The Report of the Irwell County Temperance Society came to hand too late for this week's paper...

A Sweet Story.—If we did not receive the following from very good authority, we should be somewhat slow to believe it...

On the President's resuming his seat, and the applause of the Convention having ceased, Mr. Carson, of Burke, rose and said...

From the Prayer offered up by the Rev. Dr. McPheeters, at the close of the Convention, we take the following extract:

And now, O Lord, as the business of this Convention is drawing near to a close, follow with thy blessing whatever has been done in accordance with thy will...

"Give to the people of this State, before whom its amended Constitution will soon pass in review, wisdom, that they may be directed in their final action thereupon."

"Deliver them from passion, prejudice, and all unreasonable prepossessions. May they approach the question before them with honest, liberal, and enlightened views, and decide thereon calmly, conscientiously, and in the fear of God."

"And when this body, now in session, shall have adjourned, conduct them all in safety to their respective places of abode, there again to meet in circumstances of comfort, their families, their friends, and their constituents."

[FOR THE WESTERN CAROLINIAN.] ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ROWAN COUNTY TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.

SALISBURY, July 4, 1835. The Society met this day, according to adjournment, in Mr. Vogler's Grove, and was opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. Lockridge.

After the minutes of the last meeting were read, the Delegates representing the Auxiliary Societies were requested to report themselves, when the following persons appeared and took their seats, viz: From Unity and Franklin—Samuel Martin, Esq., Capt. G. Culbertson, and Messrs. Jesse Martin, Thomas Kincaid, and Jesse Kincaid.

The Committee of Invitation reported, that the following gentlemen had been invited by them to be present at this meeting, viz: Rev. Messrs. Spear, Graber, Ballard, and Irwin; His Excellency Governor Swain; His Honor Judge Settle; and General Graham, and Lenor.

The Committee appointed to obtain the opinions of the Physicians of this county, on the effects of Ardent Spirits upon the human System, as their report, read a paper of a very interesting character, and highly favorable to the principles of the Society...

The Constitution being amended so as to have 12, instead of 3 Vice Presidents, the Society proceeded to appoint its officers for the ensuing year, which are as follows: Thomas L. Cowan, President.

The Annual Report of the Society was read and adopted.—(Report states, there is in this County 10 Societies, and 313 members.) Gen. Cook and Col. Lenor were appointed Delegates from this Society to attend the Annual Meeting of the State Society to be held at Raleigh in December next.

Resolved. That the thanks of the Society be presented to those Medical Gentlemen who have favored us with their opinions relative to the effects of Ardent Spirits upon the human Constitution.

13. The American Fair: Our matrons, the mothers of men, their daughters will have none but men for their husbands.

VOLUNTEER TOASTS. By Col. Isaac T. Avery, President of the Day. Col. William Folk: His native State will cherish the memory of a son who, in action was bravest of the brave...

By Gen. Newland, (sent.) Liberty, the gem without price, the her-beam of our inheritance—Union, the strong box of its safety, secured by the bolts of the Constitution: To transmit the one you must defend the other.

By Mark Brittain, Marshal of the Day. Our distinguished countryman, Hugh L. White: Honest, patriotic, and capable, he is emphatically the candidate of the people, and not a self-created and irresponsible candidate.

By J. C. P. Gaither. Henry Clay, Kentucky's imperishable monument: Twice, by his transcendent talents and overpowering eloquence, has he succeeded in restoring harmony and peace between the discordant members of the North and South.

By J. C. Smith, Esq. Hon. William Gaston: Amiable and accomplished as a gentleman and scholar, able and profound as an advocate and jurist, enlightened and interested as a statesman and philanthropist; as a Carolinian we are proud to own him as our countryman.

By J. C. P. Gaither. Henry Clay, Kentucky's imperishable monument: Twice, by his transcendent talents and overpowering eloquence, has he succeeded in restoring harmony and peace between the discordant members of the North and South.

By R. V. Meacham, Esq. Martin Van Buren: The shafts of detraction and calumny that have been levelled against him seem to make his virtues shine the brighter. If the choice of the people, may be our next President.

By David P. Kibler. Martin Van Buren: May he attain the first honor in the will of the American People; and may he long live for the good of his friends, that his deeds may be worthy of eulogizing.

By J. W. R. Oneal. Martin Van Buren: Ratified on parchment by the artist of the country; may he be literally mole-fied by the American People at the next Presidential Election.
