Carolina." In some parts of eastern Carolina weevil infestation has reached the high point of 25 to 50 percent. In a number of cases the number of weevils has increased three times during one week and on nearly every farm studied, at least one field would have an infestation of from 10 to 25 percent.

In the southeastern section, the field workers found the weevil prevalent in nearly every cotton field and stated that dusting is advisable all over this territory. The prolonged dry, hot weather was having some effect in weevil control but with the coming of showers and wet weather, it is being advised that the field be watched closely and that dusting be done when needed.

In the piedmont area, weevil survival from the winter was apparently light and dusting is needed now only in scattered areas. In the upper piedmont towards the outer edge of the cotton growing area, the infestation is light with no reports of serious damage.

"ONCE UPON A TIME" (By Levi Perry) Once upon a time two citizens were conversing in low tones, they were talking about the mysterious disappearance of E. K. Shepard. Nearby stood another citizen who seemed not to be noticing what was being said near him, but was hearing every word that was spoken. Presently one of the men said: "I know where Shepard's body is buried", his listener flashed his eyes toward the man that was near them, causing the speaker to look around cautiously, the speaker had nothing more to say about the matter but shut up, like a clam. The above conversation was carried on about three weeks before the "Old skeleton" was reported found in the woods near Parkton. I say "old skeleton" the proof of this remark is in the hands of Lumberton's foremost Lawyer in the form of the letter I received from the Smithsonian Institution at Washington in response to the bone I forwarded to the Institution from the refuse of the "Old skeleton" near Parkton which places the age of the "Old skeleton" as being that of a male person murdered about the year 1818. Some day the skeleton of E. K. Shepard is going to be taken up from its present resting place and all the wrongs that have perpetrated in the past will be righted through process of law, I have had nothing but reverses in the past in my effort to bring to justice the men responsible for the death and disappearance of the body of Shepard, and the finding of the body. Some day I am going to triumph and I do not believe that day very far distant, for, I haven't given up.

States Island, N. Y.—Miss Jane Phelan, writes—"I am from the West for many years I suffered from auto-intoxication due to torpid liver and constipation, my system was so badly poisoned that my face was swollen to twice its natural size. I was continually tired, weak and depressed, had no appetite. I read Joe Tully's Liver Pills advertisement and tried them. After a few doses I began to improve. Tully's Pills have kept me free from a return of the illness, and I feel like a new person. Am never without them." At all drug stores.

ECONOMY IN THE LONG RUN

Any house wife ought to consider well the cooking and wearing qualities, the fuel economy and the appearance of the range she buys. Remember that it is a lasting purchase—you are buying for a long time. No purchase for the home is more important than the kitchen range. You cook on it three times a day, every day in the year. Your peace of mind and the health, energy and contentment of your household depend on the better cooking that a Majestic Range will enable you to do every meal.

It is false economy to buy a kitchen range that wears out quickly and often makes the best cook fail. The only true economy is economy in the long run. There is less the economy of the Majestic. It cuts down fuel and repair bills and its long life of never-failing efficiency makes it cost less per year than any other range in the world.
