DECEMBER 30, 1828.

THE NEW YEAR True, in her ceaseless course, has brought us to the verge of another year; and ere another number of the Carolinian issues, we shall be tredding on the threshold of the 1829th year of the Christian era. And, although the people of this state are now borne down by a heavy pectitizing pressure, yet we congratulate them that times are no worse; that war, famine, and pestilence," have nor scourged our beloved country; but that an abundance of the fruits of the earth, peace, health and tranquility, have been voucheafed unto us. For which, and innumerable other blessings, spiritual and temporal, our grateful acknowledgements are due to the "Giver of every good and perfeet gift."

Public Executions .- Every day's experience hears evidence to the mischievons tendency of sublic executions of human beings. The New- (Chairman,) Bouligny, Chambers, Noble and fork legislature is about passing a law, or has tridgley. already done so, to do away with bublic hangings. Superstitute of malefactors in as private a manner Chambers.

On Enground Bills.—Mesus. Marks, (Chair-We should be pleased to see such a law enacted in North Carolina, -and, indeed, in every state in the Union. A flood of vice and crime would. in our humble opinion, be thereby stayed.

At the execution of Jesse Upton, in Greensborough, on the 7th ult. for the murder of his wife in Randolph, a great concourse of people attended; and, as usual on such occasions, we presume there was much levity, revelling, and tippling; for a man by the name of Nathaniel Small, was accidentally killed among the crowd. Thus it frequently turns out, that the condemned culprit is not the only person whose life is forfeited, to complete the scene of a public exe-

CONGRESS.

The proceedings of Congress are, as vet, not very important. It will be sufficient for us to notice its proceedings in general terms.

Dec. 9,-In the Senale, various resolutions were passed, and others agreed to; the stapding committees were chosen, which will be found in another column. In the House, this day, numerous petitions and memorials were presented: Mr. Conner's resolution for reducing the duty on salt, was rejected, 99 to 75; the bill to establish the territory of Huron, was sometime under consideration, amended, and ordered to

Dec. 10 .- In the Senate, Rev. North Carolina Militia -By a report to Con- And thus the bank speculated on the honest remedying which, the chairman of the committee (Mr. Potter) proposes to confiscate the whole of the establishments: to appoint commissioners in every county, whose duty it should be, to take an account of the goods, effects and debts of the banks, and settle up the whole by stopping them short. This is a violent plan; and, in my estimation, it would prove a ruinous one. Mr. Fisher has introduced a bill, which, ting medium, save the debtors of the bank from being suddenly ruined, and make the state the guiner if there be any gain in the concern. The bill provides that those who own stock in the present banks, shall receive Scrip for their stock ; this can be transferred from one to another as cash, and no danger of a run on the bank, as it is not redcemable for three years. This would be even better than bank notes, as it would bear

This, they say, exhibits an unbecoming parade and pomp. Now such kind of chat comes with a very bad grace from a party whose leaders are the relicks of aristocracy in our country; who have invariably spoken of Gen, Jackson in derision, because he was not of a high family, and Johnson of Ken. (Chairman,) Ellis, Tyler, Johnson of Lou, and Silbee, son of Lou, and like Jackson, receive any distinguished attention from his republican fellow-citizens: they would fuin make honors and distinctions hereditary in their own families. But even should the carrage in question meet Gen'l Jackson, and his family take passage in it, we will lay our Adams friends a wager, of six-pence against a COFFIN HANDBILL, (if there is a single one of those Supreme Court. -- The following gentleman, in about Salisbury) that the Old General himself mounts Gray Dobbin, and rides outside. From the great preponderance of the agricultural over other interests, the natural conclusion would be, that this Legislature aught to be more strongly marked by a substantial business character, than any other trait; yet the session is likely to be long and talkative. It will be seen hat there is about an equal proportion of Jackson-men, Farmers, and Married men; while the Lawyers, Adams-men, and Backelors, stand in about the same ratio
