

Revolutionary Claims.

An act for the relief of certain surviving Officers and Soldiers of the Army of the Revolution.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled. That each of the surviving officers of the army of the Revolution in the Continental Line, who was entitled to half pay by the resolve of October twenty-first, seventeen hundred and eighty, be authorized to receive, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, the amount of his full pay in said line, according to his rank in the line, to begin with the third day of March, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-six, and to continue during his natural life: Provided, that, under this act, no officer shall be entitled to receive a larger sum than the full pay of a Captain in said line.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, that whenever any of said officers has received money of the United States, as a pensioner, since the third day of March, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-six, the sum so received shall be deducted from what said officer would, otherwise, be entitled to, under the first section of this act; and every pension to which said officer is now entitled, shall cease after the passage of this act.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, that every surviving non-commissioned officer, musician, or private, in said army, who enlisted therein for and during the war, and continued in its service until its termination, and thereby became entitled to receive a reward of eighty dollars, under a resolve of congress, passed May fifteenth, seventeen hundred and seventy-eight, shall be entitled to receive his full monthly pay in said service, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated; to begin on the third day of March, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-six, and to continue during his natural life: Provided, that no non-commissioned officer, musician, or private, in said army, who is now on the pension list of the United States, shall be entitled to the benefits of this act.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, that the pay allowed by this act shall, under the direction of the secretary of the treasury, be paid to the officer or Soldier entitled thereto, or to their authorized attorney, at such places and days as the Secretary may direct; and that no foreign officer shall be entitled to said pay; nor shall any officer or Soldier receive the same, until he furnish to said Secretary satisfactory evidence that he is entitled to the same, in conformity to the provisions of this act; and the pay allowed by this act shall not in any way be transferable, or liable to attachment, levy, or seizure, by any legal process whatever, but shall inure wholly to the personal benefit of the officer or soldier: entitled to the same by this act.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, that so much of said pay as accrued by the provisions of this act, before the third day of March, eighteen hundred and twenty-eight, shall be paid to the officers and soldiers entitled to the same, as soon as may be, in the manner and under the provisions before mentioned; and the pay which shall accrue after said day, shall be paid semi-annually, in like manner, and under the same provisions.

A. STEVENSON, Speaker of the House of Representatives. S. SMITH, President of the Senate, pro tempore. Approved: 15 May, 1826. JOHN QUINCY ADAMS.

Treasury Department, May 28, 1828:

The "Act for the relief of certain surviving officers and soldiers of the revolution," approved on the 15th day of May, 1826, (of which the foregoing is a copy,) will be carried into effect under the following regulations:

Each officer claiming under the act, will transmit to the secretary of the treasury a declaration, according to the form hereunto annexed, marked A, and each non-commissioned officer, musician, and private, according to the form marked B, accompanied by the oath of two respectable witnesses, as to his identity, which oath is to be taken before a justice of the peace, or other magistrate, duly empowered to administer oaths in the state or territory in which he resides, and authenticated under the seal of the court of the county in which the oath was administered, as shown in the said forms.

Each officer will also transmit his commission, if in existence and attainable, and each non-commissioned officer, musician, and private, his discharge; which documents, after being registered, will be returned. If the commission or discharge has been lost or destroyed, he will transmit such other evidence as he may possess or can obtain, corroborative of the statements set forth in his declaration.

If the evidence transmitted, taken in connexion with that afforded by the public records at Washington, be found satisfactory, the amount of two years' full pay, at the rate to which the officer or soldier was entitled, according to his rank in the line, at the close of the war, or at the time of his reduction, (as the case may be,) but in no instance exceeding the full pay of a captain of the continental line, will be transmitted to him, at the place of his residence, after deducting therefrom the amount of any pension which he may have received from the United States since the 3d day of March, 1826. He may, however, authorize any other person to receive it for him; in which case, he will execute a power of attorney, according to the annexed form, marked G, which must be acknowledged before a justice of the peace, or other magistrate, and authenticated under the seal of the court of the county, in the same manner as is already prescribed in regard to declarations. But no payment will be made to any such attorney, until he has made oath, according to the annexed form D, that the pay which he is authorized to receive is intended to inure wholly to the personal benefit of the officer or soldier whose attorney he is.

It is requested that all letters to the Secretary of the treasury, on the subjects, may be endorsed on the cover, "Revolutionary Claims." RICHARD RUSH.

FROM THE N. Y. MERCHANT'S TELEGRAPH, RELIGION.

Like snow that falls where waters glide, Earth's pleasures fade away; They rest on time's restless tide, And cold are, while they stay. But joys that from religion flow, Like stars that gild the night, Amid the darkest gloom of woe, Shine forth with sweetest light. Religion's ray no clouds obscure— But o'er the Christian's soul It sheds a radiance calm and pure, Though tempest round him roll. His heart may break 'neath sorrows stroke, But to its latest thrill, Like diamonds shining when they're broke, That day will light it still.

FROM THE CHRISTIAN VISITANT, THE BIBLE.

"O, Thou Book of sacred treasure, Strange! by mortals so neglected; Source of all that's true of pleasure, All that's good from heaven reflected, Holy truths around us beaming— From thy radiant page divine, Which rivals thee in beauty, Wake our souls from earthly dreaming, Bear them beyond this world's confine. Then how sweet flows on our beings By Almighty love surrounded: Thus the Rock of Ages seeing, Find our happiness unbounded."

TO A WHITE ROSE.

Go to my fair, thou lovely rose, Present to her my duty; And as you on her breast repose, Which rivals thee in beauty, Tell her I found thee in the shade, A lone, retiring blossom; And that thy stem I've thornless made, To guard so pure a bosom.

Tell her that though the wilderness Contained thee blooming lonely, Thy beauty's power was none the less, And that it is not only Within the rude world's ardent gaze, Beauty is worth admiring, But that it rather shuns its praise, And loveliest looks retiring.

Midnight Hymn of the Russian Church.

Why, thou never-setting Light, Is Thy brightness veiled from me? Why does this unusual night Cloud thy blest benignity? I am lost without thy ray; Guide my wandering footsteps, Lord! Light my dark and erring way To the noon-tide of Thy word!

FROM THE UNITED STATES TELEGRAPH, TO THE READER.

Doubtless, I can prove to you, (The proof is strong I'm thinking) That Henry Clay and Johnny Q. Are not averse to drinking. For lately (so goes the tale about) Their spirits gone in toto, They rolled an Empty Barrel out And filled its place with Porter.

If Messrs. Green & Jarvis think the above worth an insertion in the Telegraph, they are at liberty to give it one. The author, though an Administration man, professes liberal feelings towards his opponents, and was by no means pleased at the late appointment of Mr. Harbour. A VERMONTIAN.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A writer in the Black River Gazette suggests a novel experiment for the suppression of Intemperance "at one fell swoop."

"Think-I-to-myself, the other day, it would be best to buy a large quantity of whiskey, and get all the drunkards in town together, and let them drink and drink until they destroyed themselves. They should be shut up in a large yard, like a pound, with a fence four feet high, over which they could not climb; and then be fed in troughs; and they should be always kept there, that they might not go about, as a bad example to sober people. They should have no intercourse with the hogs, or any respectable living being. Parents should go once or twice a year with their children, and look over the fence, and tell their children, "that red faced monster was once a man. But whiskey has changed him into a brute."

Astonishing fact.—There died recently in the town of North Stonnington, Conn. a woman, aged about 40 years, who had been ill a long time, and complained of excessive pain in her heart. She left a request that the physicians who attended her, should examine the cause of her extreme suffering. The request was complied with, and in the centre of her heart, there was found a living worm, an inch and a quarter long, and of large size!

Robinson Crusoe's Island.—The United States ship Vincennes visited the island of Juan Fernandez, off the coast of Chili, a few months since, and remained there three days.—There were two yankees and six Oahaitians on the island. The former had formed a settlement for the purpose of supplying whale ships with fish, poultry and vegetables. The soil is said to be astonishingly fertile.
