CURIOUS EXPERIMENT ON A RATTLESNAKE

The following curious facts respecting the rattlesnake, are from a letter of Judge Samuel Woodruff...

Sometime in the month of August I went with Mr. T. K. Ireland, and Dr. C. Dutton...

Young Ladies for sale.—In one of the Cicuttia newspapers, the following advertisement appeared:—“Be it known that six fair pretty young ladies...

Persian story.—Sadi the Persian, tells a story of three sages, a Greek, an Indian, and a Persian, who, in the presence of a king of Persia, debated on this question:—“Of all the evils which is the greatest?”

A good sized sheet of Paper.—At a dinner given on Monday evening last, by M. P. Dixon Hardy, to the workmen employed in his establishment...

to find with the trial thus far made... I laid by the white ash...

I now presented him the sugar maple. He landed in a moment striking his head into a surf of leaves...

Being now convinced that the experiment was a satisfactory one, and fairly conducted on both sides...

Marriages in America.—The conditions of life being perfectly equal, parents have nothing to oppose to the choice their daughters may make of a husband...

was covered by a single sheet of paper, measuring in length one hundred and twenty-five feet, by five in breadth...

ALMOST CATCH'D.—There is somewhat of a moral attached to the following story...

One day as the lowering heavens threatened a coming storm, the old man said to his speculating son...

That's a whopper, said Jack to himself—“now I guess as how that creature would make a breakfast for all hands tomorrow morning...

“Father's calling and the rain beginning to fall—I guess the pickerel's worth more than the hay...

“The rain now began to pour, and the old man continued the calls—but Jake, sure of his prey, poised his pitchfork steadily...

“Termination take you!” exclaimed Jake, as he saw the pickerel darting down the stream...

Fishing Cats.—Many instances have been recorded of cats catching fish. M. M. J. of Jesmond, near Newcastle-upon-Tyne, had a cat in 1820...

There is now at the battery, on the Devil's Point, a cat, which is an expert catcher of the finny tribe...

Having procured the best Materials from the North, and employed a Workman who comes well recommended...

“What letter is that?” vociferated an impatient pedagogue to a pupil who had not yet become versed in the mysteries of the Roman alphabet...

Hard Bargain.—A jolly devotee to B. echus, was a few days since found by a friend in a recumbent position against a pile of boards...
