Proposals for Publishing, In the Town of Morganton, N. C., A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER, TO BE DEVOTED TO Politics, Morality, Literature, and General Intelligence, UNDER THE TITLE OF The Mountain Sprout.

IN looking around in search of an eligible situation for the establishment of himself in business, with a reasonable prospect of receiving and imparting benefit by his labors, the attention of the Subscriber has been fixed on Morganton, the County-Town of Burke. He was swayed, in this choice, by the consideration that it is located in the heart of a country celebrated for its healthfulness, and inhabited by a community intelligent, liberal, and high-minded, who see the want and know how to appreciate the benefit to be derived, by themselves as well as their posterity, from the establishment of a Free Press in their midst.

As the first inquiry, upon a proposal of this kind generally is, What will be the political character of the paper? the Subscriber will give an answer without the least reserve.

Born and educated in Virginia, his earliest as well as his matured feelings and convictions are decidedly in favor of those political principles cherished by his distinguished fellow-citizens who have presided over the destinies of this great Republic.

He believes that the celebrated Virginia and Kentucky Resolutions had Reports of 1798 and 1799, which were drawn up, by those great statesmen and patriots Madison and Jefferson, contain a true exposition of the rights of the States and of the relative powers of the General and State Government.

He thinks that the surest way to avoid collisions would be by adhering to a literal construction of the Constitution, and by abstaining from the exercise of any power, whether it be by the General Government or by the States, that is not clearly delegated to the former, or evidently reserved to the latter. The constructive power, as it is called, is more to be dreaded than open force, because its encroachments are so silent and gradual as to excite little or no apprehension, while at the same time they are undermining the very foundations of our system.

He thinks that nothing can justify an infraction of the Constitution. One slight breach will open the way for another, and that for a third, until every restriction loses its original strength, and we become tributary to encroachments. On this subject, as on many others, the admissions of the great and good Washington are judicious and salutary—"Precedents," said he, in his Farewell Address, "are dangerous things; let every violation of the Constitution be suppressed. If defective, let it be amended, but not suffered to be tripped upon while it has an existence."

The Subscriber has witnessed, with painful anxiety, the abuse of precedents, which have been made to fritter away the Constitution, until in some instances, a section of implying power must cease, or our noble form of Government will soon be radically and perhaps irrevocably changed.

At present, the danger from this source is much more threatening than it has ever been in any former period, because those in power, who resort to precedent and construction, unfortunately possess, or have possessed, so much popularity, that their aggressions are overlooked by a generous People, and who, instead of regarding the confidence of their constituents by scrupulous fidelity to their trusts, seem forgetful of every thing but the gratification of their unfulfilled ambition or their morbid passions.

Enough has been said to indicate what will be the complexion of "The Mountain Sprout" in regard to general politics.

As to State concerns, it will advocate a speedy alteration of the Constitution, a liberal system of Internal Improvements, an enlightened course of Agriculture, and every thing else calculated to advance the prosperity and honor of the State's adopted State.

A due portion of the paper will be devoted to Religious, Moral, Literary, and other useful subjects, together with the passing News of the Day, both domestic and foreign; and some of the leaves of our Sprout shall be always tipped with such extracts of the Poet's and Wit's imaginative efforts, as will afford to its patrons "Variety" which is "the very spice of life." Nothing will be rejected which is calculated to improve the understanding of the heart, while every thing of an opposite tendency shall be excluded from its columns.

The Subscriber hopes that this first SPROUT of a plant fatal to tyrants, that has ever attempted to rear its head within view of the Table Rock, will not be suffered to perish in the bud, but that it will receive such a degree of public care as will enable it to grow into a great tree, spreading its branches and shedding its leaves from the Atlantic even unto the great river, the river Mississippi.

TERMS, &c.

- The first No. of "The Mountain Sprout" will be issued as soon as the requisite number of subscribers can be obtained to warrant the making of the necessary arrangements for that purpose; and the undersigned would appeal to the friends of the proposed undertaking to enrol their names at an early day.
- It will be printed once a week, upon a sheet of medium size, with new type and on good paper, at Two Dollars per year, payable on the receipt of the first number.
- Responsible persons who will take the trouble to act as Agents, in procuring subscribers, &c., will be allowed 10 per cent. upon their transactions.
