

which has been generally supposed to possess his confidence. He said most explicitly, that he had not, directly or indirectly consented, and would not consent that his name should be used as a candidate in opposition to that of Gen. Jackson. That any other course on his part would be contrary to principle, a violation of honor and of good faith, and finished by declaring, that the nomination of Gen. Jackson met with his approbation."

Mr. Markley.—We have given the whole of this gentleman's publication in our paper of this week, that our readers may, if they choose, swallow it all at one dose—for the thing won't bear to be taken in "broken portions." It nauseates too soon. That the inquiring reader may know what degree of faith to repose in the statement, we subjoin the following character of the man, from a Philadelphia paper:

Mr. Markley's claims to be considered as a friend of General Jackson, have, contrary to our expectations, been seriously considered by some of our public journals; we presume through ignorance of the character of this fourth rate village politician! It never occurred to us that Mr. Markley's assertion on this point would ever excite any other emotions than derision and laughter! It cannot be denied, that he has always called himself so, and with the same happy indifference to principle and truth, he always called himself a friend to Mr. Crawford—a friend to Mr. Clay—a friend to Mr. Adams—and a Caucasian!! We will do Mr. Markley justice, so far as to declare that we believe him to have been equally the friend of all these opposite parties and candidates—but in fact, friendly to none, save that one which had the power and the disposition to give him an appointment!—And this opinion is confirmed by his political character—a mere village intriguer, with just discernment enough to make party a ladder by which to climb to official competency from the privations of abortive imbecility.

The Legislature.—We learn from Raleigh, that the legislature met on Monday, 19th inst.: in the Commons, Gen. James Iredell was re-elected Speaker; Pleasant Henderson principal clerk, Charles Manly assistant clerk; John Lumsden, door-keeper—Richard Roberts, assistant. In the Senate, Bartlett Yancey was re-elected Speaker; but we have not understood who was appointed principal clerk, in place of Gen. Benjamin H. Covington, dec'd.—nor whether the Gov. delivered his message on the first day.

We understand that John Stanly, Esq. has been induced, from continued indisposition, to resign his seat as a member of the House of Commons from the town of Newbern.

The lamented death of the Public Treasurer, will leave a vacancy in that important office, to be filled by the legislature at its present session. We fear the old incumbent's equal will not easily be found—his superior, the Union cannot produce.

In the next Senate of the Legislature of New-York, there will be 20 Jacksonian to 12 Adams members.

Georgia.—The Augusta Courier, of the 12th inst. says: "A friend in Milledgeville writes us that it is probable the State House will be enlarged, or the Seat of Government removed elsewhere."

The Tarboro' Press says, an apple tree, and also a pear tree, in Halifax county, have both borne fruit for the third time this season. But such success is good for nothing, except to talk about.

A steam-boat is about to be built, to navigate the lower part of the River Roanoke, and adjacent waters.

The Races over the Hillsboro' course, have been postponed until next fall; and it is thought by some, that they are indefinitely postponed.

History of North Carolina.—A resolution was passed at the last session of our legislature, (says the Raleigh Register of the 16th inst) requesting Governor Burton to apply to the British Government, through our Minister, Mr. Gallatin, for liberty to procure for the use of the State, from the office of the Board of Trade and Plantations, in London, such documents as relate to our Colonial history. We understand, that in reply to the application, the Governor has received from our Minister, a very polite letter, informing him of the entire willingness of the British Government to furnish copies of any papers wanted: Indeed, they have been so complaisant as to furnish a list of all the Documents, that Judge Murphey, for whose benefit they are intended, may designate such as he deems necessary.

Snelson, who robbed the Petersburg branch of the Bank of Virginia (of which he was Teller) of $40,000, passed through the city of New-York on the 24th ult. It has been since ascertained, that he arrived at Montreal on the 28th and departed in a steam boat on the next evening. On the 30th, a person arrived in pursuit of him, and departed the same evening in the steam boat Hercules, for Quebec, where he arrived on Thursday night. Twenty-four hours previous to his arrival, a vessel had sailed for Liverpool, in which Snelson was a passenger. On Friday morning, at 3 o'clock, the steam boat Hercules was despatched in pursuit, and proceeded nearly to Kamouaska, ninety miles down the St. Lawrence, below Quebec, when it returned, having been unable to overtake the ship, or even to come in sight of her. The wind was blowing fresh from the westward.

Since the receipt of the above intelligence, we learn that Mr. Wood, police-master of Petersburg, has been despatched to England, and has gone to New-York to take passage for Liverpool, with instructions to apprehend and bring back Snelson, if he be found alive.

LATE FROM ENGLAND.

By an arrival of the ship Richmond at Norfolk, from Liverpool, London papers to the 4th October inclusive, are received. The intelligence they convey, principally relates to Spain, which is likely to become the scene of much confusion, if not of bloodshed—the insurrection in Catalonia had assumed a formidable aspect, and Ferdinand finding force unavailing, has had recourse to stratagem.

In speaking of the characteristic trait of Ferdinand's duplicity, the Editor of the London New Times says—It appears that he is more disposed to trust to his usual weapon—artifice—than to the superiority of his means or the power of his arms to suppress the insurrection in Catalonia. His first attempt is certainly worthy of his inventive genius, but he has employed delusion too often to be able to practise it again with success.

Letters from Saragosa say, that a conspiracy in favor of the rebels of Catalonia had been discovered there: twenty persons of distinction had been arrested, among whom are Major General Aran Frigilio, a Guernica Chief during the time of the constitution; Col. Leon, a Brigadier, and the brothers of Generals Capape and Frefre.

General Monet, on the 14th inst. at Conca del Tren, a large valley about a league from Tarragona, fought an action with the rebels, in which he had two horses killed under him, and was completely beaten. The rebels then drove him into Tarragona, where he has shut himself up with two regiments of royal troops, they are now besieging him in that place.

Two regiments of royal troops, in going through a pass called the Col. de Balaguez, were surprised and cut to pieces by 6,000 insurgents, commanded by a stranger, whose name, and even country, is yet unknown here. The insurgents have lately circulated through out Catalonia, even in Barcelona, a proclamation in the King's name, in which a full and perfect amnesty is granted for all political opinions and crimes to all Spaniards, from 1808 to the present day. It is no longer bands which form the insurrection, but a levy en masse.

Greece.—Brussels papers of the 30th Sept. were received in London. They inform us that Paul Buonaparte, Lucien's second son, had effected his escape from the Roman States, and arrived at Corfu, on his way to Greece, in the disguise of a valet de chambre, to a friend of his, and under the name of Luigi Antonello. Lord Cochrane's nephew having arrived the same day, [16th ult.] from Marseilles, the two young water-walkers intended to sail together the day after for the seat of their future exploits.

PARIS, SEPT. 30.

A report is spread, that the affairs of the Greeks have taken a more favourable turn—that a Russian Consul Gen. to the Greek Government has been appointed, and that Count Capo D'Istria was going to be officially recognized as President of Greece, by the three Allied Powers.

Portugal.—Don Pedro, emperor of Brazil and king of Portugal, has written to the Infant Don Miguel to repair to Portugal and assume the government of that kingdom, in the name of the king.

Death of Treasurer HAYWOOD.

We learn from the Raleigh Register, of the 20th inst. that the venerable JOHN HAYWOOD, Esq. Public Treasurer of the State, which office he has filled for the long term of 41 years, with unwearied devotion and a faithful discharge of its important duties, for which a parallel can scarcely be found. Our peculiar situation, at this period, and our limited time for publication, prevent us from doing justice to the character of this most excellent man. We trust some able pen will, at an early day, furnish us an obituary notice, worthy to be recorded as a lasting memorial of his illustrious character. We cannot, however, let the present short opportunity pass without a brief, but imperfect tribute to his worth, as we have known and felt its influence. "Our good old Treasurer," (a term for a few years most affectionately applied to him by those who knew him and as a consequence loved him) was distinguished alike by his active and passive virtues. His charitable hand was ever extended to the indigent and distressed—his benevolent heart ever open to sympathize with the afflicted, sympathize with the sufferer, and rejoice with those who had cause for rejoicing. His tenderness to his family and his urbanity to all with whom he had intercourse, was proverbial. His forbearance and forgiveness of injuries were in him distinguished virtues—yet few men had so little to forgive on that score, so universally was he beloved—"Goodness and he, fill up one monument," and long will that life be, "who sees his like again."

DIED.

In this town, on the 19th inst. Mr. Naham Dunn, cabinet maker, in the 33d year of his age. He came here from New-Brunswick, New-Jersey: the papers of that place are requested to notice his death.

In Mecklenburg county, on the 6th inst. Mrs.

Margaret Morrison, wife of Mr. W. J. Morrison. She was much beloved while living, and her death is greatly lamented.

In Orange county, on the 18th ultimo, Capt. William Hicks, a soldier of the Revolution.

A short time since, at Williamstown, Mass. Peter Schuyler Putnam, Esq. youngest son of that venerable revolutionary patriot and hero, the late General Israel Putnam, of Connecticut.

In the Forks of the Yaddin, on the 7th inst. Mrs. Ann Baity, wife of Mr. William Baity, in the 34th year of her age.

OBITUARY.

Departed this life, October 30th, at his residence in the county of Burke, Albert Coppening, aged 80 years 6 months 13 days. He was a native of the United Netherlands, in early life he came to this country, frugal and penniless; but by industry, economy and steady habits, he made a comfortable living, raised a large and respectable family, and has left all his children in easy circumstances. The writer of this is well aware of a practice too prevalent at the present day, of giving good characters to all who die, whether they merit it or not, and however immoral their lives may have been, the obituaries represent them as eminently virtuous, and patterns of piety. This amounts to nothing short of flattery to the dead, to gain favor from the living. The deceased was for many years a professor of the religion of Jesus Christ, and a member of the Dutch Reformed Church; and his life was conformable to his profession. As he lived, so he died, a peace with all men, and lamented by relatives and acquaintances. Although his affliction lasted for more than two years, and was often painful, yet he was never heard to complain, and seldom even to groan during this time he was not heard to express a hope of recovering or even a wish to die, but often a desire to depart and be with Christ, which is far better. Being naturally diffident and unassuming, and ever endeavoring to do to others as he would others should do to him, he seldom if ever got into those difficulties that are settled in civil courts. In the arrangements of his temporal concerns, he made so judicious and impartial a disposal of his property, that it is thought a sale is unnecessary, and the legatees all satisfied. For many years he was an acting magistrate in the county in which he resided, and from his judgment an appeal was never taken to court. The close of such a life was (as might be expected) easy. He fell asleep in the arms of Jesus, without a struggle, and we trust he is enjoying that rest which remains for those who love God. His funeral was attended the succeeding day by a large concourse of people, a sermon by Rev. John Silliman, from Psalm xxxvii. 18 and 19: "The Lord knoweth the days of the upright and their inheritance shall be forever; they shall not be ashamed in the evil time, and in the days of famine they shall be satisfied."
