"It seems that corporal punishments are yet inflicted in Alabama; two men have been publicly whipped in Mobile, Carolina this summer, remarks, that Mr. Adam for petit larceny."

(We would inform the Philadelphia Editor, that he need not go as far as Alabama, to find the corporal mode of punishing those guilty of petit larceny, practised; by the laws of North-Carolina, a man's bare back may be exhibited to the gaze of the multitude, and exposed to the lash, for the crime of petit larceny. A penitentiary would do away with the necessity of thus degrading human nature.]

THE GOLD REGION.

As a good deal of anxiety is felt abroad, gain information of the topography and geology of the region of country where Gold has, of probability there may be in all this, is difficult lafe, been found in considerable quantities, we for us at a distance from " the powers that be." have asked and obtained permission of the auther, to copy for publication the following geological memoranda, promiscuously noted down St. James, in the July packet from New-York. by him at leisure moments. Although defective in style and arrangement, yet we believe these memoranda will afford some information and amusement to many of our readers.

Salisbury, June 5, 1826.

Ma. Warra: I have lately made some geological excursions, chiefly in Randolph county.—
Hitherto the mineral wealth of this county has the north-east part of the Gold region. This section is more broken and mountainous than other sections of the gold country; the gold I have here discovered, is scattered more extensively, and in finer particles, than in other places,-as well on the summit of the hills, as in the vallies and beds of water-courses. This gold is equal in purity to that found in any part of the gold region, and is about 23 carats

It has been incorrectly supposed by some, that gold was formed in the alluvial tracts; but this epinion must certainly appear erroneous, when it is known that gold is not unfrequently found on the summits of elevated portions of country, as is the case in Randolph county. We can trace the gold in the fissures of rocks, as well in the higher as in the lesser elevated land. These veins have been burst anunder by subterranean explosions, and the gold scattered over the adacent regions, and some of it carried down in the water-courses.

There is a quarte-formation in the lower part of Randolph county, near Deep River, contain-ing lead and copper ores, though in inconsider-able quantities, on the surface of the earth; they may prove more abundant a short depth under the grounds. As these veins are similar to those in which gold is found, they may probably contain gold with the ores of other metals.

I have never publicly expressed any opinion concerning the probable richness of the gold country. It cannot be expected is should really country: it cannot be expected I should make a comparison of this with other gold countries, as it has not been sufficiently explored, and is consequently not as well known as it will be at some future period. Localities have been disthe veins are equal if not superior in richness to any other. Skilful management is all that is necessary to work these veins with great profit; and in the course of time, others may be discovered of equal richness.

I am, dear sir, yours, most respectfully, CHARLES-E, ROTHE.

Erratum.-A typographical error occurred in the article relative to the Gold Region, in our last week's paper. As the figures stood, the gold was made from "23 to 25 carats fine," whereas, it should have read "from 23 to 234 But as cotton withstands the drought better

THE SEASON.

The weather, with us, for two weeks past, has been very seasonable. Most of the Corn looks cents in Augusta, and 81 in Savannah well; even that which, a few weeks since, presented a seared and sickly appearance, has been revived by the late frequent and refreshing showers, and promises the anxious husbandman an abundant harvest .- Cotton, also, with a few exceptions, looks well. It was so remarkably dry during the months of April and May, that there was not moisture enough in the earth to sprout the seed which was planted. In some instances, the seed of the cotton remained in the ground so long before it came up, that fears were entertained of having to re-plant it: and some actually did replant a part of their fields. than most other crops, the late seasonable rains have so revived it, and given it a fresh and healthy aspect, and vigorous growth, that the season henceforward must be very unpropitious, L. Banner, Esq. having declined a re-election indeed, to prevent a good crop of that staple of as Sheriff, Mr. Salathiel Stone was elected to this section of country. Outs are mostly harvested, and the crop is truly a sorry one. Oats requires either a moist soil, or a moist season : of course, if farmers did not avail themselves of the MR. To what cause And, in many instances, where outs was sown to the survey of the roads and water this may be owing, I am unable to say :--unless on moist ground, the crop was very light. "My dear Love-I have to tell you, that on the 24th March, we were attacked at all points by the barbarians, commanded by Ibrahim Pacha. I was posted on the side next the sea; the reiterated attacks had overthrown a part of our fortifications; we were obliged to fill hogsheads with sand, and entrench ourselves behind them with our cannon; it was here that I was wounded, &c. At length the Egyptians and others were repulsed, and in part burnt, with their boats.— These furious barbarians having advanced to storm the place, were again repulsed. Ibrahim, seeing his prey escape him, rushed forward at the head of his troops, hoping to revive their courage. A Greek, who had recognized him, fired his musket at nim, from which he received a wound of which he died a few days afterwards. At this moment my countrymen perceived the troops commanded by the brave Fabrier and Gouras, ind other Chiefs, to the number of 8000. The Turks in their terror ran away; they were overthrown by the besieged, and left Mehemet Pacha in the hands of Gouras; the others took refuge in Lepanto, or where they could; 500 men at the most escaped by sea. The fleet has entered the port, and retaken Vassiladi.
