Ebenezer Academy.
WISHING to give an important object, in the good education of the students who enter Ebenezer Academy, its Teachers would occupy the public attention, at this time, while they announce, among other things, their request that parents would endeavor, as much as possible, to enter their sons only at the beginning of a quarter. Entering without concerted views, constantly unnecessarily multiply classes, and diminish their prospect of the greater benefit, in being well chosen. It is hoped that all entrances, hereafter, will be so timed, as to be dated early in January, April, July, or October. Those who are conversant with the interior of our Academic and Collegiate Seminaries, know well the importance of such regulations. The first quarter in 1826 will commence on the 9th of January.
The Teachers of this Academy would avail themselves of this season also to announce to the public, the progressive condition. A considerable enlargement of its buildings has been lately made, and is still going on. On the ground floor of the main building are three Tuition rooms, and a Post-Office apartment; and above these are a Library and Apparatus room in the body of the Belfry, and a large space intended to be improved for apartments for classes in their hours of study. Of the Tuition rooms, one is very spacious, and is named Fayette Hall. On its interior is designed to inscribe Synopses of all the Figures and Diagrams pertaining to the Sciences, with a view of facilitating a constentation of ideas in any branch of Science. A new set of Globes, on an original plan, with Manuals of Geography and Astronomy corresponding, have been ordered from Europe, and are daily expected. Two Debating Societies and a Bible Class are now in operation. At our Examinations and Exhibitions the students present original pieces of their own composition; and, on such occasions, those who are ready for an honorable dismissal, are publicly named, and presented with such Certificates as their standing demands. It is also in contemplation to examine the students, hereafter, on the subjects of the Academic Lectures. These regulations strongly stimulate the students both to mental and moral excellence. In short, whatever is necessary to make the good scholar and the good citizen, shall be entered into the course of a student at Ebenezer Academy.
As yet there has been no reverse of that public opinion which has given a large and steady growth to this Academy, in seven years of its continued standing. Whenever that public opinion shall recede so far that it does not recognize this as a substantial Seminary of Learning, we will await its award, and retire to another sphere of labor. We see nothing of this reverse as yet. The number of students attached to the Academy is fifty-five; and that number is increasing. The resources of its numbers are multiplying, and promise us a long and large support. When finished completely, our Academy will present an imposing exterior, which, no exertions shall be spared, to support by its character.
In anticipation of our fair prospects, and to meet present applications, Capt. Charles M. Hart has purchased, for a Boarding Establishment, the Buildings and Premises, lately owned by Mason and Bailey, and located within a few hundred yards of the Academy. He will board a large number of students, and will regulate the Establishment by strict rules. On the premises of the Academy, and within a quarter of a mile, there are several houses where students can board, and be also under the inspection of the Teachers. The public need not be under any apprehension that the Academy has suspended its exercises, if we should be silent in the public prints for the lapse of a year. As our Legislature, at its last session, liberally granted us the escheated property of York District till it amounts to 10,000 dollars, we could not be otherwise than highly stimulated to a perseverance, which would vest those funds, when evolved, in a substantial and permanent Academy. An annual notice should be sufficient to keep our Academy before the public eye. If there be any material alteration in the affairs of the Academy, notice will be given in due time. Boarding still continues at $70 per annum, and Tuition at $24. The health of our settlement preserves its uniform character. Proposing, these particulars of the Academy to the public, we would solicit its continued patronage.
ELEAZAR HARRIS,
WILLIAM MOFFAT, } Teachers.
JAMES C. CAREY,
York District, S. C. Nov. 5th, 1825.

To the preceding, the subscriber would add, by stating, that the arrangement which introduced two other Teachers into this Academy was not intended to favor any design on his part to withdraw from very active duty in the Academy. The subscriber will never allow any class to be insulated from himself. He holds the prerogative of calling for the recitation of any class in any department, whenever he thinks proper. His aim is to pervade the establishment, directly and indirectly, with his presence, his labors, and his system of education; not to present it with the dead weight of an incubus. His assistants shall always deserve the public trust, by their talents, learning, assiduity, and good character; as the present assistants do. Mr. Moffat was educated partly at this Academy, and knows its mode of education well. He is now stationed here with general approbation. Mr. Carey was lat. by a teacher in the Raleigh Academy, and holds testimonials of a flattering nature from various persons in N. C. to whom he was known as a Teacher. Mr. Moffat and Mr. Carey are both capable of teaching the Latin and Greek Languages, and several of the Sciences; and their Departments are sketched according to their particular excellencies. If a vacancy should, at any time, take place in the Departments which these gentlemen fill, the united efforts of our Trustees and the subscriber will be directed to such a choice, as will fill their places fully to the satisfaction of the public. As the subscriber has allowed no intersection of another sphere of usefulness, with that of a Teacher of this Academy, and in so doing has succeeded in rearing it up to its present size, he will indulge the hope, that the same concentration of efforts, for the future, will continue its growth, and base it immovably in the cheerful, steady patronage of an enlightened public.
1825. E. HARRIS.

Charlotte Female Academy.
The Trustees of the Charlotte Female Academy have the pleasure of announcing to the public, that the exercises of this institution will commence on the first Monday in January next, under the superintendance of the Rev. Thomas Cottrell and Lady. A large and convenient brick building, located in one of the most healthy situations in this village, has been erected, which will be occupied by the Rev. T. Cottrell and family. Ample funds for the support of this institution, have been placed in the hands of the Trustees by the liberal donations of the citizens of Charlotte and its immediate vicinity, who are pledged, as well as the Trustees, for its permanency. The Trustees feel assured, from the high recommendations of Mr. and Mrs. Cottrell, with which they have been furnished from the most respectable sources, and from their long experience in the management of institutions of this kind, that those who feel a lively interest in the success of this Academy will not be disappointed. The various branches of Female Education, both literary and ornamental, will be taught; and the most unremitting attention is pledged to the manners and morals of the pupils. Boys, not exceeding ten years old, will be admitted. The first session will close on the 15th of June, and the next session commences on the next day and close on the 15th of November. Reading can be had in respectable families in town, at forty dollars per session. Terms of tuition, in the literary branches, per session, $10. The ornamental branches will be taught upon the following terms, viz:
Muslin Work and Marking, pr. Session, $5
Embroidery, do 10
Drawing and painting, on paper, do 10
do do on velvet, do 10
Music on the Piano, do 20
Each payable in advance.

250 dollars Reward.
BROKE JAMES JAIL, on the night of the 3d inst. William Smith, alias Robinson, about thirty years of age, 5 feet 9 or 10 inches high, of an ordinary size, dark hair, tolerable thin visage, longish nose, pale blue or grey eyes, rather slow speech, down look, and fond of spirits; he is the representation of an Eagle on one of his wings put in with indelible ink and the mark of being on one or two of his fingers put on in the same way; he is famed for horse-racing, foot-racing, shooting, and gambling. He has travelled extensively over the United States, stealing and trailing horses and negroes.
I believe him to be the greatest horse-thief in the United States, and is connected with others in that business, particularly a man by the name of Morris. I have heard of his stealing horses in different States, and I know of his stealing five within a week prior to his being committed to Jail. He is an artful fellow, and will be hard to detect, for he says himself that he never lacks for a name when he goes. He told a man who broke jail with him, that this is the fourth Jail that he has broke.
He was committed to Jail for stealing two horses and a negro, for which there is no doubt but that he is guilty.
A reward of two hundred and fifty dollars, to be given for his apprehension, so that I can get hold of him. C. L. BANNER, Sheriff, Germananton, N. C. 3 399

The Muse.
FOR THE WESTERN CAROLINIAN.
How sweet is the rose in the gay dewy morning,
That peeps with a smile o'er your eastern hill;
How fair is the lily, our gardens adorning,
And fresh the daisy that blossoms by the rill.
But Mary! the roset, the fairest sweet flower,
That ever adorned the green banks of the main—
Compared with whose beauty, the eglets lower,
The rose, and the lily, how trifling and vain.
How lovely her bosom, where friendship and feeling
ling,
Still hearts for misfortunes the dear tender sigh;
How sweet are her looks, every beauty revealing,
And mild the lustre that beams in her eye.
The blush of her cheek still outbrave Aurora,
When beauty and music awake the 1992
dawn.
And sweeter her smile than the smile of sweet
Flora,
When primroses and daisies bedeck the gay
lawn,
And O! lovely maid, may thy beauties still flourish.
Un-nipt by the blast of misfortunes rough gale;
May virtue attend thee, thy goodness to nourish,
And no ruffian hand the sweet blossom assail.
The proud city Beauchamp adore their city Belles,
And Poets as vernal their praises re-echo;
But in our little village, a much fairer dwells—
Tis Mary, sweet Mary, the flower of Buffalo.

FORGET NOT.
Forget not the absent tho' pleasure's wreath,
And other friendships may surround thee;
Forget not one, tho' the balmy breath
Of social comfort circles round thee.
But remember the scenes that once yielded delight,
And think of a being who shared them with thee;
Nor let pleasure, nor absence, nor time's rapid flight,
His affection erase from thy memory.
THE INQUIRY.
Poor Peter Pike is down'd, and neighbors say
The jury mean to sit on him to day;
Know'st thou what for P said Tom?
Quoth Ned, "No doubt
'Tis merely dunc is against the widge out."
"Remember P, if he do—his choice had to make,
'Why if he was the first do you think he would take?
'Why 'tis me, to be sure, he would carry away;
'Tis he, to be sure, he would have my dog."

MISCELLANEOUS.
ENGLISH LADIES.
Mr. Carter, in one of his late letters from London, speaks of the English females in the following terms:
"We met Lady Salisbury in her coach, with two postillions and a brace of out-riders, all in livery. She is said to be a second Diana Vernon in horsemanship, riding full speed, and leaping the most formidable barriers at stag-hunts, in which she is peculiarly fond of participating. The English ladies generally ride on horse-back with boldness, dexterity and gracefulness. Their beaver hats exactly resembling those of the other sex; their high collars and black cravats, tied before in the style of a fashionable gentleman, with the appendage of a long whip, give them somewhat of a masculine appearance.
One of the causes, however, of rosy cheeks and healthy complexions, may be found in these equestrian exercises, and in the habit of walking much more than is common in our country."

LAW
The following decision was made by the Supreme Court at the Law Term in Worcester, (Mass.)—"A principle, of some importance, was settled in relation to parents and minor children, and as to the right of the former to wages earned by the latter; and we understand the Court to have decided, that wherever a parent permits his children to contract for wages, without interfering to claim them, he thereby loses his right, not only to recover such part of the wages as may have been actually paid to the child, but also to any part which may remain unpaid; so that he cannot maintain an action for the subsequent earnings of the child; and the child only is entitled to receive them to his own use, free from the parent's control."

Mr. O'Connell, in a long letter to the Editor of the Dublin Morning Register, denounces Cobbett as a "vile vagabond," "a liar," and one "who has outlived his intellect."

A gentleman of the name of Dickinson of Shrewsbury, was lately committed to Fotherill-fields prison in London, for hanging upon the railings and pillars a seditious placard, the tenor of which was—that he had been robbed of a considerable property by the unjustifiable oppression of the law; that for seven years he had been in vain applying for redress to the government; that the King, as respected the due administration of justice, had not acted up to the coronation-oath; and that, finally, George 4th, commonly called the king, ought to be such no longer, but his heir put up on the throne.

There are six Universities in the Russian Empire; namely, at Moscow, Petersburg, Cassan, Lorpas, Ceerhoff, and Wilna. No student is allowed to go abroad for study, until he has been at least three years in a Russian University. All candidates for military offices, must be examined at a University. But notwithstanding the number of public places of instruction, (and that is small in comparison of the extent of the Empire,) it must not be supposed that the means of acquiring learning are great. Many departments of literature are wholly interdicted, and the whole plan of instruction is subject to the inspection of political censors. The Arts and Sciences cannot flourish under a despotism. Mid. Gaz.

A letter from Milledgeville to the Editors of the Georgian states, that Silver of the finest quality, has been found in some parts of the Territory lately acquired by the Creek Treaty. The samples of ore carried to Milledgeville afforded twenty-five per cent of pure silver.

At Huntsville, in Alabama, a person of the name of Wm. Vaughan, has been convicted of passing a counterfeit Fifty Cent change Note, purporting to have been drawn by the firm of Yeatman & Kent; and the punishment by the State Law for this offence is Death!—How many a worse criminal walks abroad with crest erect, and looks down honest poverty to scorn! How odious the law which rates a poor creature, ignorant perhaps of what he is doing, equally with the assassin, the burglar, or the traitor!

A letter from Charlottesville, Va. mentions the following testimony in favor of the venerable JEFFERSON's devotion to the cause of education:
Mr. Jefferson has even taken down, from his own hall, the numerous curiosities which he had collected and which had been sent to him from other countries, in the course of his long and distinguished life, and presented them to the University. One large room in the rotunda is appropriated as a museum, and the collection of curiosities, when properly arranged, will be extremely interesting.
On publishing Gov. Burtow's Message to the Legislature of this state, when they convened, the Ashe's Herald makes the following remarks:
There is much to interest the people of North Carolina in the Message of Governor BURTON. Internal Improvements and Education are the leading topics which engage his solicitude, both of which have been much neglected in that state. There is not, we fearlessly assert it, a state in the union so rich in natural resources as North Carolina. Her soil and climate are congenial to all the staple productions of her sister states, and to many that they cannot raise. Why then does she linger behind those states which are less favored by nature than she is? and why is she not among the foremost of them in encouraging education? Let her Legislature answer.
The following communication to the Legislature of Vermont, by one of its members, is as excellent as it is certainly unique in its character:
Mr. BELL informed the House, that he was requested by his Excellency, to invite the members to call and take a social glass of wine at Cottrell's Hotel, and that this invitation was predicated upon the circumstance of his Excellency's being about to relinquish the Gubernatorial Chair—The House concurred.—[OF COURSE!]
A book is said to have just appeared in London, without title-page, designation, or printer's name, consisting entirely of a list of men notorious about town for running in debt and not paying; or, as the phrase among them is, not caring who suffers. The first number contains 4,000 of such names, greatly to the annoyance of many, who may perhaps be thus shamed into honesty. It is threatened to be continued periodically. [Such a work, it is hinted, is in contemplation in this city.] New-York Gazette
It is stated in the Boston Daily Advertiser, on the authority of a circular from a respectable house in London, whose opinion on this subject is particularly entitled to respect, that the debts and effects of Mr. Samuel Williams, at the time of his failure, were as follows:—Debts $630,000, effects, $500,000; deficiency, $150,000, or nearly $700,000.
