Anful Catastrophe.—The New York Radiator of Saturday, contains an article from the Constitutional del Canea, stating that in the month of July last, while Mass was being celebrated in the Church of Sigchos, near Tacuana, in the Republic of Ecuador, South America, on the day of the solemn festival del Corpus, fire was communicated to the building by means of a rocket, and that in the rush of the audience to the door, it became shut, and the whole CONGREGATION PERISHED IN THE FLAMES, except the Curate who escaped through the window!! The number of lives lost was estimated at more than FIVE HUNDRED, besides children.

RAILROADS.
We are pleased to see the interest which the citizens of some of the lower counties take upon the subject of Railroads. We should be better pleased, however, to see their efforts directed to one, which could be called North Carolina, than to the one from Petersburg to Weldon. The latter will doubtless be of incalculable benefit to the people of that particular section of the State, but it cannot be so to any large portion of our people.

The Editor of the Examiner is now and will be, absent for two or three weeks. The paper will be left in the hands of a gentleman every way qualified for its management.

WILL THEY NEVER BE SATISFIED!
There seems to be a class of men in the United States, who are never willing to see the country, and particularly the South in a state of tranquility. No sooner has peace and harmony been restored among the different sections of the Union, by a satisfactory adjustment of the vexed question of the Tariff, than attempts are making to inflame the public mind, by stirring the Slave question. There are fanatics in some of the Northern States, (and they have allies among us) who are now using every effort to excite the public mind, and to create jealousies in the different sections of the Union, by publishing inflammatory pieces upon this subject. The people of the South ought to be on the alert. This is a question, which they alone must decide. Its agitation at this time can be of no benefit to those who are not interested in it. We hope the honest and reflecting part of the community at the North, will therefore, frown down every attempt to create any excitement upon the subject.

VIRGINIA WILL BE HERSELF AGAIN.
Every mail brings us the most gratifying accounts from the land of Democracy. Virginia is fast tearing from the necks of her sons, the degrading collar of slavery. They step and Thomas Ritchie & Co. fastened it around their necks; They are awakening to cast it off again. The last Richmond papers contain an account of the proceedings of the citizens of Charles City, at a dinner given to the Hon. John Tyler, the bold and fearless champion of the rights of the States.—They breathe a spirit of Patriotism worthy of Virginia's best days. The flame is kindled, as it cannot be stopped till the "Commonwealth" is disenthrallled from its present slavish condition.

Dialogues on the relation which the STATES bear to the FEDERAL GOVERNMENT.
BY HENRY WELDON.
AND ON THE POWERS OF THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT.
Question. When were the Governments of the several States established?
Answer. They were established at various periods, long before the revolutionary war, while these States were yet colonies—each acknowledging allegiance to the crown of Great Britain, but in all other respects separate and distinct from each other, each governing itself within its own territorial limits, and having no other political connexion with one another than a common dependence on the Mother country.
