

An Orderly System of Marketing

FIELD REP. COTTON CO-OP. ASSOCIATION.

R. H. CRICHTON OF L. H. CALDWELL'S SAYS:

"When men of such knowledge as President Coolidge, Senator F. M. Simmons, of North Carolina, Governor Lowden, of Illinois, Judge Bingham, of Kentucky, Governor McLeod, of South Carolina, Senator Edward Smith, of South Carolina, Eugene Meyer, of Wgr Finance Corporation, and Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, advise the Farmers of this Country to become members of well managed Co-Operative Associations, the Farmers would make no mistake in accepting the wise counsel of these well informed men. It would hardly be possible for all of these men to make the same recommendation after giving a subject careful consideration, as they have done regarding this matter, and the recommendation proving worthless."

"The memberships of the Co-Operative Associations should be considerably increased before the next marketing season to insure the greatest benefit to the members thereof."

I believe the co-operative system of marketing is ideal both for producers and other interests.

The Keynote for 1925

If you want to get ahead in the new year, focus your mind and will on the purpose to save money. Think of what you earn and what you spend, in terms of how much you can add to your bank account. Save a sum to show for each week's work. Count that month lost which does not increase your deposits. Let each season find you worth more money. Make Thrift your keynote and you'll have a prosperous year. Try it!
