

Revolutionary Claims.
An act for the relief of certain surviving officers and soldiers of the Army of the Revolution.
It enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That each of the surviving officers of the army of the Revolution in the Continental Line, who was entitled to half pay by the resolve of October twenty-first, seventeen hundred and eighty, be authorized to receive, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, the amount of his full pay in said line, according to his rank in the line, to begin with the third day of March, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-six, and to continue during his natural life: Provided, that, under this act, no officer shall be entitled to receive a larger sum than the full pay of a Captain in said line.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, that, whenever any of said officers has received money of the United States, as a pensioner, since the third day of March, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-six, aforesaid, the sum so received shall be deducted from what said officer would, otherwise, be entitled to, under the first section of this act; and every pension to which said officer is now entitled, shall cease after the passage of this act.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, that every surviving non-commissioned officer, musician, or private, in said army, who enlisted therein for and during the war, and continued in its service until its termination, and thereby became entitled to receive a reward of eighty dollars, under a resolve of congress, passed May fifteenth, seventeen hundred and seventy-eight, shall be entitled to receive his full monthly pay in said service, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated; to begin on the third day of March, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-six, and to continue during his natural life: Provided, that no non-commissioned officer, musician, or private, in said army, who is now on the pension list of the United States, shall be entitled to the benefits of this act.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, that the pay allowed by this act shall, under the direction of the secretary of the treasury, be paid to the officer or soldier entitled thereto, or to their authorized attorney, at such places and days as the Secretary may direct; and that no foreign officer shall be entitled to said pay; nor shall any officer or soldier receive the same, until he furnish to said Secretary satisfactory evidence that he is entitled to the same, in conformity to the provisions of this act; and the pay allowed by this act shall not in any way be transferable, or liable to attachment, levy, or seizure, by any legal process whatever, but shall inure wholly to the personal benefit of the officer or soldier entitled to the same by this act.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, that so much of said pay as accrued by the provisions of this act, before the third day of March, eighteen hundred and twenty-eight, shall be paid to the officers and soldiers entitled to the same, as soon as may be, in the manner and under the provisions before mentioned; and the pay which shall accrue after said day, shall be paid semi-annually, in like manner, and under the same provisions.

Treasury Department, May 28, 1828:
The "Act for the relief of certain surviving officers and soldiers of the revolution," approved on the 15th day of May, 1828, (of which the foregoing is a copy,) will be carried into effect under the following regulations:

Each officer claiming under the act, will transmit to the secretary of the treasury a declaration, according to the form hereunto annexed, marked A, and each non-commissioned officer, musician, and private, according to the form marked B, accompanied by the oath of two respectable witnesses, as to his identity, which oath is to be taken before a justice of the peace, or other magistrate, duly empowered to administer oaths in the state or territory in which he resides, and authenticated under the seal of the court of the county in which the oath was administered, as shown in the said forms.

Each officer will also transmit his commission, if in existence and attainable, and each non-commissioned officer, musician, and private, his discharge; which documents, after being registered, will be returned. If the commission or discharge has been lost or destroyed, he will transmit such other evidence as he may possess or can obtain, corroborative of the statements set forth in his declaration.

If the evidence transmitted, taken in connexion with that afforded by the public records at Washington, be found satisfactory, the amount of two years' full pay, at the rate to which the officer or soldier was entitled, according to his rank in the line, at the close of the war, or at the time of his reduction, (as the case may be,) but in no instance exceeding the full pay of a captain of the continental line, will be transmitted to him, at the place of his residence, after deducting therefrom the amount of any pension which he may have received from the United States since the 3d day of March, 1826. He may, however, authorize any other person to receive it for him; in which case, he will execute a power of attorney, according to the annexed form, marked C, which must be acknowledged before a justice of the peace, or other magistrate, and authenticated under the seal of the court of the county, in the same manner as is already prescribed in regard to declarations. But no payment will be made to any such attorney, until he has made oath, according to the annexed form D, that the pay which he is authorized to receive is intended to inure wholly to the personal benefit of the officer or soldier whose attorney he is.

It is requested that all letters to the secretary of the treasury, on the subjects,

FROM THE AMERICAN TRAVELLER.
NAPOLEON SLEEP.
SONNET.
The conflict's o'er—the iron crown is riven,
And war hath smooth'd its storm-compelling brow;
The giant spirit from his throne is driven—
The nations to milder sceptre bow;
For he the great magician, lifts no more
The wand of empire o'er embattled hosts,
Nor breaks again his whirlwind battle roar
On earth's wide, thunder-blasted, dreary coast,
Yet like eternal beacon-fires that stream
On night's cold brow of heavy rampart gloom,
The flashings of his deathless actions gleam,
Napoleon sleeps—the star of empire fades,
But his proud spirit spurns the Stygian shades.

THE WORLD'S SEEMING.
All men's intrigues and projects tend
By several courses to one end,
To compass by the properest shows
Whatever their designs propose—
And that which owns their fair pretence
So often found the indirect'st.
Hence 'tis, that hypocrites still paint
Much better than the real saint,
And knaves appear more just and true
Than honest men that make less shew;
The dullest idiots... in disguise—
Appear more knowing than the wise;
Illiterate dunces—undiscern'd—
Pass on the rabble for the learn'd;
And cowards—that can damn and rant—
Pass muster for the valiant.
For he, that has but impudence,
To all things has a just pretence;
And—put among his wants but shame—
To all the world may lay his claim.

MISCELLANEOUS.
FROM THE TRUTH TELLER.
Every man his own Physician.
I take the liberty to hand you, Mr. Editor, the following recipe for publication—it has been found very useful in families during the warm season, and if persisted in, will prove an admirable preventive, and obviate the necessity of using harsher medicine; the writer can safely recommend it to all disposed to make trial of it; and can add, moreover, that it has been used in the family of an eminent physician for several years past; and in his neighbourhood, it is customary in almost every family, to have a demi-john filled with this water and placed in some convenient part of the house, so that all may have access to it; and it is usual for every member of the family to take a glass of it, as regularly as they eat their breakfast; the effect is a fine appetite, and an improved state of health. The qualities of the water are very similar to the celebrated Cheltenham water.

8 oz. Glauber salts.
4 oz. Epsom do.
2 table-spoons full common salt to a gallon spring water.
The dose is one wine glass full put in a tumbler, and filled up with spring water, to be drank half an hour before breakfast, and the same repeated at night, if required.

A good example.—Dr. Macartney, the Anatomical Professor in Dublin, with about fifty other surgeons, have begun the patriotic work of surrendering up their bodies for dissection, by signing, with all due solemnity, an order to their respective executors to that effect.

SCENE.....A country school house.
Boy—S, ee.
Teacher—What does that spell?
Boy—Don't know.
Teacher—What do I do with my eyes?
Boy—Squint, sir.

Learn to hold thy tongue. Five words cost Zacharias forty years silence.
What word is that of one syllable, from which, if two letters be taken, will leave a word of two syllables, both of which are in daily use?
Chuse a wife, as you would a knife, by her temper.

A perverse woman, is like a perpetual blister.
Facts are the flesh of conversation; opinions are the feathers.

Jack-Ketch's Arithmetic.—16 idle knaves make a swindler; 8 swindlers, a housebreaker; 6 housebreakers, a highwayman; 4 highwaymen, a murderer; and two murderers, a dish for the Devil!

Legal Arithmetic......12 lawyers' clerks make an attorney; 10 attorneys, a barrister; 9 barristers, a sergeant-at-law; 8 sergeants-at-law, an attorney-general; 6 attorney-generals, a vice-chancellor; 4 vice-chancellors, a master of the rolls; 2 masters of the rolls, a lord high chancellor; and 2 lord high chancellors, a doubtful piece of business!
