

expire. Reasons operating upon my mind determine me to decline a re-election.—While I have adopted this course, I have to express to the Legislature that high sense of the obligations I am under to the State of North-Carolina for the many honors conferred upon me, at various times, by the Legislative and Executive Branches of Government, as well as by the people among whom I immediately reside.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen, with the highest consideration and respect, your most obedient servant,

J. FRANKLIN.

SALISBURY:

TUESDAY, DEC. 4, 1821.

We are gratified in being able to lay before our readers another effusion of the "rustic muse" of our fair correspondent, MABELLA. It is deserving of great praise; and evinces a genius, not only really poetic, but highly cultivated. It was received last week; but not until our poetical corner was occupied. We chose it should stand alone; as it needs no foil to set off its beauties to greater advantage.

We have copied from the Raleigh papers all the proceedings of the Legislature which have come to hand; they are necessarily destitute of much importance. The Governor's speech is a very good one, as far as it goes, and will be read with interest, and, by a great portion of his fellow-citizens, with disappointment. We cannot but regret, that on a subject which, to the West, transcends all others in importance, the Governor should have thought it necessary to be profoundly silent, and even to guard with care against the most distant allusion to it. But it may be the wisest course.

A WORD OR TWO.

This number completes one year and a half since the publication of the WESTERN CAROLINIAN commenced; and if continued and increasing patronage be an evidence of public approbation, we have the most unequivocal proofs that our endeavors to please and be useful, have not been wholly in vain. Our object has been, to blend the useful with the sweet; to support the interest and administer to the innocent and rational entertainment of our readers; to incite to virtue, and deter from vice; to uphold religion and morality, the foundations of public and social happiness, of individual and national prosperity: in short, to render the Carolinian, as far as our feeble abilities and limited means would permit, worthy the Western section of North-Carolina, and the cause which it espouses. Such has been our object. And if, while struggling with difficulties and prejudices, which time only can remove, we have, as we trust, in some small degree, accomplished it, our reward is ample: as all the recompense we ask for our labors, all we wish is, that they should procure for us the means of subsistence, and the approbation of our patrons.

The Carolinian will continue to be, as it has been, the friend of the PEOPLE. And so long as injustice and legal oppression shall continue to triumph over the plainest principles of RIGHT; so long as the interests of the state shall be confided, not to their rightful guardians, the majority,—but to an aristocratic minority: so long shall the Carolinian continue to sound the alarm, and perform the part of a faithful sentinel on the walls of our political fortress. But in thus expressing our determination, we will repeat, what we have before said, that we are actuated by no enmity towards the East; we consider them as brethren, whose interests are closely identified with those of the West, and which, equally with ours, call for a revision of the constitution, and for a more equal distribution of rights and privileges. It is not, in fact, the people of the East with whom we are contending; it is with a petty aristocracy. The people, when enlightened, are ever disposed to do right; and it would be a moral phenomenon, perhaps without a parallel, should a whole people, so enlightened, espouse the cause of injustice. Were the people of the East, therefore, properly informed on the great political question which now divides the state, and could it then be fairly and fully submitted to their decision, there is scarcely a doubt that they would decide directly contrary to what their representatives,—or those who have pretended to represent them,—have uniformly done. The aristocracy of the East know this; and their policy is to keep the people in the dark; to alarm them with unnecessary fears, or prejudice them by false and distorted views of the subject. But truth and justice will ultimately triumph.

We again return our thanks to those who have interested themselves in enlarging our subscription list; and while we respectfully solicit the continuance of their friendly exertions, it shall be our unceasing endeavor, our highest ambition, to deserve them.

Our correspondents are requested to continue their contributions to the Carolinian. For their past favors, they have our grateful acknowledgments. They have contributed much to the interest and usefulness of our pages; and perhaps a portion of their leisure hours could not be more profitably employed, than in catering for the intellectual wants, the interest and amusement of the public.

That "the laborer is worthy of his hire," is a truism so universally acknowledged, as to need no argument in its support. It is sufficient, therefore, for us to say, that the "hire" which is now due us will be cheerfully and thankfully received, and receipts given. The amount due from each individual is trifling; but the aggregate of all swells into magnitude to us.

LATEST FROM THE SPANISH MAIN.

By the schooner Endymion, from Lagaira, we learn, Cumana capitulated on the 15th October, and the royal authority and troops had sailed for Porto Rico.

Carracas, Lagaira, and the whole country in their vicinity, was in quiet possession of the Patriots, and trade was becoming more regular.

GENERAL QUARTERS,

Maricao, Sept. 14.

SIR: I have the satisfaction to enclose to your excellency the copy of an official letter, in which general Sucre has informed me of the brilliant results of the negotiations between his excellency general St. Martin and the Viceroy of Peru La Serna, begging your excellency to publish this flattering intelligence for the satisfaction of this department.

PEDRO BRISENO MENDEZ.

S. BORODON, JULY 3.

SIR: The 20th of June I received a despatch from the secretary of his excellency general San Martin, in which he communicates the following information from Barancas, under date of June 6th.

I have the satisfaction to inform your excellency, that I have this moment received intelligence from the general in chief, dated at Ancon, the 14th inst. in which he advises me that the basis of measures has been fixed which will eventually decide the fate of Peru—the government of Lima having united with us in acknowledging its independence. The archipelago of Chiloe, has also declared independence; and this event is of no less importance to the general cause of South America.

I have received, besides details of posterior events, and negotiations as late as the 20th June, of which I send your excellency an abstract.

On the 11th, at night, Gen. La Serna agreed to surrender Callao as security.—The convention, in the mean time, determined that it was necessary to avoid war; and on the 12th the Chilean squadron, with 2000 men, entered Callao. The Spanish army of Lima co-operated in this measure, and these movements created the greatest disorder in the capital. The cabildo desired peace—the junta de pacification also inclined to it, and general La Serna, under the circumstances, obtained a truce of 12 days more from General San Martin. The hope of terminating the war without shedding more blood, made him consent to this new armistice. It has been agreed that the negotiations shall be continued on board an English frigate, anchored off Callao, as a neutral situation.

The cabildo of Lima, to whom has been entrusted the fate of the country, treats with general San Martin. The consequences of having fixed as the basis of the transactions the acknowledgment of independence, are, that the patriots of the capital have taken important steps in commercial affairs; that the timid and indifferent have declared themselves; that the royalists are much dismayed and enfeebled; and confusion may be the final result. In the mean time a column under command of colonel Miller, beat three parties in Arequipa, Puno, and La Paz—and the battalion of Arequipa passed over to our colors; all the province of that name having declared independence. It is generally believed that the project proposed by the Spaniards in the armistice is, to leave Lima and join general Ramirez, who was in Arica with 1500 men, the remains of the army of Alto Peru.—A part of the Spanish cavalry has already set out in that direction, taking off much valuable treasure from the churches, shamefully plundered from them by force.

Such is the news I have received of the situation of the liberating army of Peru—and I have to communicate to you, that it may be made known to the president.

ANTONIO JOSEF SUCRE,
Sr. Minister of War and Navy.

DISTRESSING OCCURRENCE.

From the Lewistown (Niagara) Democrat, Nov. 5.

It becomes our duty this week, to record one of the most horrid accidents which can possibly fall to the lot of human beings. The facts, as near as we can gather them, are these:—On Sunday last, some families, who had been living on Navy Island, in the Niagara river, had made preparations for removing to the Canada shore, and had loaded a boat with their household effects. The wind rising to a considerable height, it was thought imprudent by some of the party, to attempt crossing so near the falls with the wind blowing down stream. Some of them consequently refused to embark; but three men, more bold, or less considerate, than the rest, went aboard for the purpose of crossing; but thinking proper to wait a little for the falling of the wind, they all laid down to sleep. During this time, the rising of the water, or some other cause, loosened the boat from its mooring, and these unfortunate men soon found themselves fast approaching the rapids, which lead to the main falls. No human power could now save them, and they were precipitated into the eternal world by one of the most awful deaths which it is possible to conceive. Many of their goods were seen floating below the falls, much broken to pieces, except a dining table, which floated ashore uninjured.

GEORGIA LEGISLATURE.

AUGUSTA, NOV. 14.

On Thursday last, the election for a Governor of this State took place at Milledgeville, and resulted in the re-appointment of Gov. Clark.—The votes were, for Clark 74—for Troup 72. The result of this election has corresponded with our uniform expectations on the subject, tho' the absence, (from sickness,) of one or two of the Governor's particular and influential friends, rendered his majority somewhat less than we had anticipated. The result, however it may have occasioned disappointment to some, is such, we think, as sound wisdom dictated, and the true interest of the state required. The opposition to the Governor, though formidable, was happily ineffectual. The state is again secured in a zealous, faithful and an upright executive magistrate, in whose election principle instead of party has, we think, been triumphant.

Col. Nicholas Ware has been appointed a Senator in the Congress of the United States, in the place of the Hon. Freeman Walker, resigned.—Advertiser.
