Effort Being Made to Change Two Weeks' Mixed Term Into Criminal Term-Judge Barnhill Will Preside.

THREE MURDER CASES. A two weeks' term of Superior court will convene here Monday morning, with Judge M. V. Barnhill of Rocky Mount presiding.

Owing to the large number of criminal cases and the light civil docket, a committee has been appointed by the Robeson County Bar association to effect the passage of a bill in the State legislature to change the term from a mixed one to a two weeks' criminal term. According to the court schedule, the first week of the term would be for the trial of criminal cases and the second for the trial of civil cases.

Three Murder Cases. Three murder cases are on docket for trial Narson Graham and Nathaniel Jones, Indians, are under $5,-000 bonds each for the murder of Lessie Jacobs in the Back Swamp community on July 12, last. A true bill was returned against them at the November term of court.

Tilman Oxendine, Indian, Petiway Watson and Rubye Cain will go on trial in connection with the death of Joe Lupo of Lake View, S. Talk Of Extra Session To Revise Tax System

Governor McLean Says Talk of Extra Session Now is Premature.

(By International News Service) Raleigh, Jan 27 .- With the present session of the legislature hardly started yet, possibility of another session one year from now is being talked in political circles.

The special session would be called by Governor McLean to revise North Carolina's taxation system. If the legislature authorizes Governor Mc-Lean's plans to appoint a state tax commission to make a report to the would take many months for the commission to do the job. Proponents of the special session
