REMOVAL.
 WADE W. HAMPTON, Tailor, respectfully informs his friends, and the public, that he has removed into the new and convenient Shop on Main street, formerly occupied by Messrs. Revell & Templeton, and more recently by Mr. S. Lowry; where he continues to carry on the Tailoring Business.

 In all its different branches. He employs the best of workmen, and receives the Fashions regularly from the North; which will enable him to execute all kinds of work in his line in the most fashionable style, and substantial workmanship, and on the lowest possible terms.
 Garments Cut out, on short notice, and at low prices. All orders for work from a distance, promptly attended to, according to directions. Most kinds of country produce will be received at the market prices, in payment for work.
 He solicits a continuance of that patronage hitherto so liberally extended to him, and hopes, by the style of his work, and his exertions to please, to merit it. W. W. H.

Fall & Winter Fashions.
 THE subscriber begs leave to inform his friends and the public, that he has just received the Fall and Winter Fashions, from Philadelphia and New-York, accompanied by drafts of all the various styles and colors now in vogue in those cities; and having in his employ the best of workmen, he is enabled to make every description of Men's Garments, as well as Ladies' Habits, in a style of workmanship equal to any in the state, and which he will warrant to fit well. His terms are as low, for first rate work, as any body else's; and he pledges himself to do his work as expeditiously as it can be done any where else.
 All kinds of Garments Cut, on short notice, and reasonable terms.
 All orders for work, from a distance, will be promptly attended to, and returned according to directions.
 Having accepted an Agency from Mr. Allen Ward, I am prepared to teach his Protractor system of Tailoring. BENJAMIN FRALEY.

20,000 Acres of Land FOR SALE.
 LYING in the county of Surry, and, as is believed from recent discoveries, within the Gold Region of North-Carolina. This tract was granted by the State, in the year 1795; consists of one continuous survey, adjoining the county line of Wilkes, and extending from the Blue Ridge to within three miles of the Main Yadkin River. It is intersected for fifteen or twenty miles by Mitchell's river, affording an abundant supply of water-power at all seasons, and many sites convenient for the application of this power to the purposes of Machinery. Gold has lately been found in the neighborhood of this land, but its mineral treasures are in a great measure unexplored. Persons desirous to purchase, are referred to the Editor for more particular information, with whom the plat of this land is deposited.
 Salisbury, June 12th, 1829. 71

FOR SALE.
 ONE of the most valuable plantations in the upper country. It lies in the county of Cabarrus, in the fork of Rocky river and Coddle Creek, containing about five hundred and seventy acres of land. The quality of the land is first rate, the soil deep, the surface level. There is about two hundred acres cleared, mostly fresh; a new, convenient and elegant dwelling-house, which cost nearly four thousand dollars, and other buildings suitable to it. The payments for this property can be made easy. Applications as to terms of sale, can be made to R. H. Alexander, in my absence.
 WM. J. ALEXANDER.

State of North-Carolina:
 To the Sheriff or other returning Officers for the counties of Utham, Davidson, Randolph and Rowan:
 WHEREAS a vacancy in the representation from this State in the House of Representatives of the United States, has been occasioned in the 10th Congressional District, by the resignation of John Giles, Esquire: Now therefore, know ye, that by virtue of the power and authority in me vested, by the Constitution of the United States, you are hereby commanded and required to cause polls to be opened and held, on Thursday the 3d day of December next, in your respective counties, at the places established by law, for an election of a Representative to fill the vacancy aforesaid; and that you meet on the Thursday following, at the courthouse of Randolph county, for the purpose of comparing said polls, and ascertaining for whom the greatest number of votes shall have been given in said district, as by an act of Assembly in this case is made and provided; and that you cause due return thereof to be made to this Office.
 Given under my hand as Governor, and under the great seal of the State, at the City of Raleigh, this 29th day of October, A. D. 1829.

POETRY.
 FAREWELL.
 When eyes are beaming,
 What sever tongue might tell;
 When tears are streaming
 From their crystal cell;
 When hands are link'd that dread to part,
 And heart is met by throbbing heart,
 Oh! bitter, bitter is the smart
 Of them that bid farewell!

AFFECTION'S TEAR.
 There is a tear more pure and bright
 Than even morn's first blushing light;
 It sparkles with milder glow,
 Than sunbeams on the wroten snow;
 It is a purer, sweeter gem,
 Than ever breath'd on rose-bud stem;
 Oh! yes, 'tis even lovelier far,
 Than evening's first and lovely star;
 For 'tis that holy sacred tear,
 Affection claims her offspring dear.

MISCELLANY.
 What'er you do, or think, or dream,
 Our mastey paper sees for its theme.

DOMESTIC MANAGEMENT.
 Young farmers, beginning house-keeping, are apt to sink too great a proportion of their capital in furniture, riding horses, carriages, &c. and often live up to or beyond their income. Farmers, to be sure, should live quite as well as other men, of the same property; and they have the means of living better than others, possessing the same nominal income; so far as the substantial comforts of life are concerned. But small savings are of great consequence to persons just setting out in life. A cent a day, is $3: 65 a year. Ten cents a day, (a moderate allowance for dram drinkers,) is more than $36 a year. A prudent farmer will do well, every cent he lays out for trifles relating to his daily expenditures which can be dispensed with, without an essential abridgement of his comforts, to calculate, in his own mind, what that suit would amount to in a year. The aggregate will be greater than he could have anticipated without the aid of arithmetic.
 N. E. Farmer.

Luther.—In Dwight's recent Tour thro' Germany, it is stated that the traveller meets with an object of much interest in the town of Eisleben; viz: a dwelling very humble in its external appearance, almost as much so as that of Shakespeare upon Avon, and bearing the inscription over the door,—"This is the house in which Luther was born." You enter the door, you find yourself in the middle of a small school, the teacher of which very civilly accompanies you to two upper apartments, which are kept sacred to the memory of Luther. The walls are hung with pictures, ancient and grotesque; and the rooms contain chairs, tables and other decaying relics of their former possessor. A swan of full size is carved in wood, which stands erect on a table with the wings a little spread. After satisfying your curiosity, and taxing the attentive schoolmaster with various questions, you write your name, with ink from Luther's inkstand, in an Album upheld by the wings of the swan, and depart. The house has been purchased by the King of Prussia and is presumed to be as nearly in its primitive state as possible. No family resides in it, and it is only used for accommodating the little school.
 Ral. Reg.

Burmese Paper.—Three descriptions of paper are used by the Burmans. The first is a domestic manufacture, made from the fibres of the young bamboo; this is a substance as thick as pasteboard, which is rubbed over with a mixture of charcoal and rice-water; thus prepared, it is written upon with a pencil of steatite, as we write on a slate. The impression may be blotted out with the moistened hand, and the paper is again fit to be written upon. This process, if the paper be good, may be often repeated. Another sort is strong white blotting-paper, and is universally used for packages, for the decorations of coffins, and for making ornaments offered to the temples, and exhibited at festivals. The Chinese import stained paper, also used for ornaments offered to the temples, and for decorating coffins.
 Crawford's Ava.

It is worthy of notice that so learned a scholar as Dr. Doddridge makes use of the phrase "pretty considerable."

Count Diebitzsch.—A late German paper gives the following description of the personal appearance and habits of Gen. Diebitzsch, the great Russian General, which may be interesting to our readers.
 Count Diebitzsch is small in person, and nearly of the same stature as Napoleon; he resembles him likewise in many military qualities. Those who have an opportunity of being near his person are lavish in their praise of him; and speak in the highest terms of his fitness for a commander; his activity; his circumspection; his presence of mind; the acuteness of his observation; which derives advantage from the most trifling fault of his adversary. He sleeps but four hours out of twenty-four, and passes the greater part of the night in dictating orders, or on horseback, to reconnoitre the outposts and making dispositions for the next day. His meals are extremely frugal, and of the shortest possible duration. In social intercourse he is the polished Courtier; kind and affable to his inferiors; and he never fails to take particular notice of military men of any grade, who have in any way distinguished themselves.

Walking Fish.—A fish called the Hassar, in the West Indies, possesses the singular property of travelling over land, which it invariably does when the pools it inhabits become dry. It is said that these fish will travel a whole night in search of their object, at the rate of three miles an hour, and they effect their search by the use of their elastic tail, with which they throw themselves forward on their arms, or front fins. The Indians say these fish carry a supply of water within them for their journey, for their bodies are always wet, and if wiped dry they speedily become moist again. The Hassar makes a regular nest, in which it lays its eggs, and guards it very carefully until the spawn is hatched.
 Key West Register.

Liberia.—In a note to the short address of Bishop White, (says a Philadelphia paper) is a most interesting fact, and one full of promise. It states that the Colonists have established friendly relations with so many of the neighbouring native Chiefs, that they have sent into Liberia as many as a hundred of their children to be educated. The fact is an evidence how well founded is the expectation that Liberia will do more for the civilization of Africa than has heretofore been done by the whole civilized world.

Prize Tragedy.—Mr. E. Forrest, having offered a premium of $500 for the best new tragedy on an American subject, the prize was awarded to Mr. John A. Stone, for a piece entitled Metamora. The Boston Courier informs us that Mr. Stone was a native of Stoneham or Woburn, Mass. and served an apprenticeship to an umbrella-maker in Boston. About ten years since, he turned his attention to literature and the stage.

Excessive use of Sulphur.—Professor Olmstead, in a geological excursion in North Carolina, met with a patient who was enduring the most excruciating pains, with his body emaciated, his knee joints grown out in excrescences, knees drawn together, and so helpless that he could not move a limb without aid. On inquiring into the cause of his disease, he learned that it was occasioned by taking enormous doses of sulphur, recommended to him by a quack to cure the rheumatism. He had taken six pounds of sulphur.

Human Life.—The result of researches in different parts of France, England, the Netherlands, Switzerland, and Russia, has been to shew, that out of a hundred men in those countries, only about twenty-five arrive at the age of sixty years. Mountainous countries, whatever may be their latitude, are those in which life is of the greatest duration.

A decree of the King of Denmark provides that "every deaf and dumb infant, born in the Kingdom, shall receive the education necessary to render him a useful member of society."

The Hiccough.—Keep a dog fasting for eight or ten hours, then lay it on its back and pour some cold water on his stomach, the hiccough will immediately be produced. The same will occur with other animals. This experiment was made by Ouvier.

The Duke of Wellington is said to have expressed himself upon the late military operations of Count Diebitzsch:—"I don't know which is to be the most admired, the original plan of the campaign, or the combination of skill, courage, and caution with which it has been conducted; but this I do know, that this single campaign places Diebitzsch at the very head of his profession."

A few days since, in the family of a poor person, in one of the southern streets of Philadelphia, a child was born without a mouth. The preservation of its life, if possible, was deemed a duty, and every thing was done that appeared conducive to this object, but at the end of five or six days, the infant died.

Potatoes.—It is stated in a French Journal, that potatoes may be preserved fresh, firm and well flavored for two years, by burying them in the earth to the depth of three and a half feet.

"The pearls and precious stones, the silk and gold, with which a coquette so studiously bedecks herself, are as transparent varnish, which makes all her defects the more apparent."
 [Chinese Maxim.]

Church and State.—The state of Maine has recovered judgement against the Mariner's Church of Portland, for $1100, on account of stone furnished for the building, from the state prison.

A most horrid murder was recently committed within five miles of Attapas, Louisiana. Wm. Holmes Firth, a young man aged about 21, killed his sister and her child, the first by beating her with his fist and striking her head on the floor, and the last by knocking its brains out against a post of the house where they resided.

Wooden Nutmegs.—The Hartford Mirror cautions the public, particularly at the South and West, against buying cast iron axes, finished so as closely to resemble cast steel ones, a number having been sent simultaneously to New York and other places.

Scrofula.—Iodine has recently been administered, with great success, in the French hospitals in scrofulous disorders.

Lorenzo Dow.—This eccentric and celebrated individual, was, a few days ago, preaching at Springfield, Massachusetts.

A French paper mentions a singular case in the annals of gallantry; an old soldier, 72 years of age, deliberately committed suicide, in a fit of despondence caused by the unsuccessful termination of a love affair.

M. Shionville has announced in a French paper, that he has succeeded in making malleable glass.

It is stated that the mulberry is grown in such quantities in the county of New Haven, Connecticut, as to produce 50,000 dollars worth of sewing silk annually.

Junius.—The North-American Review just published, contains a review of a small book printed last year in this city, entitled "Junius unmasked," in which it was attempted to show that Lord George Sackville was the author of those celebrated letters under that signature. We do not perceive that the reviewer anywhere directly declares his conviction of the fact; but we infer from the general tone of his remarks, and manner in which he speaks of the arguments of the work under review, that he has no doubt of Lord Sackville being the real Junius. He does not admit that any one of all those who have been named as the author can have the slightest claim to the credit, except that nobleman and Sir Philip Francis. Horne Tooke's pretensions are not even named. There is something worthy of consideration in his concluding paragraph.
 Boston Courier.

An iron boat, built by the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, made a voyage last week from Mauch Chunk to Trenton, and back to Easton up the channel of the Delaware, to the entire satisfaction of her owners.

Roman Catholics.—It was ascertained at the recent Council of Bishops held in Baltimore, that the Roman Catholic population was over half a million, in the United States.
