An interesting incident of the hunt for the thieves Sunday night is told about town. Mrs. N. P. Andrews, who saw the men taking the tire off Mr-French's car, called neighbors and Messrs. Hubert Ramsaur and Cam Mc-Lean armed themselves with a pistol and started out to hunt the thieves. In the meantime Mr. S. F. Caldwell had called the police station and informed it that a tire was left in the edge of his yard. Chief-of-Police D. M. Barker, Town Policeman Vance McGill and Deputy Sheriff W. C. Britt went up to Eighth street, on which Mr. Caldwell lives, and placed themselves in hiding along it. While they were watching, Messrs. Ramsaur and McLean came up and started to pick up the tire. Officers Barker and Mc-Gill ran out on them, thinking they were the thieves, and upon finding out who they were took the pistol from them. Neither the officer nor the young men recognized the others at first, and a serious tragedy might have occurred if either of them had brought their pistols into play. Messrs. Ramsaur and McLean were placed in hiding behind the officers to await the arrival of the sureenough thieves.

Trash and rubbish that are cleaned from around houses at this time of the year will not be in the way when frost comes and leaves begin to fall, and the cleanup job later in the fall will not be so great. This time of the year is a splendid season for mosquito breeding, too, and the town wants to rid itself of these pests. Mr. Wade says his department wants to do all in its power to assist in cleaning up. He asks that people put their trash out where the trash wagons can get it but that they do not put it in the gutters or where it will reach the gutters.
