GRAND JURY PRESENTMENT. The undersigned, Grand Jurors for the County of Rowan, having discharged the duties belonging to them in their public capacity, feel unwilling to separate from their respective homes without expressing their gratification at the act of the late General Assembly providing for the call of a Convention.

Those whose only aim is power, whether they live in the East, or in the West, may not be satisfied with all the provisions of the Act, for the plain reason that they who now have all the power will lose a part of it if the Constitution should be amended, while those who have none, but wish to get all, will only get a reasonable portion.

IN considering the propriety of calling a Convention, under the provisions of the Act, we fear some will be opposed to it, because perhaps they are not satisfied with all its features.

WE think that the proper question is whether we might be bettered by the acts of the Convention. And, in considering this, let us all bear in mind that the Convention will be limited by us—the people;—that, if they propose any change that we do not like, we have the power to reject it, and keep things as they are.

SOUTHERN CITIZEN. THE subscriber proposes to publish, in the town of Greensborough, North-Carolina, a splendid, superior, imperial newspaper bearing the above title.

1. Agriculture. It shall be our business to glean, from the floating mass, all such experiments and suggestions as may serve to enlighten our citizens on this practical science.

2. Internal Improvement. In regard to commercial facilities by water, nature seems to have frowned upon us; but she has left us rich in the means of internal communication, by rail roads and locomotives.

3. Education. The maxim in all despotic governments, is, "The more ignorance the more peace." But with us, intelligence and virtue are the very pillars on which our institutions are based.

4. General Politics. In regard to the constitutional powers of the general government, we are neither a strict constructionist, nor a latitudinarian. It is true that there are constructive powers to be exercised under the constitution; but death and desolation to that policy which would add anything to it, or take ought from it by construction!

Advertisements, not exceeding twelve lines, will be neatly inserted three times for one dollar, and twenty five cents for each continuance.

vants, "knowing the will of their master"—the public—"and doing it not," shall be "beaten with many stripes!"

6. Literature. Here is an immense field open before us, in which our readers shall ramble unconfined. We shall exchange for the richest gems of literature, wit and sentiment, both in Europe and America; and with the assistance of a few literary correspondents of the first order...

7. News. The world is at this time in awful commotion. Tyrants look upon the march of liberty and tremble: The accumulated gloom of centuries is rapidly retreating before the stately steps of truth: Millions of people, who once licked the dust from the feet of their sovereigns, are now trampling crowns under their feet...

8. Variety. The above subjects will be suitably interspersed with biographical sketches, humorous anecdotes, interesting tales, poetical selections, &c. We would also set apart a separate head in our paper for the ladies, but they would insist on having a tongue in it, and to this we would by no means consent...

These are perilous times; and a responsibility, awful as the tomb and extensive as eternity, hangs over every man who shall take upon himself the management of a newspaper; because public opinion is measurably formed from the tone of the press—the action of the people depends upon opinions previously formed...

Before we will relinquish our right to think, speak, print, and publish, our own deliberate opinions, in relation to public men and public measures, we will renounce existence itself. Take away our rights as a free man, and life has no charms for us!

TERMS.—The "Southern Citizen" will be published once a week, on a large imperial sheet, with a new press and new type. The first number to issue as soon as two thousand subscribers are obtained.

No paper will be sent beyond the limits of the State, without the subscription money in advance. The difficulty of collecting small sums at a distance renders an adherence to this rule absolutely indispensable.

Advertisements, not exceeding twelve lines, will be neatly inserted three times for one dollar, and twenty five cents for each continuance. Those of great length in the same proportion.
