UNITED STATES BANK.
At an election held by the Stockholders of this Bank at their Banking house in Philadelphia, on the 7th and 8th inst. the following gentlemen were chosen Directors for the present year, viz:
Honoré Binney, Matthew L. Bevan,
John Bohlen, John Hemphill,
Henry Pratt, Manuel Eyre,
Thomas Cadwell, Paul Beck, Jr.
Richard Willing, Lewis Clapier,
Henry Toland, Samuel B. Morris,
Ambrose White.

John Potter, of South Carolina,
George Hufman, of Maryland,
Walter Bowne, of New York,
William B. Astor, of New York,
Nathaniel Silbee, of Massachusetts;
Daniel Webster, of Massachusetts.
And at a meeting on the evening of the 8th inst. of the said Directors, with those appointed by the government of the United States, Nicholas Biddle, Esq. was unanimously re-elected President of the Bank for the same period.

From the Camden Journal.
There appears to be some feeling arising in N York on the course of the United States Bank. That institution draws off England at a high Rate of Exchange. It keeps funds there for the purpose of meeting these drafts; and, it is to be presumed, occasionally draws in advance, as in the actual state of the money market in Great Britain, it can command any amount of money. Certainly this measure keeps down the Rate of Exchange; but, at the same time, it must reduce the value of all the marketable produce of the Country. This produce would be shipped to pay the European debts, and hence a higher price would be obtained for it. Surely, this employment of the U. States' capital in Great Britain, and in a manner directly calculated to lower the price of the great staples of the United States, was never contemplated. Having been made the Government Banker, the Bank of the United States has virtually been rendered a monopoly, and the application of its capital in this manner, is, we repeat it, dreadfully oppressive on the Cotton, Tobacco and Rice dealers. It arises from an excessive capital.

NORTH CAROLINA GOLD.
FROM a Report made to Congress, at its present session, by the Director of the United States Mint, of its general transactions during the past year, the following facts appear. The coinage effected within that period, amounts to $3,024,342 32. Of the Gold bullion deposited at the Mint within the last year, the proportion received from Mexico, South America, and the West Indies, may be stated at 76,000 dollars; that from N. Carolina at 21,000 dollars, and that from Africa at 13,000 dollars, leaving about 20,000 dollars derived from sources not ascertained. The whole amount received from N. Carolina, to the present period, is nearly $110,000. This Gold has generally been found to exceed in fineness the standard of our gold coins.
Raleigh Register.

REVENUE OF THE STATE, FOR 1828.
In the report made by Gov. Iredell, as President of the Board of Directors of the Literary Fund, to the legislature, at its recent session, a brief view of what the condition of the Treasury of the State of North-Carolina will probably be on the 1st of July and 1st of November, 18 28, is given; from which we give the following synopsis:
Cash in the Treasury and in Banks,
Dec. 1827, 85,487 83
Estimated amount of Bank dividends, one half receivable Dec. 1827, the other June 1828, 35,361 69
Am't receivable from Sheriffs, for taxes, 67,000 00
Do. for tax on Newbern Bank, 6,137 00
Do. for tax on Cape Fear Bank, 5,938 00
Do. receivable on the Cherokee Land Debt, entry of vacant lands, &c. &c. 10,290 00
Total estimated receipts, 210,353 83
The total estimated expenditures, up to 1st Nov. 1828, (including $36,000 for the late Legislature,) are 102,729 00
Probable balance in the Treasury, Nov. 1, 1828, 107,624 83
Of this sum there will be due and pledged to the Literary Fund, 38,245 50
And to the Fund for Internal Improvements, 37,776 00
76,021 50
Which, deducted from the above sum of $107,624 83, will leave an actual balance of available funds, Nov. 1, 1828, 28,928 33
The State owns 6565 shares of Bank stock, (par value $656,500,) the dividends on 2662 share of which are appropriated to the Fund for Internal Improvements, and on 1141 shares to the Literary Fund.

Com. Porter.—A letter to the Editors of the National Intelligencer, from a friend in Mexico, under date of December 8, 1827 says: "Com. Porter is now with us. He has met with a very flattering reception from the Government, and during next month, when Congress opens its ordinary session, he is to be promoted to the rank of Brigadier General, equivalent to that of Admiral. His little fleet is in Vera Cruz, but will be got to sea as quickly as possible."

Extract of a letter from Vandalia (Illinois) Dec. 8.—"Whatever you may hear to the contrary, Jackson gets the vote of this State."

JACKSON in CABARRUS.
We find it impracticable to publish entire in this week's paper, the proceedings of the Jackson meeting held in Concord on the 31st ult.; and presuming it would be more desirable to delay one week, than divide them, we defer their insertion till our next.

We are advised that the meeting was composed of from 150 to 200 people, most of whom were substantial and intelligent farmers, with some of the hoary headed veterans of '76. Col. Wm. S. Allison was called to the chair, and Washington Harris, Esq. and Capt. Daniel Coleman, appointed secretaries. A committee of vigilance was appointed; and Col. Wm. S. Allison, L. H. Alexander, Esq. Maj. George Barnhardt, Capt. Robert Pickett, and Maj. I. Cannon, were appointed Delegates, to meet the delegation from Mecklenburg and Lincoln counties, at Charlotte, on Wednesday, the 27th of this month, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Jackson and Calhoun Elector for that district. The proceedings shall be published entire in our next.

JACKSON in WILKES.
A very large and respectable meeting of the friends of Gen. Jackson was held in Wilkesboro, on Tuesday, the 5th inst.; at which an able preamble and resolutions were adopted, setting forth the necessity of electing Gen. Jackson as President, and John C. Calhoun as Vice President of the United States. Committees of vigilance and correspondence were appointed, and other measures taken to promote the election of Jackson and Calhoun. After which, Gen. Westfort Stokes was nominated as the Electoral candidate for that district. We expect to get a detailed statement of the proceedings, for publication in our next, or succeeding paper.

Morganton, Jan. 30th, 1828.
At a numerous and respectable meeting of the citizens of Burke county, friendly to the election of Gen. Andrew Jackson as President of the United States, Charles McDowell, Esq. was unanimously called to the chair, and William Roane, Esq. appointed secretary. On motion of Col. David Newland, Hugh M. Stokes, Esq. was requested to prepare an address to the citizens of the United States, on the bad policy of re-electing John Quincy Adams as President of the United States, and the propriety of electing General Andrew Jackson to that office.

Resolved, that we will use all honorable means to secure the election of Gen. Andrew Jackson as President, and John C. Calhoun as Vice-President of the United States.
Resolved, that this meeting recommend to the people of each Captain's company in this county, to elect two representatives, to meet in the town of Morganton, on the Tuesday of March superior court next, for the purpose of taking into consideration such means as may promote the foregoing resolutions.
Resolved, that Col. David Newland, Col. Sam'l. C. Tate, Col. John Kincaid, Col. Alna Burgin, Col. David Baker, Hugh M. Stokes, and William Roane, Esquires, act as a corresponding committee to carry the foregoing resolutions into effect.
Resolved, that the proceedings of this meeting be published in the Raleigh Star, Western Carolinian, and North Carolinian Journal.
CHARLES McDOWELL, Clk.
WILLIAM ROANE, Sec'y.

FOR THE WESTERN CAROLINIAN.
State of North-Carolina, Burke county: January court: Whereas, we, the Grand Jurors for the county of Burke, have looked with moral and political alarm upon the present widely extended prevalence of the high party spirit which is shown upon the Presidential Election at issue before the American people: And whereas, we behold the same with reflections of deep regret, as being dangerous to moral and political safety: therefore,
Resolved, that (as we here withhold any expression of our predilections, for either of the candidates) we deprecate the present high excitement, believing it a dangerous encroachment upon our moral and political HAPPINESS.

Resolved, that we offer our most solemn veto to the imperative dictum of any committee or meeting.
Resolved, that we recommend the free exercise of our elective privileges to be deliberately exercised by a cool reflecting judgment, unbiased by party rage or intriguing design.
Resolved, that the foregoing resolutions be published in some state paper.
Joseph Hays, Foreman, George Copening, William Dyaart, Jacob Keller, William Moore, Jesse Hartley, Elijah Largett, Daniel Jarret, A. H. Erwin, John W. Kibler, David Tate, Jr. Zachariah Downes, Andrew Moore, James Bur-lison, John Dobson, William Sherrill, James Patton.

More Slanders Refuted.—So frequent, and so prodigal, are the slanders on Gen. Jackson's character, that we deem it an act of supererogation to devote time and space to a refutation of them; for most of them bear their own refutation on their face. Among other calumnies, which have recently been propagated against the General, is one which represents him as having, in the spring of 1819, repaired to the lobby of the senate of the U. States, accompanied by his two Aids, for the purpose of inflicting personal chastisement on John W. Eppes, a senator from Virginia, for the part he was supposed to have taken in the Seminole debate, against the General; and that he was prevented from executing his purpose by the interference and threats of Com. Decatur. Gen. Jackson has formally denied this charge; but his enemies still affecting not to put confidence in his denial, as they say he is an interested witness, R. E. Call, one of the Aids who are said (in the slander) to have accompanied the Gen. to the lobby of the senate, has been appealed to on the subject, and has made a publication, denying, unqualifiedly, the whole affair. He says:
"I had the honor to be one of the two aids-de-camp of Gen. Jackson above alluded to; the other, Capt. Richard J. Egster is unfortunately no more, or I am confident he would unite with me most cordially in this statement. I accompanied

Gen. Jackson to Washington City, in the year 1819, during the memorable Seminole debate. I usually attended him wherever he went; and to the best of my recollection and belief, he was not in the Senate Chamber, or the anti-room of the Senate, at any time during this visit. I remember frequently to have heard him invited by the members to visit the Senate while in session, and always heard him decline doing so from motives of delicacy, as his official conduct was at that time a subject of investigation before that body."

"While at Washington I witnessed with the highest gratification, many interviews between Gen. Jackson and Commodore Decatur. The cordiality of feeling, and the respectful deportment of these gentlemen towards each other, was such as might have been expected from the chivalry and generosity of their dispositions."

"Those who know Gen. Jackson, can never give the least credit to this ridiculous tale. He has often yielded to the persuasions and intreaties of his friends, but when in the whole course of his eventful life, was he ever driven from his fixed determination by threats and menaces? All will answer,—never! It is somewhat unfortunate for the author of this strange story, that he should have remained silent, until after the death of the lamented Decatur. This circumstance alone must create the most unfavorable opinion of his veracity; and what man of common understanding can believe, for a moment, that an angry controversy could have taken place between Gen. Jackson and Com. Decatur in the anti chamber of the senate, without its being immediately known to the public; and yet I, as aid de camp of Gen. Jackson, though said to have been present on the occasion, never heard of the occurrence, till informed of it through the medium of the newspapers."

Another calumny, as malignant as it is false, is going the rounds of the administration papers, that Col. Aaron Burr, in a casual conversation, said Gen. Jackson was one of his men—meaning that the General was concerned with Burr in his attempts to excite an insurrection in the West. Col. Burr himself has put down the slander, by declaring that there is no truth in the story. We are curious to know what falsehood the enemies of Jackson will next propagate against him.

Mr. Adams in North-Carolina.—In the legislature of this state, at its late session, out of 197 members, (the whole number) it was estimated that 151 were friendly to Jackson, 43 for Adams, and two neutrals; more than three-fourths of the whole legislature for Jackson! Besides this, our Governor, Treasurer, Comptroller, Chief Justice and Judges of the Supreme Court, the Attorney and Solicitor Generals, most of the Judges of the Superior Court, the two Senators, and the Representatives in Congress with four exceptions, and the great body of the people of the state, are decidedly favorable to the election of Gen. Jackson and Mr. Calhoun.—Such being the case, can any thing but the strongest infatuation induce calculating men to believe or hope that the Adams ticket can, in any contingency, succeed in this state. It is meet and proper, however, that those who conscientiously believe Mr. Adams ought to be continued in office, should have an opportunity of voting; and to insure them this right, it is necessary there should be an Adams ticket: And we are glad there is one, for we can now measure strength with our opponents.

The South-Carolina Legislature adjourned on the 29th ult.—The impeachment of Judge Jones resulted in his removal from office. We have heard of no appointment to fill the vacancy. A resolution was passed for impeaching Judge Waddy Thompson's trial, however, was postponed till next session.

A complimentary dinner was given to Gov. Iredell, on his arrival in Edenton, his place of residence, by the citizens of that town, as a testimonial of their respect for his public and private character.

At North Bridgewater, Mass. a child 3 years old, of Mr. Humphreys, was barbarously killed with an axe, by a man named Daniel Perkins, supposed to be deranged.

The Raleigh Register informs us that a cause was argued before the supreme court of this state, week before last, which has been in litigation 34 years.

The Newbern Bank has declared a dividend of three per cent. on its capital stock for the last six months.

Convention in Virginia.—A bill has passed the senate of Virginia, by a vote of 14 to 10, submitting to the people the propriety of calling a convention to amend the constitution of that state. It is believed the bill will pass the lower house.

A Rattlesnake was killed, while roaming abroad, near Pendleton, S. C. on the 4th of January; which is considered an extraordinary circumstance; as these reptiles usually keep in their dens during the months of December, January, and February. But it is one of the phenomena of this remarkably mild winter.

Two men have lately committed suicide in Philadelphia, by throwing themselves from the Market-street bridge into the Schuylkill river. One was supposed to have been crazy, and the other in love.

The Tariff Bill.—The committee on manufactures presented to the house of representatives, on the 28th ult. a bill for increasing the duties on imports, accompanied by a report on the subject. The bill is very general in its provisions, (says the Journal) and will probably excite a warm discussion.
