

Western Carolinian.

SALISBURY, N. C. TUESDAY, AUGUST 24, 1827.

[VOL. VIII. NO. 376.]

Valuable Real Estate.

THE subscriber desires to remove to the West this fall, offers for sale his Lands in this county, viz: 850 acres on the North-East bank of the Yadkin river, adjoining the lands of Jesse Hargrave and Jacob Miller, Esq. A large portion of this tract is low ground, acknowledged by all the best judges to be of the best quality of soil on the river, 40 or 50 acres of this has been cleared a number of years, and still yields excellent crops; about 30 acres is now growing its second-crop. There is also about one hundred acres of up-land in cultivation, most of which has been cleared within the last four years; 10 or 15 acres excellent meadow. Near to or adjoining this tract, is another of three hundred and fifty acres.

Another tract, of between five and six hundred acres, lying on both sides the Beatties Ford road, 4 miles from Salisbury, not more than thirty acres at present in cultivation; two thirds of this tract is as good upland as any in the neighbourhood, there is also a large portion of swamp land of the best kind, either for grass or grain. There is on the premises a new and comfortable dwelling-house, nearly finished, with all the necessary out-houses, all new; it is also surrounded with hospitable, social neighbours. In the neighbourhood of this is a tract of one hundred and thirty acres.

Any person desirous of purchasing land in this county, will do well to apply to the subscriber, at an early day. The payments will be made up to the purchaser. 677
July 20th, 1827. GEO. LOCKE.

Valuable Public Sale.

BY virtue of a deed of trust, executed by Thomas Holmes, for the purposes therein specified, will be exposed to public sale, at the house of said Holmes, in the town of Salisbury, on Thursday and Friday, the 23d and 24th days of August next, (it being in the week of Rowan County Court) to be postponed from day to day as may be found necessary, a large quantity of Valuable Household FURNITURE, consisting of Beds, and all other articles necessary for a House of Entertainment. Also, a very valuable COPPER BOILER, suitable for Brewing, &c. which will hold 120 gallons. Also, a Negro Man, very useful as a Butler, &c. A credit of six and twelve months will be given, purchasers giving bond and security.

Also, will be sold or rented, the House and premises, the residence of the late Barabas Krider, dec'd. on Main street, adjoining the jail. Liberal terms will be extended to the purchaser. 576
July 17, 1827. THOMAS MULL.

House and Lot in Salisbury.

WILL be exposed to public sale, on the 21st day of August, inst. (it being Tuesday of August term of Rowan County Court) three elegantly situated Houses, and the lot on which they stand, on main street opposite Mr. ...

For further particulars, apply to Mrs. Elizabeth Todd, or Richard Locke, heirs of the late Thomas Todd. 376
August 9, 1827.

For Sale, or Rent.

MY House and Lot in the Town of Concord. It is a central part of the town, and is a very eligible stand for the Mercantile or any other kind of business, having been advantageously occupied as a Store for many years; there is a good Dwelling, and necessary out-buildings, on the lot, immediately adjoining the store. A great bargain may be had in the purchase of the premises. If not sold, they will be Rented again. For further particulars, apply to MICHAEL BROWN, Salisbury.
January 8, 1826. 44

Sale of Lands for Taxes.

THERE will be sold, at the Court-House in Morganton, on the fourth Monday in September next, the following tracts or parcels of Land, or so much thereof as will satisfy the taxes due thereon for the years 1825 and 1826, to wit: One tract of 125 acres, on the waters of Elk of ...

One other tract, of 180 acres, supposed, in the name of William White and Permenias Taylor, lying in Linville Cove, adjoining a tract of Col. Isaac T. Avery, called Baker's Old Field.
SAM'L. McD. TATE, Sheriff.
July 31st, 1827. 6180

Notice.

WAS taken up and committed to the jail of Rutherford county, on the 19th June last, a negro man who says his name is DICK; he is about 26 years of age, five feet 7 or 8 inches high, strong built, black complexion, full-set whiskers, and stutters considerably in speaking. He says he belongs to David Caldwell, of Newberry District, S. C. The owner is desired to come forward, prove his property, pay charges, and take him away, or he will be dealt with as the law directs.
7181 G. DICKERSON, Jailor.
Rutherfordton, N. C. Aug. 2d, 1827.

Committed to the Jail

OF Wilkes county, on the 20th of May, 1827, a negro man who says his name is SANDY; he is 3 feet 7 or 8 inches high, about 25 years old, very black, speaks quick, has lost some of his upper front teeth rather on the left side, both ears cropped, and says he belongs to James Blackman, Lancaster district, South Carolina, who purchased him in the lower part of this state, and that he left his master below Charlotte. The owner is desired to come and prove property, pay charges, and take the negro away. CHARLES PHELPS, Jailor.
May 31st, 1827. 65

Blank Bank Bonds.

DRAWN after the form recently adopted by the State Bank, for sale at the office of the Western Carolinian. July, 1827.

Sheriff's Deeds.

FOR land sold by order of writs of venditioni exponas, for sale at this office.

Couch Making.

THE subscriber returns his sincere thanks to his friends and the public in general, for the liberal encouragement he has received. And having erected a new and extensive SHOP at his old stand on Main street, a few doors south-west of the Court-House, in the town of Salisbury, N. C. he is now prepared to finish, with the addition of Trimmings and Harness Materials, in the most complete manner at his own shop. He warrants his work to be done well, and in the neatest and most fashionable style, not to be surpassed in any part of the surrounding country.
REPAIRING, of every description, in the above line, will be done on the shortest notice and at the lowest prices.
MARTIN C. PHIFER.
Liveshston, July 2d, 1827. 3177

BOOK BINDING.

THE subscriber respectfully informs the citizens of Salisbury, and the surrounding country, that he has established a Book Bindery in said town, on Main Street, a few doors south of the Court-House; where he will be thankful to receive any kind of work in his line of business. From a number of years experience, in Europe and America, he feels confident of being able to give entire satisfaction to all those who may favor him with any description of Binding.
Blank Books made to order, after any pattern furnished, on short notice, and at prices which no one can complain of.
Old Books Rebound, either plain or ornamental, on the most moderate terms. All orders from a distance, faithfully attended to. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited, by their obedient servant,
JOHN H. DE CARTERET.
Salisbury, April 28th, 1827. 60

V. H. WATTS, Tailor.

CONTINUES the business in the shop lately occupied by Mr. Jacob Ribelin and himself previous to their dissolution, on Main Street, a few doors south of the Court-House, in the town of Salisbury; where he solicits the patronage of the public.
He receives regularly from his correspondent in Philadelphia, the latest Fashions in vogue there and the other Northern Cities; which will enable him to accommodate gentlemen with every description of Fashionable Clothing, made up in the neatest, most durable and stylish style of workmanship, that can be done in the country, and on the lowest possible terms. Domestic cloth made up at reduced prices. Cutting out of all kinds of garments, done on short notice. Gentlemen desirous of procuring garments made up on short notice, can be accommodated with the greatest possible expedition. Grateful for the encouragement extended to the shop, under the firm of Ribelin & Watts, the subscriber here announces that custom heretofore received.
V. H. WATTS.
Salisbury, August 3, 1827. 3176

TAILORING BUSINESS.

THE subscribers having entered into copartnership, for the purpose of carrying on the Tailoring Business, under the firm of HAGUE & HAMPTON, take this method of respectfully informing the citizens of Cabarrus county, and the adjacent country, that they have commenced business in the shop heretofore occupied by Mr. Hague, opposite Mr. Alexander's House of Entertainment, in the town of Concord; where they are prepared to execute all descriptions of work in their line of business, in the most substantial manner, and after the most fashionable styles of workmanship. Having made arrangements for receiving quarterly from Philadelphia, the latest fashions in vogue there, they will be enabled to suit any gentleman with the newest fashioned dress garments, made up after the Patent Protector system of tailoring. Their prices for work, will be as follows:
Fine Cloth Coats, . . . $5 to 6
Homespun cloth Coats, . . . 3
Trowsers, . . . 1 25
Waistcoats, . . . 1 25 to 1 50
The public are invited to try our shop; we only ask a fair trial; if we then fail of satisfying, we are content not to be patronized.
THOMAS A. HAGUE,
WALTER A. HAMPTON.
Concord, July 10, 1827. 878

Look at this!

THE subscribers (Thos. V. Canon and Benjamin Fraley) having this day entered into copartnership in the Tailoring Business, to be carried on in the Shop formerly occupied by Thomas V. Canon, in the town of Concord; this is to inform the citizens of Concord and the adjacent country, that the subscribers have just received the latest fashions, and will continue to receive them as often as there is any change from the cities of Philadelphia and New-York; and are determined to have their work done in a style superior to any in the United States, and on the lowest terms, according to workmanship. Any person wishing work done in their line will please give their shop a trial, and if they fail getting their garments made as prescribed, or fail getting fitted, in the neatest style, they will be paid for their cloth.
All kinds of Cutting will be done at the subscribers' shop; and no pains spared in showing the Ladies how to put their dresses together, after they are cut out. One of the subscribers has gone on North, for the purpose of forwarding the neatest and most approved fashions of the day. The grave can be accommodated at this shop, as well as the gay. All orders from a distance, will be promptly attended to.
THOMAS V. CANON,
BENJAMIN FRALEY.
Concord, July 25th, 1827. 5176

To Bank Dealers.

THE undersigned having been frequently applied to by dealers in the Bank at this place, who reside at a distance, to accept an agency to procure the renewal of their bonds, &c. in Bank, has concluded to offer his services to those who are disposed to confide in him any business of that nature. His charges will be the lowest that are usually made.
Salisbury, July, 1827
PHILO WHITE.

Gen. JACKSON and Mr. CLAY.

FROM THE HARRISVILLE REPUBLICAN.
TO THE PUBLIC.

A letter addressed by me to Mr. Carter Beverly, of Virginia has lately, without my consent, agency, or with my participation, found its way into the newspapers, accompanied by a statement over the signature of H. Clay, contradicting and denying, not any thing I have written, but that which he himself makes me to say. It is not the interpretation given by him to my letter, but my own language and own statement, that I am called upon to defend, and expect to vindicate.

To explain the manner in which my opinions have found their way into the journals of the day, seems, in the first place, to be due both to the public and myself. Mr. Beverly, being on a visit to my house, requested to know of me, other gentlemen being present, whether the overtures heretofore imputed to Mr. Clay, were well founded, and if I had a knowledge of any of the facts myself. I answered him candidly; being unable, as well as unwilling, to refuse telling things I had heard, and knew to be true.

A letter detailing our conversation, shortly afterwards obtained publicity, in the "North Carolina Journal," printed at Fayetteville. On the 15th of May last, from Louisville, Kentucky, a communication, was addressed to me by Mr. Beverly, stating, what before I had not known, that he was the writer of this Fayetteville letter. He explained the reasons for his having repeated the conversation, and requested to be informed, in any thing, he had misquoted or misconceived my meaning. Under such circumstances, concealment, and silence, might have seemed mere affectation, or indeed some thing of a different and even worse character. Publicity having been given to the conversation, and an appeal made to me for its accuracy, I felt it to be due to Mr. Beverly, that nothing of fabrication should be imputed to him, and to myself, that what I had stated should be correctly understood. Accordingly, on the 6th of June, and in reply to his of the 15th of May, I addressed him a letter, and by what means, it found its way into the columns of a newspaper, Mr. Beverly has explained: he stated to me that he gave it into the hands of Mr. Noah Zane, of Wheeling, Virginia, at his earnest request, for perusal, under a pledge of honor that it should be returned; and with no expectation that any copy of it was to be retained; that on his applying for, and demanding the letter, it was refused to be restored until two copies should be made. He proceeds to say

"Mr. Zane, an old and most respectable gentleman, asked the loan of your letter as a favor; and, contrary to all custom and propriety in such cases, he, in conjunction with Mr. Clay and his friends, took copies of it, without my knowledge or privacy in any way, and without asking my leave to do so. Soon as I understood that such was the use they were making of it, I demanded of Mr. Zane the letter, and remonstrated against the unprecedented course they were taking. He refused to restore it to me, most pre-emptorily, until they had satisfied themselves by furnishing to Mr. Clay one copy, and reserving another for their own use."

The original letter, and the above extract of a letter from Mr. Beverly, at Wheeling, dated 25th of May, are presented to show that I have not, as is charged, "placed myself in the attitude of a public accuser," and that whatever publicity has been given to this transaction, has arisen from no agency or procurement of mine; and that Mr. Clay, in fact, has himself held the matter up to public gaze. In doing this, he should have quoted what I had written accurately and fairly; for then, the text and his commentary would have suited together; at present, his contradiction is a something suggested by himself, and is not contained in my letter.

The statement contained in my letter to Mr. Beverly is this: That, in January, 1825, a member of Congress, of high respectability, visited me one morning and observed—"he had been informed by the friends of Mr. Clay, that the friends of Mr. Adams had made overtures to them, saying, if Mr. Clay and his friends would unite in aid of the election of Mr. Adams, Mr. Clay should be Secretary of State; that the friends of Adams were urging, as a reason to induce the friends of Mr. Clay to accede to this proposition, that if I was elected President, Mr. Adams would continue Secretary of State, (in which there would be no room for Kennedy; that the friends of Mr. Clay stalked the West did not wish to separate from the West, and if I would say or permit any of my confidential friends to say, that in case I was elected President, Mr. Adams should not be continued Secretary of State, by a complete union of Mr. Clay and his friends, they would put an end to the Presidential contest in one hour, and he was of opinion it was right to fight such intriguers with their own weapons." This disclosure was made to me by Mr. James Buchanan, a member of Congress from Pennsylvania, a gentleman of the first respectability and intelligence. The evening before, he had communicated, substantially, the same proposition to Major Eaton, my colleague in the Senate, with a desire warmly manifested, that he should communicate with me, and ascertain my views on the subject. This he declined doing, suggesting to Mr. Buchanan that he, as well as himself, could converse with me, and ascertain my opinion; though, from his knowledge of me, he said he could well conjecture my answer—that I would enter into no engagements whatever. It was the morning succeeding this interview, after Major Eaton had objected to converse with me on the subject, before I had set out from my lodging for the capitol, that Mr. Buchanan came to visit me, and when the conversation I have stated took place. The answer returned, has already been published, and need not here be repeated.

To be thus approached by a gentleman of Mr. Buchanan's high character and standing, with an apology proffered at the time for what he was about to remark to me—one who, as I understood, had always, to that moment, been on familiar and friendly terms with Mr. Clay, assuring me, that on certain terms and conditions being assented to on my part, then, by an union of Mr. Clay and his friends, they would put an end to the Presidential contest in an hour," what other conclusion or inference was to be made, than that he spoke by authority, either of Mr. Clay himself or some of his confidential friends. The character of Mr. Buchanan, with me, forbids the idea that he was acting on his own responsibility, or that under any circumstances, he could have been induced to propose an arrangement, unless possessed of satisfactory assurances, that if accepted, it would be carried fully into effect. A weak mind would Under all the circumstances appearing at that time, I did not resist the impression that Mr. Buchanan had approached me on the cautiously submitted proposition of some authorized person; and therefore, in giving him my answer, did request him "to say to Mr. Clay and his friends," what that answer had been. Whether the communication was made to Mr. Clay and his friends I know not; this, though, I do know, that while the opinions and course of Mr. Clay at to the election, were but matter of conjecture with many at, and before this time, very shortly after this conversation took place, his, and his friends' opinion became forthwith matter of certainty and general knowledge." Still I have not said, nor do I say, that the proposal made to me was "with the privacy and consent" of Mr. Clay, nor either have I said that his friends in Congress made propositions to me. These are Mr. Clay's interpretations of my letter to Mr. Beverly, and not what my letter itself contains. What I have stated are the facts of a conversation between myself and a member of Congress of high respectability. The conclusion and inference from that conversation—the time, manner, and all the circumstances, satisfied my mind that it was not unauthorized. So I had thought, and so I still think; and yet I again repeat, that in this supposition I may have possibly done Mr. Clay injustice. If he should be able to sustain the averments he has made, and acquit himself of an agency and participation in the matter, I beg leave to assure him, that so far from affecting me pain, it will give me pleasure. I certainly can have no desire, that the character of my country, through the acts of a prominent citizen, shall rest under any serious imputation; for the honor of that country, I should greatly prefer, that any inference I have made, may turn out to be not well founded.

Mr. Clay declares his great satisfaction, that this matter has at last been brought to light, and to public consideration. He feels rejoiced "that a specific accusation by a responsible accuser has at length appeared." To this a passing notice is due.

It must be recollected, that in consequence of a letter from Mr. George Kremer, in January, 1826, an enquiry was set on foot in Congress upon the application of Mr. Clay himself.

On this memorable occasion, of guilt imputed on the one hand, and innocence maintained on the other. Mr. McDuffie, it will be recollected, submitted for consideration to the House of Representatives, the following resolution: "that the said committee be instructed to enquire whether of State, by a complete union of Mr. Clay and his friends, they would put an end to the Presidential contest in one hour, and he was of opinion it was right to fight such intriguers with their own weapons."

This disclosure was made to me by Mr. James Buchanan, a member of Congress from Pennsylvania, a gentleman of the first respectability and intelligence. The evening before, he had communicated, substantially, the same proposition to Major Eaton, my colleague in the Senate, with a desire warmly manifested, that he should communicate with me, and ascertain my views on the subject. This he declined doing, suggesting to Mr. Buchanan that he, as well as himself, could converse with me, and ascertain my opinion; though, from his knowledge of me, he said he could well conjecture my answer—that I would enter into no engagements whatever. It was the morning succeeding this interview, after Major Eaton had objected to converse with me on the subject, before I had set out from my lodging for the capitol, that Mr. Buchanan came to visit me, and when the conversation I have stated took place. The answer returned, has already been published, and need not here be repeated.

To be thus approached by a gentleman of Mr. Buchanan's high character and standing, with an apology proffered at the time for what he was about to remark to me—one who, as I understood, had always, to that moment, been on familiar and friendly terms with Mr. Clay, assuring me, that on certain terms and conditions being assented to on my part, then, by an union of Mr. Clay and his friends, they would put an end to the Presidential contest in an hour," what other conclusion or inference was to be made, than that he spoke by authority, either of Mr. Clay himself or some of his confidential friends. The character of Mr. Buchanan, with me, forbids the idea that he was acting on his own responsibility, or that under any circumstances, he could have been induced to propose an arrangement, unless possessed of satisfactory assurances, that if accepted, it would be carried fully into effect. A weak mind would Under all the circumstances appearing at that time, I did not resist the impression that Mr. Buchanan had approached me on the cautiously submitted proposition of some authorized person; and therefore, in giving him my answer, did request him "to say to Mr. Clay and his friends," what that answer had been. Whether the communication was made to Mr. Clay and his friends I know not; this, though, I do know, that while the opinions and course of Mr. Clay at to the election, were but matter of conjecture with many at, and before this time, very shortly after this conversation took place, his, and his friends' opinion became forthwith matter of certainty and general knowledge." Still I have not said, nor do I say, that the proposal made to me was "with the privacy and consent" of Mr. Clay, nor either have I said that his friends in Congress made propositions to me. These are Mr. Clay's interpretations of my letter to Mr. Beverly, and not what my letter itself contains. What I have stated are the facts of a conversation between myself and a member of Congress of high respectability. The conclusion and inference from that conversation—the time, manner, and all the circumstances, satisfied my mind that it was not unauthorized. So I had thought, and so I still think; and yet I again repeat, that in this supposition I may have possibly done Mr. Clay injustice. If he should be able to sustain the averments he has made, and acquit himself of an agency and participation in the matter, I beg leave to assure him, that so far from affecting me pain, it will give me pleasure. I certainly can have no desire, that the character of my country, through the acts of a prominent citizen, shall rest under any serious imputation; for the honor of that country, I should greatly prefer, that any inference I have made, may turn out to be not well founded.

Mr. Clay declares his great satisfaction, that this matter has at last been brought to light, and to public consideration. He feels rejoiced "that a specific accusation by a responsible accuser has at length appeared." To this a passing notice is due.

It must be recollected, that in consequence of a letter from Mr. George Kremer, in January, 1826, an enquiry was set on foot in Congress upon the application of Mr. Clay himself.

On this memorable occasion, of guilt imputed on the one hand, and innocence maintained on the other. Mr. McDuffie, it will be recollected, submitted for consideration to the House of Representatives, the following resolution: "that the said committee be instructed to enquire whether of State, by a complete union of Mr. Clay and his friends, they would put an end to the Presidential contest in one hour, and he was of opinion it was right to fight such intriguers with their own weapons."

This disclosure was made to me by Mr. James Buchanan, a member of Congress from Pennsylvania, a gentleman of the first respectability and intelligence. The evening before, he had communicated, substantially, the same proposition to Major Eaton, my colleague in the Senate, with a desire warmly manifested, that he should communicate with me, and ascertain my views on the subject. This he declined doing, suggesting to Mr. Buchanan that he, as well as himself, could converse with me, and ascertain my opinion; though, from his knowledge of me, he said he could well conjecture my answer—that I would enter into no engagements whatever. It was the morning succeeding this interview, after Major Eaton had objected to converse with me on the subject, before I had set out from my lodging for the capitol, that Mr. Buchanan came to visit me, and when the conversation I have stated took place. The answer returned, has already been published, and need not here be repeated.

To be thus approached by a gentleman of Mr. Buchanan's high character and standing, with an apology proffered at the time for what he was about to remark to me—one who, as I understood, had always, to that moment, been on familiar and friendly terms with Mr. Clay, assuring me, that on certain terms and conditions being assented to on my part, then, by an union of Mr. Clay and his friends, they would put an end to the Presidential contest in an hour," what other conclusion or inference was to be made, than that he spoke by authority, either of Mr. Clay himself or some of his confidential friends. The character of Mr. Buchanan, with me, forbids the idea that he was acting on his own responsibility, or that under any circumstances, he could have been induced to propose an arrangement, unless possessed of satisfactory assurances, that if accepted, it would be carried fully into effect. A weak mind would Under all the circumstances appearing at that time, I did not resist the impression that Mr. Buchanan had approached me on the cautiously submitted proposition of some authorized person; and therefore, in giving him my answer, did request him "to say to Mr. Clay and his friends," what that answer had been. Whether the communication was made to Mr. Clay and his friends I know not; this, though, I do know, that while the opinions and course of Mr. Clay at to the election, were but matter of conjecture with many at, and before this time, very shortly after this conversation took place, his, and his friends' opinion became forthwith matter of certainty and general knowledge." Still I have not said, nor do I say, that the proposal made to me was "with the privacy and consent" of Mr. Clay, nor either have I said that his friends in Congress made propositions to me. These are Mr. Clay's interpretations of my letter to Mr. Beverly, and not what my letter itself contains. What I have stated are the facts of a conversation between myself and a member of Congress of high respectability. The conclusion and inference from that conversation—the time, manner, and all the circumstances, satisfied my mind that it was not unauthorized. So I had thought, and so I still think; and yet I again repeat, that in this supposition I may have possibly done Mr. Clay injustice. If he should be able to sustain the averments he has made, and acquit himself of an agency and participation in the matter, I beg leave to assure him, that so far from affecting me pain, it will give me pleasure. I certainly can have no desire, that the character of my country, through the acts of a prominent citizen, shall rest under any serious imputation; for the honor of that country, I should greatly prefer, that any inference I have made, may turn out to be not well founded.

The terms of the Western Carolinian are, $3 per annum—or $2 50, if paid in advance—but payment in advance will be required from all subscribers at a distance, who are unknown to the Editor, unless some responsible person of his acquaintance guarantees the payment.
No paper discontinued, (except at the option of the Editor) until all arrears are paid.
Advertisements will be inserted at fifty cents per square for the first insertion, and twenty-five cents for each subsequent one.
All letters addressed to the Editor, must be post-paid, or they may not be attended to.

Co-Partnership.

NOTICE.—The subscribers having recently formed a connexion for the transacting of a WHOLESALE

Grocery and Commission Business, would respectfully solicit a share of public patronage. Having made the necessary arrangements for the better conducting of a Commission Business; being provided with good Ware-Houses, for the storage of COTTON, a safe, substantial, and well built Boat for the transportation of all produce that may be entrusted to their care, with a pledge that no want of attention on their part in the facilitating of all Commission Business they may be favored with, they flatter themselves with the hope of giving very general satisfaction. Their Ware-Houses are now ready for the reception of country produce generally. Cotton will be received on storage, sold here, or shipped coastwise, if required.

They have now on hand a very general assortment of GROCERIES, with a heavy stock of every article in their line, which is well selected; and which they flatter themselves they will be enabled to offer on as good terms as any House this side of Baltimore.

HORTONS & HUTTON.
Fayetteville, August 1st, 1827. 751f

Medical and Drug Store.

THE subscriber receiving and opening, in Salisbury, a very general supply of MEDICINE, DRUGS, &c. which they offer for sale, wholesale and retail, on terms accommodating to the times.
Arrangements being made at the North, they will be constantly receiving all articles in their line, of the latest importations.

E. WILLEY, having devoted fifteen years to the Practice of Physic, flatters himself that he shall be enabled, by paying strict personal attention to the Apothecary Business, and particularly to the chemical and compound preparations, to please all those who may wish to purchase. Country Physicians, Merchants, & other individuals, are respectfully invited to call and supply themselves, or, by sending their orders, they shall be as faithfully dealt with as by personal application. 65
Salisbury, June 1st, 1827.

GOLD AND SILVER

Patent Lever Watches,

HUNTINGTON & WYNNE have just received from Philadelphia and New-York, an elegant assortment of the above articles.—Also, a good assortment of Military Goods. All of which can and will be sold on the most reasonable terms.
They have a fresh supply of materials, and are well prepared to Repair Watches, &c. All orders shall meet with prompt attention.
Salisbury, May 14, 1827. 62

NAILS for Sale.

THE subscriber, acting as Agent for Mr. Henry Fulewider, proprietor of the Lincolns Nail Manufactory, offers to the public NAILS of all sizes and descriptions, by the keg or quantity, upon terms equally satisfactory as they can be brought from Charleston or any other city to this place. Those wishing to supply themselves, can do so by making application to the undersigned.
EDWARD CRESS, Agent.
Salisbury, Feb. 15th, 1827. 6mt76

Valuable Property.

BEING determined upon removing to the Western Country, the subscriber offers for sale the whole of his valuable possessions, lying on the south side of the Yadkin river, and on both sides of Grant's Creek, adjoining lands of James I. Long, Adam Miller, and others, between 3 and 6 miles of Salisbury, Rowan county, N. C. There is, in all, 1000 acres of Land, a good portion of which is first rate land in the county. On the premises there are a good country dwelling-house, corn-cris, stables, and all necessary out-houses. A sufficient quantity of land is under cultivation, profitably to employ 14 or 15 hands: with a sufficient quantity of excellent meadow ground cleared, to answer all purposes, and a considerable quantity uncleared. The land is susceptible of being, and will be, as may suit purchasers, divided into two or more plantations.

Also, will be disposed of, the subscriber's interest (the half) in the valuable MILLS, known as Long's Mills, on Grant's Creek, between 3 and 4 miles from Salisbury: The subscriber being determined to sell, all the above property, or any part of it, will be disposed of on the most accommodating terms to the purchaser. Persons desirous of purchasing are invited to examine the premises:—which, in my absence, will be shown by my brother, James I. Long, living near Long's Ferry,—or by my Overseer, on the premises.

RICH'D. W. LONG.
Rowan county, July 3d, 1827. 70tf

GOLD WANTED.

HUNTINGTON & WYNNE wish to purchase a considerable quantity of Gold, for which they will give the highest price in cash, on delivery at their silver-smith's shop in Salisbury. May 9, 1827. 62