STANDARD OF RECTITUDE.

A man should early fix a standard of recutude in his own mind; should frequently, in private, measure his actions thereby; should note his deviations therefrom, and at the same time, by his observations on other people, should endeavour to improve this ideal standard, on which, however, he should admit no alteration, without the most serious conviction. Such a man will act with confidence-his conduct will be marked with fortitude, while he will obviate the errors of obstinacy.

WHO IS A TANKER!

Let a man North of New York visa it that City, and they call him a Yankee, to distinguish him from a New Yorker. Let a man from New York visit Philadelphia, and be will be called a Yackee to distinguish him from a Philadelphian, Let a man from Philadelphia come no further south than Baltimore, and he will be nicke named Yunkee to distinguish him from a Baltimorean, Let any man from the north of the Potomec visit Virginia, and he is, immediately dubbed with the title of Yankee to distinguish him from a pure Virginian. Let a mon from Virginia visit Charles. ton, and he is supposed to have strong claims to the appellation of Yankee, Let a man from Charleston visit New Orleans, and there is ten chances to one he will get the nick-name of Yankee. Let any man from any part of Just than's dominions (even from New-Or. leans) visit the kingdom of John Bull, and he will forthwith receive the appellation of Yankee. The rule observed in this country is that the man who receives that name must come from some part north of him who gives it, To compensate us for giving each other nick names, John Bull I lumps us all together,' and calls us all Yankees. The cry of Packenham's army at N. w Orleans, was : " Give the desesse YANKEES no quarter !" Thanks t the consummate skill and bravery of JACKSON and his gallant "Yankee" troops, they had no necessity to asi for quarter.

RELIGIOUS COURTSHIP. A young gentleman happening to sit at church in a pew adjoining one in which sat a young lady for whom he conceived a most sudden and violent passion, was desirous of entering into a courtship on the spot; but the place not suiting formal declaration, the exigency of the cue suggested the following plan:

He politely handed his fair neighbor a Bible, open, with a pin stuck in the following text-2d epistle of John, verse 5th :- " And now I beseech hee, lady, not as though I wrote anew commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another." She returned it, pointing to the following-2d chap. of Ruth, 10th verse :- " Then she fell on her face, and bowed herself to the ground, and said unto him, Why have I found grace in thine eyes, that thou shouldst take knowledge of me, seeing I am a stranger?" He returned the book, pointing to the 13th verse of the 3d epistle of John :- "I had many things to write, but I will not with ink and pen write unso thee; but I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speak face to face." From the above interview, the marriage took place the ensuing week.
