The farmers are finding more damage here by the boll weevil than they ought, only one and two locks are in some of the bolls, and lots of grown bolls are soft or rotten. The fields where it looked as if it would make a bale to the acre, they are not expecting near so much now. But while the boll weevil destroyed some of the cotton crop is extra good this year, we should be thankful and instead counting our misfortunes, we should count our blessings, and realize how worthy we are of the many blessings God doth daily bestow upon us. Mr. J. Browne Evans of St. Pauls sister, Mrs. Sherod Hook of Eastover, S. C., spent Thursday in the home of their uncle Mr. J. D. McNeill, Rennert R. F. D. Messrs. All reported a wonderful sermon from this young Christian man. We could hear more of our young folks speak for Christ, what a wonderful privilege it would be.

Navy Seaplane Missing. HONOLULU, Sept. 2.—Twenty-four hours have passed without word on the missing navy seaplane PN-9 and her crew of five men. As yesterday, the final few hours of daylight showed redoubled activity by the searchers as they stretched out across the Pacific making every effort to see the seaplane's crew before daylight again shut down.

BILIOUS ATTACKS
From Which Kentucky Man Suffered Two or Three Times a Month, Relieved by Black-Draught.

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—Mr. J. P. Nevins, a local coal dealer and farmer, about two years ago learned of the value of Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine, and now he says:
"Until then I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month. I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple or three times, then I would be very constipated."
"A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I could not be without it for anything."
"It seemed to cleanse my whole system and make me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of pep and could do twice the work."
One cent a dose. NC-161

MRS. KATE MCKENZIE ANSWERS SUDDEN SUMMONS

Beloved Woman Passes Away After Only Short Illness—Remains Interred at Galleed Church.

Correspondence of The Robesonian. Bladenboro, Sept. 3.—The distressing news of the sudden death of Mrs. Kate McKenzie was received here early Tuesday morning. A message came to her sons, Normond and Robert, who were visiting their grandfather, Capt. F. N. Ferguson, Monday night, stating that their mother was desperately ill and to come at once, but she was dead before the boys reached home.
Mrs. McKenzie had not been well for several days but she became seriously ill at 5:30 and died at 8:30 Monday night. She was a daughter of Capt. F. N. Ferguson and lived all her life in this community, and was universally loved. She was a devoted member of the Presbyterian church and gave unsparingly of her time and money to the support of her church. Less than a year ago she moved to Wilmington in order to be with her husband, whose position kept him there.

Mrs. McKenzie leaves her husband and three children: Kathrine, who is a student in Eastern Carolina Training school, Norman and Robert; her father, Capt. Ferguson; one brother, Mr. Wm. Ferguson of Elizabethtown; and one sister, Mrs. Henry Hilburn of Hamlet.

The remains, accompanied by her family, arrived on the train Wednesday morning and were carried to the Presbyterian church, where the funeral service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. Mr. Winecoff of Clarkton. The burial was in the family plot at Galleed church. A large crowd attended the funeral service.

The floral offerings were many and beautiful, testifying in a silent way to the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

The family has the deepest sympathy of the entire community in their great loss.

THEY Wanted "IN--" WE Opened the Book; OVER 900 "Signed Up!"

DISAPPOINTED at the prices they received on the auction floors when the markets in South Carolina opened, hundreds of non-members of the Tobacco Growers Association applied to warehouse managers for the privilege of signing a contract to deliver the 1925 and 1926 crops.

The board of directors, acting upon the desire of loyal members, closed the books on July 15 last. More than seven hundred members had voluntarily joined the pool in the six months before while the books were open.

Association officials, backed by the expressed sentiment of members in the South Carolina belt, declined to reopen the books at first. Ample publicity had been given to the closing date, and it was felt that it would not be quite fair to loyal members to permit a last minute sign up.

Non-members appealed to members when they compared their returns with the Association's first advance in the South Carolina belt. Tenants began to deliver their tobacco under the contract with landlords. Some landlords actually tried to deliver tobacco under the tenant's contract, and others "bootlegged" tobacco which had not been signed up into Association warehouses.

Officials of the Association recognized a critical situation. The attitude of the members softened. They expressed themselves as anxious to share the benefits of orderly marketing with their neighbors who had remained out of the pool.

To this appeal the officials answered by opening the books for four days. There was no publicity given to the opening. There was no intensive drive to get new contracts. The attitude of the Association was that it would make it possible for those who were wanting "in" to come in.

OVER NINE HUNDRED growers in the South Carolina belt have joined the Association SINCE THE AUCTION FLOORS OPENED.

When the books were opened, the independent buyers briefly boosted prices. The boost didn't last. Prices dropped back where the Association advance made a favorable comparison.

WAREHOUSES for Orderly Marketing Opened at Twenty-five Points in Eastern North Carolina Tuesday Morning, September 1st.
