

POETRY.

From the Patriot and Shield. AN INVOCATION

On the apprehended approach of the Cholera. Stay, oh stay! thine avenging hand, Thou God of mercy, Justice, might;

VARIETY.

PATRIOTISM IN THE WEST. An Indian paper states that one Peter Altheiser, a member of Captain Yessers' company of militia, a few days previous he cut off the fore finger of his right hand in order to avoid military duty.

Good and Bad Eating. "Gude morning, Pat, an' ar ye goin up the Hudson this morning?" "Yes, Jemmy."

Pleasures of Memory. A lady of fashion at Paris said lately to her chambermaid who was dressing her - "How weary I am of this mourning!

A gentleman of this city, the other day, speaking to another of having attended the funeral of one of his acquaintances was asked in the usual way of exclaiming, "Is he dead?"

Gratitude. John Brogner, Bishop of Geneva, was a survivor in his youth. Being one day at Geneva, he went to the Tarconerie to purchase a pair of shoes, but found upon examining his scrip, that he had not sufficient money.

In a recent trial before the Court of Common Pleas in New Bedford the counsel for the defendant in urging upon the jury the importance of maintaining the strictest order in a school, the responsibility of the instructor, narrated a short anecdote, which has before appeared in print, of a master who was sent for to take charge of a school where the pupils were proverbial for their disobedience.

A Genuine Member. "Haste ye and gie me something," said a man in black as he hurriedly entered a drug-shop, a few days ago; "I have something here," laying his hand on the upper button of his vest, "that sadly troubles me; an emetic, an emetic," he cried out, surprised that the druggist was not in great haste as himself. The druggist fearful he had taken arsenic, administered the desired emetic, which soon produced its usual effects. The man in black then felt more at ease to answer the druggist's questions. "Have you taken arsenic?" said the druggist. "No," said the man in black, "but I was at a funeral, and thinking the service was wine, I drank my glass off, but have since found it was rum, and as a member of the Temperance Society, my conscience could not feel at ease till I had got the ruinous stuff ejected."

Sheep vs. Babies. Crossing a neighboring enclosure, a few days since, we encountered a little archer about twelve years of age, whose daily business it was to watch and protect a large flock of sheep, and who, in the bargain, was encumbered with the care of a small child not remarkable for gentleness of disposition. Finding him not in a very pleasant mood, which seemed to be occasioned by the turbulent spirit of the 'little one,' we took the liberty of inquiring which was the lesser trouble of the two - the care of the sheep or the child? The lad raised up his hands, and exclaimed in the most earnest manner - "I'd sooner, zur, mind forty than one baby!"

A very extraordinary phenomenon has been observed at Valenciennes, in France, in the grounds of two bleachers, which are more than 600 yards from each other. The linen laid out to which has become as red as if it had been dyed with blood. The water with which the linen was dressed has been analysed, and found not to contain the least acid. When the Colera became extinct this coloring ceased. A chemist of the town attributes to the effect of certain acid exhalations, from whence he supposed the Cholera proceeded.

The Quaker and the Broker. An honest gentleman, of the dry coat and broad beaver, went a day or two since, into a broker's office, in Wall street, to get a bank note changed.

The dealer in money, glancing his eye over the note exclaimed - "This is counterfeit, sir."

"Verily," replied the Quaker, "I am of thy opinion, for I took it of thee yesterday." It was changed without more words.

LAWYER'S

LAWYER'S

Passed at the first Session of the Twenty-Second Congress.

No. 34.

AN ACT supplementary to the Act for the relief of certain surviving officers and soldiers of the revolution.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That each of the surviving officers, non-commissioned officers, musicians, soldiers and Indian spies, who shall have served in the continental line, or State troops, volunteers or militia, at one or more terms, a period of two years, during the war of the revolution, and who are not entitled to any benefit under the act for the relief of certain surviving officers and soldiers of the revolution, passed the 13th day of May, eighteen hundred and twenty-eight, be authorized to receive, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, the amount of his full pay in the said line, according to his rank, but not exceeding in any case, the pay of a captain, in the said line; such pay to commence from the fourth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-one, and shall continue during his natural life; and that any such officer, non-commissioned officer, musician, or private as aforesaid, who shall have served in the continental line or State troops, volunteers or militia, a term or terms in the whole less than the above period, but not less than six months, shall be authorized to receive out of any unappropriated money in the Treasury during his natural life, each according to his term of service, an amount bearing such proportion to the sum granted to the same rank for the service of two years, as his term of service did to the term aforesaid; to commence from the fourth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-one.

Sec. 1. And be it further enacted, That no person, receiving any annuity or pension under any law of the U. S. providing for revolutionary officers and soldiers, shall be entitled to the benefits of this act, unless he shall first relinquish his further claim to such pension; and in all payments under this act, the amount which may have been received under any other act as aforesaid, and the date at which the payments under this act shall commence, shall first be deducted from such payment.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the pay allowed by this act shall under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, be paid to the officer, non-commissioned officer, musician or private, entitled thereto, or their authorized attorney, at such places and times as the Secretary of the Treasury may direct, and that no foreign officer shall be entitled to said pay, nor shall any officer, non-commissioned officer, musician or private, receive the same until he furnish the said Secretary satisfactory evidence that he is entitled to the same, in conformity to the provisions of this act; and the pay hereby allowed, shall not in any way be transferable or liable to attachment, levy, or seizure, by any legal process whatever, but shall inure wholly to the personal benefit of the officer, non-commissioned officer, musician or soldier entitled to the same.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That so much of the said pay as accrued before the approval of this act, shall be paid to the person entitled to the same as soon as may be, in the manner and under the provisions above mentioned; and the pay which shall accrue thereafter, shall be paid semi-annually, in the manner above directed; and, in case of the death of any person embraced by the provisions of this act, or of the act to which it is supplementary, during the period intervening between the semi-annual payments directed to be made by said acts, the proportionate amount of pay which shall accrue between the last preceding semi-annual payment, and the death of such person, shall be paid to his widow, or if he leave no widow, to his children.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That the officers, non-commissioned officers, musicians or marines who served for a like term in the naval service, during the revolutionary war, shall be entitled to the benefit of this act, in the same manner as is provided for the officers and soldiers of the army of the revolution.

A. STEPHENSON, Speaker of the House of Representatives. J. C. CALHOUN, Vice President of the United States and President of the Senate. Approved June 7, 1832.

ANDREW JACKSON.

AN ACT for the benefit of the Alexandria canal company.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Treasury be, and he is hereby, required to pay to the President and Directors of the Alexandria Canal Company, or to such officer of said company as they may empower to receive it, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, to be applied to the construction of an aqueduct across the river Potomac, at or near Georgetown, in the District of Columbia; which sum shall be paid, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, (such times and in such proportions (having a due regard to the progress of the work,) as the President of the U. S. may, from time to time, direct. Approved, June 25, 1832.

AN ACT establishing land districts in the Territory of Arkansas.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That there shall be four land districts in the Territory of Arkansas, to be called as follows, viz: the Arkansas land district, the White River land district, the Red River land district, and the Fayetteville land district; and each of the aforesaid land districts shall be bounded as follows, to wit: the Arkansas land district shall include all the country embraced within the following boundaries: beginning on the west bank of the Mississippi river, at the mouth of the St. Francis river, and running thence due west with the base line to the northeast corner of range six, township one north, and south of said base line; thence, due north with the dividing line between ranges five and six, to the northeast corner of township seven, north of said base line; thence, due west with the dividing line between townships seven and eight, to the northwest corner of range seventeen; and thence due south with the dividing line between range seventeen and eighteen, to the Mississippi river. The White river district shall include all the country south of Missouri, which is not included in the Arkansas land district above described, and east of the dividing line between ranges seventeen and eighteen, as extended from the northwest corner of the said Arkansas land district, to the State of Missouri. The Red river land district shall include all the country in Arkansas lying west of the Arkansas land district, and south of the base line. The Fayetteville land district shall include the residue of the Territory of Arkansas, being all the country lying north of the Red river district, and west of the Arkansas and White river districts.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the land office for the Arkansas land district shall be at Little Rock; the land office for the White river district shall be at Batesville; the land office for the Red river district shall be at the town of Washington; and the land office for the Fayetteville district shall be at Fayetteville.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury, as soon as the same can be done, to cause the proper plates of the surveys to be deposited in the proper land offices.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That for each of the said districts created by this act, a Register and Receiver of public moneys shall be appointed, who shall give security in the same manner, and whose duties and authorities shall, in every respect be the same, in relation to the lands which shall be disposed of at their offices, as are by law provided in relation to the Registers and Receivers of public moneys in the several offices established for the sale of the public lands. Approved, June 25, 1832.
