

THE EDITOR.
That Editor who wills to please,
Must humbly crawl upon his knees,
And kiss the hand that beats him;
Or if he dare attempt to walk,
Must use the mark that other's chalk,
And cringe to all that meets him.

... says one, your subjects are too grave—
Too much morality you have—
Too much about religion.
Give me some witch or wizard tale,
With slipshod ghosts, with fins and scales,
Of feathers like a pigeon.

I love to read, another cries,
Those monstrous fashionable lies—
In other words those novels:
Composed of kings, and queens and lords,
Of border wars, and Gothic hordes,
That used to live in love.

No—no, cries one, we've had enough
Of such confounded love-sick stuff.
To craze the fair creation;
Give us some recent foreign news,
Of Russians, Turks—the Greeks and Jews,
Or any other nation.

The man of drilled scholastic lore,
Would like to see a little more,
In scraps of Greek and Latin,
The merchants rather have the price
Of southern indigo and rice,
Or India silks and satin.

Another cries I want more fun;
A witty anecdote or pun,
A riddle or a riddle;
Some long for missionary news,
And some of worldly carnal views,
Would rather hear a fiddle.

The critic too, of classic skill,
Must dip in gall his gender quill,
And scrawl against the paper;
Of all the literary fools,
I read in our colleges and schools,
He cuts the silliest caper.

Another cries, I want to see
A jumbled up variety—
Variety in all things—
A miscellaneous hodge-podge print,
Composed—only give the hint,
Of multifarious small things.

I want some marriage news, says one,
Is constitutes my highest tone,
To hear of weddings plenty,
For in a time of general rain,
None suffers from a draught, his plain—
At least not one in twenty.

I want to hear of death, says one—
Of people totally undone,
By losses, fire, or fever;
Another answers full as wise,
And rather hear the fall and rise
Of raccoon skins and beaver.

Some signify a secret wish
For now and then a savory dish
Of politics to suit them;
But here we rest at perfect ease,
For should they swar the moon was cheese
We never should dispute them.

Or grave or humorous; wild or tame,
Lofty or low, 'tis all the same,
Too haughty or too humble,
And every editorial wight,
Has naught to do but what is right,
And let the grumblers rumble.

VARIETY.

Gun Locks.—The New Hampshire papers describe a newly invented percussion gun lock, which is so constructed as to discharge the gun sixty times with once priming. The inventor is George W. Morse, son of Rev. B. Morse of Doverhill, a lad of 17 years of age. The lock is entirely concealed within the stock, which is of the common form, with the exception of a trigger and guard, the latter being divided into two parts, one of which is moveable, and drawn back when the gun is cocked, and serves as the hammer by which the percussion is produced. Boston Daily Advertiser.

Sir B.—An Irish knight was married to the daughter of Lord C a connexion of which the knight was somewhat proud. Boasting of this union once to a friend, he observed that his lordship had paid him the highest compliment in his power. He had seven daughters, said he, and gave me the oudest—and he tould me too that if he had an oudder I should have her.

"I am absolutely afraid," said the Duke of Buckingham to Sir Robert Vane. "I am absolutely afraid that I shall die a hepper." "At the rate you go on," replied Sir Robert, "I am afraid it will be worse.—I am afraid you will live one."

Thompson's System
DOCTORS
LEA & SMITH.

I HAVE recently located themselves, on the South Yaddin, in Iredell Co. N. C. and in the neighborhood of Glasscock's Mills and Griffin's store, on the place, formerly owned by Wm. Dyson, where they intend practising MEDICINE upon the above system. They may at all times be found at their residence, except when professionally engaged. They are aware of the prejudice of some people against this system, it being new and unfashionable; but upon a fair trial both in acute and chronic diseases, such as Fevers, Spasms, Loeljaw, Bite of a Mad Dog, Fits, Poison, Hectic, Dropsy, Consumption, &c. together with Surgery and Obstetrics, they flatter themselves that these prejudices will be removed. No poison either Mineral or Vegetable is used as a medicine. Every due attention will be paid to those who, patronize them with charges very accommodating to the times.

$25 REWARD.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, on the 8th of April last, a negro Girl about 27 years of age, of yellow complexion, with a scar above her eye. Said Girl has an only female child in Chatham county, belonging to a gentleman by the name of Hiram Clarke. She is in the habit of passing herself under the appellation of Free Louisa. She will doubt endeavor to get into the neighborhood of her daughter, if she is not under the direction of some white person, which is more than probable, as here are circumstances which induce me to believe so. The above reward will be given to any person who shall return the said girl to me, or lodge her in any jail, so that I get her; and fifty dollars will be given to any one who shall detect the person harboring her, so that he may be brought to justice. S. T. LEWIS GILL.

Runaway

ON the 10th of September last, from my plantation in Jones county, two negroes, one named WASHINGTON, about 27 years of age, a very bright mulatto, on one of his hands there is a scar occasioned by a gin; he will change his name and endeavor to pass for a free man. The other named JOHN, a common mulatto, about 20 years of age, very intelligent; he will probably pass as the servant of Washington, and change his name. A reward of 25 Dollars will be given for the delivery of either in any jail, so that I can get them.
