in each case, except Proctor Locklear. Bonds in the sum of $3,000 each were required but had not been arranged this morning.

These cases grew out of the killing of Robert Wilkins, Indian, in Burnt Swamp township last Christmas night. It was in evidence that the defendants went to the home of Donnie Locklear, where Proctor Locklear was visiting. Robert Wilkins was in the crowd and was the victim of a shot which defendants claimed was a stray one. The bullet pierced his lung and pneumonia set in which proved fatal on the morning of December 28th.

THE ROBESONIAN WILL ERECT NEW BUILDING AND INSTALL NEW AND FASTER PRESS.

Building Will be on West Fifth Street Within Block of Court House—New Duplex Press Will Give Paper Equipment Adequate for a Daily.

The Robesonian is assembling material and will begin work this week on a new home for itself on West Fifth street one block west from the court house, on the main-traveled street into Lumberton. It will be a modern one-story structure 23 x 90 feet, but will give the paper more room, which is badly needed, much better quarters than it has ever had, and will put it in better position to serve the public.

As soon as work on this building has progressed far enough to do so, there will be installed in it a new modern duplex web perfecting press which will print eight pages of a paper larger than the present size of The Robesonian 3 times as fast as the press upon which the paper is now printed, will print four. In other words, the new press will print in one hour a larger paper than the press now being used will print in six hours.

When this new press, which will cost about $7,000 is installed, The Robesonian will have equipment equal to that of many daily papers and will be in position to give its patrons much better service.

Fairmont Letter

Local Talent Play—Big Time at Bible and Flag Presentation—Halloween Carnival Was a Ghostly Success—Social and Personal.

Fairmont, Nov. 2.—A play, "The Microbe of Love" will be given in the new school auditorium Friday, November 16th, by local talent, under the direction of a lady who has directed the play in a number of towns with great success. Admission fees will go towards paying for the stage fixtures in the auditorium.

The Parent-Teacher association met in a called meeting Tuesday night to elect delegates to the convention of the North Carolina branch of national congress of mothers and parent-teacher associations November 6th, 7th, and 8th, at Winston-Salem. Mrs. F. H. Pittman, secretary to the association, will go as one of the delegates. Another matter of importance discussed was inviting neighboring lodges of the Junior Order of American Mechanics to meet here November 25th, when the local lodge will present the new school with a Bible and a flag. These visiting men will have to be entertained and as the people want a morning and afternoon session, let's be thinking about a good old-fashioned picnic-style dinner.

Mrs. E. G. Floyd was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the Tuesday Afternoon Book club at her attractive bungalow on N. Main street. The living and dining rooms were beautifully arranged with roses and ferns, the Halloween idea being carried out in the use of yellow pumpkins. After a short discussion and exchange of books, a delightful program was given. The subject, "Centers of Dramatic Production", was very ably discussed by Mrs. J. F. Barber, "The Little Theatre Movement", and Mrs. E. L. Vinson, "Carolina Playmakers". After the program a social hour was enjoyed, at which time the hostess served jellied eggs, pickles, saltines, walkiki punch and salted almonds.

"Halloween carnival" Wednesday night at the school house was a "ghostly success". This carnival was gotten up by the teachers, the proceeds going to buy window shades for the school building. They realized $121. Miss Ford conducted the booth called "Spookie Land". Upon entering you were blindfolded, taken by the hand and told to "Now let's run. Automobile tires, boards and bunches of wire were there to cause you to stumble and fall. "At the end of the "Land" you were told to "grab the wire", and after much groping you found to your surprise the wire charged with electricity.

Miss Agnes Ashley and Mrs. Linney sold candy and ice cream. Douglas McIntyre and Pittman Fisher members of class of '24, sold soft drinks and "handy andies". Miss Rachael McNamara was the very bewitching fortune-teller.

Everybody wanted an escort when they visited "Haunted House", for the dreadful noises one heard before going in were all but blood-curdling.

Miss Mackie had the "Wax Works" well in hand and seemed to enjoy it as much as the ones going in to see four beautifully dressed young girls chewing gum as hard and as fast as their jaws would permit. There was a regular fish pond where you could get almost any kind of swimmin' animal.

The tenth grade sold sandwiches, lemonade and doughnuts, while the class of '24 tried to out-holler their juniors by selling lemonade and hot chocolate.

At the close of the "Midway" everybody assembled in one space to buy cakes. They only had three cakes but a clear $50 was realized. Everybody enjoyed the whole thing.

Mrs. Aaron Moody of Dillon spent a few days with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Pittman.—Dr. and Mrs. Grantham of Asheville spent several days recently in the homes of Dr. Grantham's relatives.—Miss Dorothy Ricks, student at Queens' college, Charlotte, spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Fannie R. Ricks.

Mrs. Dan A. McCormick of McDonald spent Tuesday in our city. Mrs. Tuck Floyd was seriously ill at her home 2 miles east of town last week. Her son Roy of West Virginia came home to be with his mother for a few days.

Mr. J. M. Inman was taken suddenly ill Monday afternoon while painting Mr. Bob Ratley's house. He was rushed home and Dr. Holmes called in and he was resting better in a short while. He was able to go back to his work Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Pittman moved Monday to Fayetteville, where Mr. Pittman has accepted a position. We are sorry to lose these good people. Rev. J. E. Lanier, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Floyd, Mr. J. D. Kyle, Mrs. G. W. Thompson, Mrs. Frank Davis and Miss Fannie Inman attended the Baptist association at Barker-Ten Mile Wednesday and Thursday.

Quite a number of our people attended the Sand Hill fair held at Pinehurst and the Columbus fair held at Whiteville the past week. About one half the population of Fairmont are spending the day in Lumberton "taking in" Sparks big circus, many going for the parade as that is one of the best features to a first class show.
