NORTH-CAROLINA TELEGRAPH.

Mr. White: It is with much pleasure, I learn, that a Religious journal is to be published, weekly, at Fayetteville, in this State, by the Rev. Robert H. Morrison. I rejoice to find the literature of our state assuming a more elevated rank. It is, surely, time that one of the most prominent states in the Union, for extent, population, and natural advantages and resources, should not be any longer "in leading strings," that she should no longer send abroad for her religious and literary instructors, as well as publications. I feel an honest pride in declaring, that I do most confidently believe, that among our own native citizens, our Colleges, academies and Churches, we might find presidents, professors and teachers, equal in piety, moral and literary acquirements to any in the Union.

The patronage of printed matter is an interesting subject, to be published among ourselves. Every family should be possessed of such a paper. It is not unwarranted to say, that every individual member of a family, would obtain, from such a journal, in any number of its moral and religious advantages, more liberally than would repay the expense of many such papers.

Subscription papers are left at the office of the Western Carolinian, at the store of T. L. Coates, Esq. and with the Rev'd J. G. Freeman. Those who wish to have the publication from its commencement, are requested to call and leave their names; at the first number, it is expected, will appear on the 1st of January, 1826.

GOLD MINES OF NORTH-CAROLINA.

The value of the Gold Mines of this state, are becoming every day better understood. The wretched manner in which they have heretofore been worked, is the cause why they are not more highly estimated.

Let the reader figure to himself the half of a barrel, (the barrel divided lengthwise) and he will have an idea of what is called a Recker. Into this recker, the earth containing the gold, is thrown, and washed about with water until the separation takes place. The next most important article, is a Fryer. In a word, the whole machinery of a gold-digger, is composed of a recker, the fryer, pan, spade and mactock. And in this way, each hard of industry finds from one to two pennyweights of gold per day.

At a mine lately discovered, three miles above the narrow of the Yedkin, each hard finds from two to four pennyweights per day. If this can be done, with the present mode of working, what may we not expect from a skilful application of labour-saving machinery?

We are gratified to learn, that a company has been formed in the counties of Rowan, Montgomery, Anson, Cabarrus, Mecklenburg, and elsewhere, of individuals possessing enterprise and the necessary means, who design entering into the business with system and skill.

Among those concerned in the design of applying machinery to the washing for gold, is Mr. Roche, a practical miner, from the mines of Saxony. Mr. Roche has, for some weeks past, been investigating the gold region, under the direction of Mr. Olmsted, with a view of completing the geological survey commenced by that distinguished geologist. Mr. Roche is well acquainted with all the kinds of machinery used on the Rhine, and elsewhere, for separating the gold from the sand; and, in a few weeks, will commence the construction of one of them, for the purpose of working the mines here.

We understand that gentleman was much surprised on visiting our gold mines, to find them so rich. He accords perfectly in the opinion expressed by Mr. Olmsted, that this is the most extensive deposit of gold heretofore discovered in the world. Within the past 12 or 18 months, the gold mines of North-Carolina have been more fully developed than ever before; and much yet remains to be known of them. We have no doubt, but that the more they are investigated, the more valuable they will be esteemed.

By Saturday's Mail.

The great match-race between Gen. Wynn's bay mare Florida, and Mr. Lynch's gray colt Ariel, has been decided. Ariel lost the first heat, by about half a length, but lost the other two heats—and, of course, the race. The stake was $20,000 aside. The race is said to have been run in shorter time than any other in the U. States, with the exception of that between Eclipse and Henry. Each of the last two miles, was run in 1 minute 5 1/2 seconds. The Virginians will now probably be satisfied; they lost the race between Eclipse and Henry—but have won it between Florida and Ariel. Florida was 5 years old; Ariel only three years. It is said the decision of this race, involved bets to the amount of $100,000.

Desha the Murderer.—A letter to one of the Editors of the Lynchburg Virginian, from Lexington, Kentucky, says, "that petitions were in circulation in that state, signed by the two Jurys which had convicted Desha, and others, praying his release—on the grounds, 1st, that it is impossible to procure another Jury in the State; and 2dly, that his trial would consume so much time as very much to clog and retard business. We should not be surprised if justice should be at last defeated of a victim, who has not a single claim on the compassion of mankind."
