

Tailoring Business.
CHAS. TEMPLETON, grateful for the liberal patronage he has received from a generous public, respectfully informs them, that, having all his tailoring in the shop recently opened by Revell and Templeton, on Main street, in the town of Salisbury, he has just received the latest FASHIONS from Philadelphia, and will continue regularly to receive them at stated periods, which will enable him to accommodate gentlemen with dress Coats, Pants, Vests, &c. made after the newest and most approved styles in vogue at the north; and on more reasonable terms than such clothes have heretofore been made in Salisbury. He will reward his work to be substantially and elegantly made; and, what is equally important with most persons, it shall fit well before he will require pay. Country cloth will be made up on the very lowest terms that any regular tailor can make a saving business in doing it for. The greatest possible pains will be taken that as the cloth is done in the work they wish to get done at his shop, either as to the fit of their garments, durability of workmanship, or promptness of execution. All those, then, wishing any description of Tailoring done, may reasonably be asked to Come and try me; in fitting you, I'll not lack a hair—if I do, I'll take the garment back.
Salisbury, Feb. 5, 1827. 48
N. B. One or two Boys, from 12 to 15 years of age, who can come well recommended, will be taken as apprentices to the above business.

REMOVAL.
EBENEZER DICKSON,
RESPECTFULLY informs his customers, and the public, that he has removed his Boot and Shoe Manufactory, from the building he lately occupied, to one a few doors north, on the same street, for some time past occupied as a watchmaker's and silversmith's shop, nearly opposite the Bank; where he will still continue to make and mend every description of BOOTS and SHOES.
He employs the best workmen, uses the best leather, and charges the lowest prices; and of good shoemakers in this part of the country; and after all this, he feels in pleasing those who favor him with their work, the fault cannot lie in him—he thinks. The quality of his materials, the skill of his workmen, and the promptitude with which he executes all orders in his line, offer advantages to those wishing boots and shoes, greater perhaps than the town of Salisbury ever before enjoyed. Then

Look Here!
THE General Association of the Manumission Society of N. Carolina, will convene at Charon Meeting-House, in Randolph county, on Friday, the 9th of next month, at 10 o'clock A. M. We sincerely hope that the several Branch Societies, in connection with this Association, will be promptly represented. Those who feel interested in promoting the object of the institution, are respectfully invited to favour the union with their presence; and those who entertain unfriendly views of our ultimate design, we hope will attend, and let us be heard before we are condemned.
As branches of this Association are jumping up in almost every direction, and as their local situations, together with many of those already recognized, are not known at the office of the Association, which renders a transmission of documents, &c. tedious and uncertain, it is therefore recommended to the officers of each Branch Society, to mention in their next returns, the name of the past officer, and the person to whom, the necessary papers from the General Association shall in future be directed. They can then be placed in the mail, transmitted with speed and safety to their respective destinations.

THE LEGISLATURE.
The following extracts from the proceedings of the House of Commons, during the last days of the session, will give the reader some idea how the great mass of business before them was disposed of before the adjournment. Mr. Jones, of Warren, from the Judiciary committee, to whom was referred the bill to alter an act passed in 1741, for restraining the taking of excessive usury, reported; that if there ever has been a period of time when the Legislature could, with safety to the public, alter or repeal the provisions of the act of 1741 commonly called the Statute of Usury, the present is not that period. The committee therefore recommend the rejection of the bill. The report was concurred with, and the bill indefinitely postponed.

GENERAL JACKSON.
The states friendly to the election of General Andrew Jackson are right in supposing that the indications of New-York promise an auspicious result. Things are daily shaping its course in that direction, not in a sudden, hasty manner, calculated to produce reaction, but with deliberation and steadiness of purpose. There are few who took an active part in the election of Mr. Crawford who are not now equally zealous in favour of General Jackson. The prominent friends of Mr. Clinton are equally decided on this point; and if the canvass is conducted with moderation and firmness, with union and good feeling, the entire vote of New-York may be calculated on for the General. Aves.

The fate of Morgan, who, it will be recollected was forcibly carried off last summer, as is said by free masons, for having published a book exposing their secrets, appears to assume daily a deeper degree of interest. According to the papers from the interior, a convention composed of gentlemen from various towns, was recently held at Lewistown, to discover, if possible, his fate. The Buffalo Patriot states that sufficient evidence was collected to satisfy the convention that after Morgan had been kept a few days at Fort Niagara, he was deliberately put to death at that place.

This would indeed be a most ferocious consummation to an outrage, so daring in all its characteristics as this has been. We are unwilling, as yet, to suppose it can be so; but if it be, we hope there will be no effort left untried to bring the murderers to justice.

New Publications.—The Rev. Colin M'IVER, of this town, proposes publishing two new periodical works, each to appear monthly: the one under the title of "The Evangelical Museum," containing essays on various topics of Theology, Biographical Sketches, remarks Ecclesiastical History, reviews of new Theological publications, Religious Intelligence, obituary notices of distinguished Christians, &c. and the other, under that of "The Virginia and North Carolina Presbyterian Preacher," consisting of sermons, selected from the manuscripts of ministers of the Presbyterian Church, residing in Virginia and North Carolina.

Mr. M'IVER is already advantageously known to the public as the Editor of the "Southern Preacher" and other works, in which he has displayed much research, industry and talent. From his habits of application, his learning and general acquaintance with the subjects to be embraced in his proposed publications, we think his editorial labours will be useful and acceptable to the public. Eliza Barker recovered 1000 dollars of a Mr. Anderson for a breach of marriage promise. As Anderson had little property, the Judge remarked, that circumstance should not shield him, and that a portion of his future life and labour should be mortgaged to compensate for the injury he had done. He was imprisoned, we suppose.

A person at Lockport, N. Y. has contrived a pump and apparatus, so that his cattle when they come to the trough to drink, tread upon a platform, which gives motion to the pump, and continues it while they remain; supplying the trough with water.

The Petersburg Intelligencer remarks, that the prediction made in Russia, that this season would be the coldest known in 50 years, has proved nearer the truth than any other. The N. England farmer's Almanac, remarks on the coldest week, that the weather would be "pleasant for the season;" and the Virginia and N. Carolina Almanac promised "two or three snows" which have not been observed in this part of the country. So much for Almanac guessing.

Continental Money.—Mr. Burgess, in his speech in Congress in support of the bill for the relief of the surviving officers of the revolution, states, that the several emissions of paper money by the continental congress, from June 22, 1775, to Nov. 29, 1779, amounted to $200,000,000.

We perceive by a Canada paper, that during the absence of a Maj. somebody from his country seat, his daughter—shocking to relate—married a "common person!" The whole "nobility of Canada" are in tears.
