STRAYED
 FROM the plantation of the subscriber, on 3d Creek, about the 20th June, a fine Archie Filly, two years old; Her color is sorrel, with white feet. This supposed she made her way to Mecklenburg, but has been taken up. A reasonable reward will be given to any one who will give information to Jno. P. Hodge, or David Allen, in Mecklenburg; or to the subscriber in Salisbury. THOS. G. POLK.
 November 6th, 1829. 3194

WAGONERS,
 Driving to Fayetteville,
 WILL find it to their advantage, to stop at the Wagon Yard, where every convenience is provided for Man and Horse, to make them comfortable, at the moderate charge of 25 cents a day and night, for the privilege of the Yard, the use of a good house, fire, water, and shelter. Attached to the Yard, are a Grocery and Provision Store, Bread Shop and Confectionary, and a House for Boarders and Lodgers, in a plain, cheap, wholesome and comfortable style.—Fayetteville, 1st April, 1828. 10

FOR SALE.
 ONE of the most valuable plantations in the upper country. It lies in the county of Cabarrus, in the fork of Rocky river and Coddle Creek, containing about five hundred and seventy acres of land. The quality of the land is first rate, the soil deep, the surface level. There is about two hundred acres cleared, mostly fresh; a new, convenient and elegant dwelling-house, which cost nearly four thousand dollars, and other buildings suitable to it. The payments for this property can be made easy. Applications as to terms of sale, can be made to R. H. Alexander, in my absence.
 WM. J. ALEXANDER.

20,000 Acres of LAND FOR SALE.
 LYING in the county of Surry, and, as is believed from recent discoveries, within the Gold Region of North-Carolina. This tract was granted by the State, in the year 1795; consists of one continuous survey, adjoining the county line of Wilkes, and extending from the Blue Ridge to within three miles of the Main Yadkin River. It is intersected for fifteen or twenty miles by Mitchell's river, affording an abundant supply of water-power at all seasons, and many sites convenient for the application of this power to the purposes of Machinery. Gold has lately been found in the neighborhood of this tract, but its mineral treasures are in a great measure unexplored. Persons desirous to purchase, are referred to the Editor for more particular information, with whom the plat of this land is deposited.
 Salisbury, June 12th, 1829. 71

Gold-Washer.
 NOTICE, that all persons are hereby forewarned against building, or making use of a Machine invented by Walter S. Pharr & Co. for washing alluvial surface, or river gravel; under penalty of the law in that case provided, as we intend to procure a patent for the same.

POETRY.
 The following beautiful lines are from the pen of the Ettrick Shepherd. They are designed to represent the morning prayer of a maniac who voluntarily became an outcast of the desert.
 Laided bathy name forever,
 Thou canst guard thy creatures sleeping;
 Heal the heart long broke with weeping,
 God of stillness and of motion,
 Of the rainbow and the ocean,
 Of the mountain rock and river,
 Blessed be thy name forever!
 I have seen thy wondrous might,
 Through the shadows of the night,
 Thou who slumberest not nor sleepest,
 God art they thou kindly keepest,
 God of evening's yellow ray,
 God of fender dawning day,
 That spees from the distant sea,
 Like breathings from eternity;
 Thine the flaming spheres of light,
 Thine the darkness of the night,
 Thine are all the gems of even!
 God of angels! God of Heaven;
 God of life that fade shall never,
 Glory to thy name forever!

ROOM FOR THE PROUD!
 BY HENRY
 Room for the proud! ye sons of clay,
 From far his sweeping pomp survey,
 Nor rashly curious clog the way
 His chariot wheels before!
 Lo! with what scorn his lofty eye
 Glances o'er age and poverty,
 And bids intruding conscience fly
 Far from his palace door!
 Room for the proud! but slow the feet
 That bear his coffin down the street,
 And dismal seems his winding sheet
 Who purple lately wore.
 Ah! when must now his spirit fly,
 In naked, trembling agony?
 Or how shall he for mercy cry,
 Who show'd it not before!

WHAT I HATE.
 I hate the tooth-ache, when with maddening jumps,
 Like torrent wild it raves among the stumps;
 I hate the whole dire catalogue of ills,
 Distempers, fevers hot, and ague shakes.
 I hate mad dogs, snakes, dandies, fleas and bugs,
 Tea-parties, wild-cats, toads, and whiskey jugs,
 Hard times, bad roads, spoiled fish, and broken banks,
 Stale news, cold soup, light purse, and lawyers' thanks.
 I hate long stories and short ears of corn,
 A costly farm-house and a shabby barn;
 More ears than pigs, no books, but many guns,
 Sore toes, tight shoes, old debts and paper duns
 I hate tight lacing, and loose conversation,
 Abundant gab and little information;
 The fool that sings in bed and moans in meeting,
 Who laughs while talking, and talks much while eating.
 DON'T YOU.

MISCELLANY.
RICE BREAD.
 A writer in the New York Journal of Commerce recommends rice as a valuable ingredient in the composition of bread. Having seen the subject noticed in an English paper, he was induced to try the experiment, of which he gives the following account:
 "My family reside in the country, and I took an early opportunity to send a quarter of rice to mill to be ground, in the same manner as corn, without bolting. We made an experiment with a pound of wheat flour and a pound of rice flour in the first place—the rice flour having been swollen, or scalded, before it was mixed, by placing it in a clean vessel, with water, over a moderate fire, as rice is ordinarily cooked; and then kneaded in with the wheat flour, wet in the usual way, with milk, in the evening. It was found in the morning so soft, that it was necessary to stir into it four pounds more of wheat flour, to give it the consistency of bread. With this addition the loaves were made, and the result gave us ten pounds of the finest bread I ever saw. It was of snowy whiteness—tender and delicious to the taste, and remained fresh much longer than bread prepared from flour alone. Subsequent trials have satisfied us that one quarter part of rice flour may be profitable to make bread; that the weight is greatly increased, and the quality increased beyond calculation."

CHARITY OF THE EARLY CHRISTIANS.
 Dionysius informs, that the Christians of Rome who were richer than their brethren, sent their alms throughout the earth. Tertullian affirms, that the early Christians created general wonder at their mutual affection.—Eusebius states, that amid the desolations of a dreadful plague at Alexandria and Carthage, the Christians went every where among the infected, and, without inquiring into their religion, dispensed the kindest offices, whilst the other citizens left the sufferers to perish. Just after a severe persecution in the reign of Maximilian, a pestilence swept the empire with tremendous fury. But the Christians now acted unobscuredly to their oppressors, and, fearless of the infection, went among the diseased, nursing the sick with tenderness, and burying their dead, whilst the heathen seemed utterly regardless of their suffering friends. No astonished were the public, that these truly benevolent Christians were openly thanked and celebrated. The profane Lucina ridicules the Christians for their excessive almsdeeds, but his ill-natured satire is a monument to their praise. The apostate emperor Julian exhorts the worshippers of his gods to observe how Christians relieve all poor, whether pagans or pious, while they [the pagans] neglect their very friends. When Christianity prevailed, then arose public structures of mercy. Never till then did the world see a hospital, or asylums for the insane, the aged and the wretched. These and a thousand like them, are now formed wherever our religion sways its bland omnipotence; and an where else!

Since the best way of weeding is to prevent weeds from seeding, the least procrastination of any operation to prevent the semination of noxious vegetation is a source of tribulation, and this, in truth, a fact is, which gardeners ought to practice. And tillers should remember, From April to December.

TRY BEFORE YOU BUY.
 From the York (U. C.) Ado. July 21:
 On last Saturday evening, about ten o'clock, a waggish Yankee knocked at the door of Mr. Savage, the collector of his Majesty's customs for this port, and in the character of an informer, received five dollars for pointing out to him a contraband depot containing five barrels of American whiskey. Down sallied the collector, hired a team for other two dollars, rewarded a sailor with a dollar to roll the barrels out of the lake where they had been hid,—had the seizure carted to the cellar of the King's auctioneers, congratulating himself on his night's work, when Moses suggested to him the propriety of tasting the spirit. He did taste it, and found himself the fortunate captor of five barrels of the pure water of Lake Ontario!

Micajah Bidwood.—An unfortunate man of this name jumped into the creek at Smithful, Virginia, on the 2d of July, in a fit of derangement, and was drowned. His elegy is full of pathos, and runs thus:
 It was at Smithfield, in July,
 Micajah Bidgood bid good-by;
 And, while his mind was very weak,
 He down'd himself all in a creek.
Bad in Grain.—One Jeremiah Grain is posted in a Virginia paper, as having patrolled that State, seduced the affections and gained, married and deserted in succession. Blight and mildew, say we, to such grain.

1814, Jan. 11, Allies cross the Rhine,
 Mar. 30, Battle of Mortmartin before Paris
 April 11, Bonaparte abdicates the throne
 May 8, Arrives at Elba, a small island lying between the coast of Italy and the island of Corsica
 1815 Mar. 1. Sails from Elba for France
 30 Arrives at Paris and re-assumes the throne
 23, Napoleon is declared an outlaw by the sovereigns of Europe then assembled at Vienna.
 April Calls a new Chamber of Peers and Chamber of Representatives of the French people.
 June 16, Defeats the Prussians
 18 Loses his army at Waterloo
 21 Abdicates the throne a second time
 July 22, Surrendered himself to an English ship of war off Rochefort
 Arrives at Torbay—Coast Devon's Bay where the Prince of Orange disembarked in 1688: N. E. of Dartmouth two leagues.
 Aug. 7, Sails for St. Helena.
 Oct. 17, He arrives at St. Helena.
 1831 May 5, He died of a cancer in the breast
 Bonaparte's exact age when he made his exit, was 51 years 10 months and 10 days.
 Note.—St. Helena lies in the South Atlantic Ocean, 16° 10' S. lat.—distant from the African coast 930 miles, and from the continent of America 1750, to the nearest land on both Coasts.

Gardener's work for Oct., November.
 Gardeners are apt to suspend the use of the hoe, and other means of keeping the upper hand of weeds too early in autumn. In consequence of this piece of negligence, purslane, pig-weed, couch grass, and other vegetable intruders, give a very troublesome practical exemplification of the old adage, that "Lazy folks take the most pains." Every weed which escapes extirpation, becomes the parent of a numerous progeny of pestiferous plants, which spring up like the heads of the Hydra of fabulous lore, and monopolize the soil at the expense of every thing which is good for any thing. Let, therefore, the provident tiller recollect, that a scratch of his hoe in time, will save nine. But, we will give a little rhyming (not poetry) on this subject, with the hope that the similarity of sounds, at the close of our couplets, will aid the memory of those for whose use the maxims are intended:

MARKS OF A HORSE.
 One white foot, buy him;
 Two white feet, try him;
 Three white feet, deny him;
 Four white feet and a white nose,
 Take off his life, and give him to the nose.
