New Stage to Raleigh.

THE subscriber, who is contractor for carrying the U. States Mail between Raleigh and Salisbury, &c. respectfully informs the public, that he has fitted up an entire NEW STAGE; which, added to other improvements that have been made, will enable him to carry PASSENGERS with as much comfort and expedition as they can be carried by any line of stages in this part of the country. The scarcity of money, the reduction in the price of produce, &c. demand a correspondent reduction in every department of life: Therefore, the subscriber has determined to reduce the rate of passage from eight to six cents per mile. Gentlemen travelling from the West to Raleigh, or by way of Raleigh to the North, are invited to try the subscriber's Stage, as he feels assured it only needs a trial to gain a preference.

The Stage arrives in Salisbury every Tuesday, 8 or 9 o'clock, and departs thence for Raleigh the same day at 2 o'clock; it arrives in Raleigh Friday evening, and leaves there for Salisbury on Saturday at 2 o'clock.

NOTICE.

RANAWAY from the subscriber, on the 9th of this instant, a negro man named JOE, and his wife named SINA, and two female children, one of the children four, the other two years old. Joe, the negro man, is twenty-five or six years old, five feet eight or nine inches high, stout built, very black, with uncommonly large feet; had on when he left me, a coarse blue broad cloth coat and a black wool hat. His wife Sina is twenty-eight or thirty years old, middle size, has large eyes, high cheek bones, spare face, her dress not recollected. It is thought that a negro girl named Silvia, the property of J. Purvins, my neighbour, who was missing on the same day that my negroes left me, is in company with them. Said Silvia is fourteen or fifteen years old, well grown of her age, dress not known. Any person who will apprehend said negroes, and lodge them in any Jail, so that I can get them, or deliver them to me, shall be rewarded for his trouble, with all reasonable expenses paid.

20 Dollars Reward

RANAWAY from the subscriber in Union District, S. Carolina, a negro fellow named TOM, about twenty years of age, four feet 8 or 9 inches high, slim made and active. Had on when he went away, a dark home spun coat, white woollen pantaloons, and swansdown waistcoat. He left home in company with Jack and Peter, belonging to Miles Ferguson, also Phill, belonging to the subscriber. Jack and Phill have since been taken and committed to Salisbury Jail: Peter has also been got out of Charlotte Jail. Jack and Phill say they parted with Tom in a few days after Peter was taken, and one or two days before they were caught, on the hill, between Salisbury and Charlotte. Whoever will deliver Tom to me, or take and lodge him in Jail, so that I can get him, shall receive the above reward.

30 Dollars Reward.

BROKE JAIL on the night of the 17th instant, a white man and two negroes. The white man is by the name of John Prince, said to have come from Grayson county, Virginia, who was confined on a charge of counterfeiting money; he is about 35 years of age, dark complexion, about five feet ten inches high.—One of the negroes says he came from Charleston, S. C. and that his name is Bill, and is a runaway; he is a trim built fellow, of a middle size and age, has been cropped, or lost a piece of one ear, I think the right ear: The other is of a yellow complexion, heavy built, thick lips, and a small scar on his under lip, supposed to be about 35 years of age, says his name is Owen, and is a runaway from the state of Georgia. It is thought by some that Prince will pass for their master, and perhaps sell them.

Any person that will apprehend them, and confine them in any jail, or bring them so that I get them again, shall receive the above reward, and all reasonable expenses; or 10 dollars for each or either of them.

Desultory.

FROM THE ESSEX REGISTER, JAN. 26.

The following conversation and anecdote of the venerable John Adams, are derived from respectable and unquestionable authority, and may be received with the most perfect confidence.

"In the year 1818 I paid a visit to Mr. Jefferson, in his retirement at Monticello. During the visit, the credibility of history became a topic of conversation, and we naturally adverted to that of our own country. He spoke with great freedom of the heroes and patriots of our Revolution, and of its gloomy and brilliant periods. I will give the substance of a part of his remarks. "No correct history of that arduous struggle has yet been or ever will be written. The actors in important and busy scenes are too much absorbed in their immediate duty, to record events, or the motives and causes which produced them. Many secret springs, concealed even from those upon whom they operate, give an impulse to measures, which are supposed to be the result of chance; and an accidental occurrence of causes is often attributed to the connected plan of leaders, who are themselves as much astonished as others at the events they witness. They who took an active part in these important transactions, can hardly recognize them as they are related in the histories of our Revolution. That of Botta, an Italian, is the best. In all of them, events are misrepresented, wrong motives are assigned and justice is seldom done to individuals, some having too much, and some too little praise. The private correspondence of three or four persons, in different official stations at that time, would form the best history. I have heard that Mr. Adams is writing something on the subject. No one is better qualified than him, to give to the reader a correct impression of the earlier part of the contest. No history has done him justice, for no historian was present to witness his conduct in the Continental Congress. In his zeal for independence he was ardent; in contriving expedients and originating measures, he was always busy; in disastrous times, when gloom sat on the countenances of most of us, his courage and fortitude continued unabated, and his animated exhortations restored confidence to those who had wavered.—He seemed to forget every thing but his country, and the cause which he had espoused."

"In a journey to the Southward, I fell in company with an aged and highly respectable gentleman, a native of one of the Middle States, who, in our Revolutionary War, espoused the cause of his King, and held an important post in the royal army. He conversed with great frankness of his principles and motives, and appeared to have been well acquainted with the events of that period. "It has been disputed," said I, "where the Revolution originated, in Massachusetts or Virginia. What was the opinion of the Royalists of that period, and what is yours?"—"That it originated in Massachusetts," was his reply—"and if I was to state who, in my opinion, contributed most to bring on the contest, I should name John Adams, who was afterward your President. Concerning him I will relate an anecdote. He came into notice during the administration of governor Bernard, and distinguished himself by his resolute opposition to many of his measures.—The Attorney General Seawall, was, however, his bosom friend. At that time the office of a Justice of the Peace was, on many accounts, advantageous to a young man; and with the knowledge of Adams the Attorney General requested Bernard to appoint his friend to that office. The governor expressed his desire to oblige Mr. Seawall, but observed, "This young man has ranked himself with my opponents. He denounces and endeavors to thwart my measures and those of the Ministry. I could not justify it to my Sovereign to bestow a favour upon such a person. And I wish you to tell him for me, that so long as he continues to oppose me, and the ministry, he must expect no promotion." Seawall conveyed the message to Adams. "Then tell the Governor from me," replied the latter, "that I will not change my course, but will raise such a flame in the province as shall expel him from it, and all royal rule from America." The truth of this anecdote has been confirmed to me by another respectable gentleman, who was then a student in the office of Mr. Seawall."

A lady in New England, of a respectable family, was for a considerable period subject to paroxysms of delirium. These paroxysms came on instantaneously, and after continuing an indefinite time, went off as suddenly, leaving her mind perfectly rational. It often happened that when she was engaged in rational and interesting conversation, she would stop short in the midst of it, and become in a moment entirely delirious, and commence a conversation on some other subject, not having the remotest connection with the preceding one, nor would she advert to that during her delirium. When she became rational again, she would pursue the same conversation in which she had been engaged during the lucid interval, beginning where she had left off. To such a degree was this carried, that she would complete an unfinished story or sentence, or even an unfinished word. When her next delirious paroxysm came on, she would continue the conversation which she had been pursuing in her preceding paroxysm; so that she appeared as a person might be supposed to, who had two souls, each occasionally dormant, and occasionally active, and utterly ignorant of what the other was doing.

The Minister of Spain arrived in this city on Friday last. The Representatives of all the European Powers to the United States are now present, (with the exception of Denmark, whose Representative resides at Philadelphia.) There are now represented here, France, Russia, Great Britain, Spain, Sweden. Besides several Consuls-General and Consuls from these and other powers.—Nat. Intell.

A letter from a respectable source at Richmond states, that the Virginia Court of Appeals has decided that debts due to unchartered banks are not recoverable.—Of the precise extent of this decision we are not apprised. If this decision go the whole length of establishing the general rule, without qualification, the paper of these banks, now held by individuals, &c. to the amount of (it is supposed) two hundred thousand dollars, becomes as worthless as so many dead leaves of the forest. It is probable, however, that the decision only applies to debts contracted subsequently to the 1st November, 1816, or rather to the period fixed by a supplementary law, after which unincorporated banking institutions were outlawed by the statutes of Virginia.
