

Washington, March 1—The first armish at this session of the senate over the Muscle Shoals issue was won today by proponents of the current resolution authorizing a joint congressional committee to negotiate bids for the property and report back to Congress.

Miss Matilda Wood, high school teacher, who was sick last week for several days, returned to her work Wednesday. She suffered a slight attack of influenza and had to rest up at the teachersage for several days.

Margaret French was the only girl fan from the high school to take in the N. C. State College tournament at Raleigh. She was a big asset to the team and was continually cheering the boys on to victory. When the final whistle of the Roanoke Rapids game blew and L. H. S. had won, Margaret came near killing Mr. Cheek, who was sitting near her. She literally pounded holes in his back, he said afterwards.

Mr. Crumpton started to Raleigh Saturday afternoon to take in the last game of the tournament at State College. However, his friend who had an out-of-date Ford, wasn't figuring on a wheel falling off, so when that happened Mr. Crumpton decided to stay at home. He said Sunday night that he hated to have to miss the Roanoke Rapids game and that next year he would make arrangements somehow to get there.

Cameron McLean, as usual, got to the Raleigh tournament via the "hook-a-ride" route. "Cam" has only missed one game since football started last fall. He enjoyed staying at State College and got plenty to eat and a place to lay his weary head at night. He came back with Mr. Lay in "Cinderella", the famous Chalmers car of Mr. Crumpton.
