

can at one moment see a very striking likeness between a vessel and a cloud, and the cloud and a whale, just as it pleases the Prince.

Such is the result of that corrupting system which stimulates more than any other circumstance, the present administration—a system of rewards and punishments distributed and inflicted with regard only to the consideration whether the persons to be favored, or proscribed, have yielded up the privilege of thinking for themselves, and have become the passive instruments of men actuated by motives the most selfish and constructed.

We indulge the hope that when he, whose will has been the law, shall have left the stage, and when the panic produced by the late threatening aspect of our affairs shall have disappeared, the public mind will settle down into a dispassionate state, favorable to unprejudiced reflection which must result in the restoration of political principles, now almost obsolete, in practice, but essential, as we believe, to the preservation of our Union and our liberties.

THE ALBANY REGENCY Etc.

Most of our readers we presume have heard of the ALBANY REGENCY. We invite their attention to the sketch of the origin, progress, and present state of that party, drawn by the masterly hand of one who is not only acquainted with its outline, but has studied, with a peculiar tact, all its minute characteristics, and has portrayed them, we doubt not, with equal skill and fidelity.

To which we allude is from the pen of Major Noah, and will be found in a column of this paper.

Major Noah tells us, what indeed was foretold by many, that another convention is to be held in the same way that the Van Buren Reformation Convention was two years ago. For this purpose the drill and recruiting officers of the Regency have been constantly and industriously engaged in their respective vocations, and this season the great review of parade and inspection will take place which, it is calculated, will strike terror into the hearts of those who are opposed to the success of the party, and inspire the true subjects with a confidence and a zeal which must secure their success.

We believe that the ensuing election will be one of critical importance: if the Regency party should succeed, in electing their candidate, before the recurrence of another election they will have their plans so well arranged that the elective franchise, so valuable to freedom, will be in idle mockery, and elections will, at best, afford but an occasional holiday for the people to meet and talk, about the simplicity of their government.

By the by, it was a happy thought of the facetious Major Downing to compare the "Government" as it is now administered, to the simplicity of Peleg Bissell's churn, its machinery may, now be easily kept in good order, and nothing more is necessary to make it perfect but one of Mrs. Patten's patent soap for the purchase of which we hope Mr. Chilton or some other friend of reform will move an appropriate law at the ensuing session.

THE SLAVE QUESTION.

On our second page will be found an extract from a speech lately delivered by the Hon. E. Whittelsey of Ohio, on the subject of slavery. It is gratifying to see men of influence and talent exerting themselves to check the head strong current of fanaticism, which threatens the most awful calamities to this country, it may be feared, if such men at the North, where the disease has showed itself, so make timely check, but if permitted to spread without any opposition there, it will eventually acquire a fatal ascendancy.

Mr. Noah too in his prospectus, speaks on the same subject in language at once prudent, and just to the South: he likewise pays a merited tribute to the patriotism and sound patriotism of the southern people, as evinced on great occasions when such virtues were of the utmost importance to the country.

U. S. BANK—PUBLIC DEPOSITES.

We announced, last week, the fact that the President, who has virtually assumed the powers of the whole government, had determined to transfer from the United States Bank, all the public money, and deposit it in the State Bank.

The Washington papers inform us that the transfer was to have commenced on the first of the present month.

Mr. Cass, the Secretary of the Treasury, who alone could legally remove the Public Deposits, is so negligent not to foresee the effects of such a measure, and the honest and independent testimony of a subscriber to another, and a number of his prescribed duties, firmly opposed, and accordingly has been dismissed to make room for a more pliant tool, which the President has found in the person of Mr. Taylor, the Attorney General.

The act of Congress chartering the Bank of the United States, provides—

"That the deposit of the money of the United States in places in which the said Bank has Branches thereat may be established, shall be made in said Bank and Branches thereat, unless the Secretary of the Treasury shall be satisfied otherwise, and direct in which case the Secretary of the Treasury shall in detail, by State Congress, if in session, and otherwise by the President, the reasons of such an order and direct."

By this clause the Secretary is vested with the exclusive authority to make a different disposition of the public funds: in order to give this authority, the President has substituted Mr. Taylor for Mr. Dallas.

All the high-handed acts of the President, in considering all the circumstances, is the result of a very striking likeness between a vessel and a cloud, and the cloud and a whale, just as it pleases the Prince.

Such is the result of that corrupting system which stimulates more than any other circumstance, the present administration—a system of rewards and punishments distributed and inflicted with regard only to the consideration whether the persons to be favored, or proscribed, have yielded up the privilege of thinking for themselves, and have become the passive instruments of men actuated by motives the most selfish and constructed.

We indulge the hope that when he, whose will has been the law, shall have left the stage, and when the panic produced by the late threatening aspect of our affairs shall have disappeared, the public mind will settle down into a dispassionate state, favorable to unprejudiced reflection which must result in the restoration of political principles, now almost obsolete, in practice, but essential, as we believe, to the preservation of our Union and our liberties.

CIRCULAR.

NEW ESTABLISHMENT.

At Cheraw, So. Carolina.

THE Subscribers beg leave to inform their friends, and the public, that they have entered into Co-partnership, under the firm of Magnamara, Phelan & Co.

And to open a Mercantile establishment in CHERAW, S. C. on the 1st October next.

OUR STOCK will comprise all the leading articles necessary for the country, which we will sell at the lowest prices, and our purchases will extend to all descriptions of country produce, for which we will pay the highest prices.

MR. JOHN MAGRATH, for many years largely established as a Factor & Commission Merchant in Charleston, has started his STEAM BOAT, LIBERTY, on the Pee Dee River, to which City we act as Agents, which will give us advantages and facilities, that few possess. It will enable us to pay the highest prices for produce, and also to keep constantly on hand a full supply of every article necessary for the country, and to sell at very reduced rates. The necessary funds for the purpose of advances, will be held ready, to anticipate the wishes of such as may please to entrust their business to our care, and should the Planter or Merchant desire to try the Charleston market, in preference to Cheraw, we will forward their produce the first opportunity that offers, by the Steam Boat, to Mr. John Magrath, by whom every exertion will be made to effect prompt and advantageous sales.

MAGNAMARA, PHELAN & Co. N. B. We have extensive Ware-Houses in Cheraw, where Produce consigned to our care, will be stored and forwarded to Charleston, agreeable to order. Also, Goods for Merchants and others, will be received and forwarded as directed, by the first opportunity that offers.
