FALL & WINTER FASHIONS,
FOR 1835.

HORACE H. BROWN,

BEGS leave to inform his friends, and the public in general, that orders in his line will always be thankfully received by him, and executed in the most Neat, Fashionable, and Durable manner—on terms as reasonable as any in this section of country. H. H. B. hopes, from his long practice of his business, (a number of years of which time he resided in the city of Philadelphia,) and from the general satisfaction he has heretofore given to his numerous respectable and fashionable customers, to merit and receive a portion of the patronage of the public in general.

He flatters himself that his CUTTING is really superior to any done in this State, as may be tested by the undisputed elegance of fit which attends garments made in his establishment. He is in the regular receipt of the Reports of the Fashions as they change both in the large cities of this country and of Europe—so that gentlemen may be satisfied that their orders will always be executed in the very latest style.

Orders from a distance will be attended to with the same punctuality and care as if the customer were present in person.

Mrs. C. L. McCulloch,

HAVING taken the House on Main street, a few doors North of the Mansion Hotel, and next door above the Office of the Western Carolinian, announces that she is prepared for the accommodation of regular BOARDERS. She trusts that her long experience in the business will be a sufficient assurance of her ability to give the most tire satisfaction to those favoring her with their patronage. Young Ladies pupils in the Female Academy may rest assured that every attention will be paid to their comfort and pleasure, should they wish to board with her. Price of Boarding very cheap. [Salisbury, Jan. 16, 1836.]

CIRCULAR.

The Board of Trade of the City of New York, respectfully address the following Circular to the Merchants of the United States, who trade with this city:

You are aware that on the night of the 16th of December last, an unprecedented Conflagration destroyed an important portion of our city between Wall and Broad streets, embracing the Stores of many wealthy and enterprising Merchants.

Least an apprehension should prevail that this loss may render our merchants unable to furnish the usual amount and variety of merchandise heretofore exhibited in this market, the Board of Trade have much satisfaction in giving the assurance that the Merchants whose stores were destroyed, have removed to others, and are prepared from importations to continue their business with their usual assortments.

The Board of Trade therefore deem it proper to give this public assurance that none need postpone their usual time of visiting the city, confident that they will find the market as well supplied as usual, and their correspondents equally able to supply their demands. By order of the Board.
HUGH AUCHINCLOSS, President
JOHN ELY, Recording Secretary.

Those who take less than the whole, the terms will be as follows:
For three of them $7 per annum.
For two " 5 " "

These subscriptions are invariably to be paid within three months from the time of subscribing. Otherwise an advance of 25 per cent. will be made upon the subscription price.

Subscribers at a distance must enclose at least one half of the year's subscription in advance, otherwise a second number will not be sent—the terms being so low as not to justify any hazard in obtaining payment.

Any individual forwarding $30 free of charge, shall have five copies of the entire series of this re-publication sent him for one year.

It may be well for American readers to understand that although these publications purport to be issued at regular intervals, they do not frequently appear for many weeks, and even months from the time indicated on their covers. They will be re-published here as soon after they are received as it is possible to re-print them in one of the most extensive and effective printing establishments in the city of New York.

Runaway Negro.

MY negro boy HENRY left my plantation the 30th of January last. He is of a dark complexion; 27 years old; 5 feet 8 or 10 inches high, and will weigh from 150 to 200 pounds. When he left my house he had on a white woollen short coat and pantaloons of double and twisted black and white; he carried off two hats, one of white fur half worn, and the other a split black and white. He also carried off a quantity of clothing—a fine blue cloth coat, and a pair of corduroy pantaloons. I presume that he is making his way to the State of Indiana; and I will pay a reward of $50 for his delivery to me, or his confinement in any Jail, so that I get him again.

SOUTHERN CITIZEN.

The subscriber proposes to publish in the town of New Salem, Randolph county, North Carolina, a new little Newspaper. From some consultation with men of experience, and mature reflection on the subject, it is believed, that, by connecting the ordinary variety of a newspaper with explanatory sketches of legal principle, and judicial process, the publication may be rendered generally acceptable; at least, to the citizens of this State.

It is difficult to enumerate beforehand, all the subjects that may be considered within the design of his paper; but among other things, due attention will be paid to Religion, Morality, Education, Politics, Agriculture, Commerce, &c. &c. together with the news of the day, foreign and domestic. The business matter will be similar in character to that which appears in the 1st and 2nd vols. of the "Man of Business," and if necessary, some of the subjects treated of, will be more fully explained.

In politics, this publication is pledged to no party. And it is hoped and believed, that no improper prejudices will be indulged. All parties shall have fair play. The Editor promises, without reserve, the strictest attention to the chastity of his columns; and so far as practicable, to render the publication exactly such as every worthy citizen will take pleasure in introducing to the notice of his family and friends.

TERMS.—The paper will be issued every Saturday morning, on a fine quarto sheet, at $1.50 per annum in advance, or $2.00, if not paid within three months from the date of the 1st No. received.

No subscription to be discontinued till all arrearages are paid, unless at the discretion of the Editor. All letters, communications, &c., to come post paid. Advertisements inserted on the usual terms.

PROSPECTUS OF

THE WASHINGTON SUN.

In presenting our paper to the public, it is proper that we should give a brief statement of our principles of policy—our opinions of men and measures—and our motives for the course we intend to pursue, that those on whom we rely for support, may see the propriety of extending their patronage to us.

It has, unfortunately, become too much the fashion of the times, to question men's motives, and misrepresent their acts. Among some men, the intentions of others are sure to be understood according to the use that can be made of their statements. Such men never seek to ascertain the truth, but the advantage to be gained by its perversion. In every thing that concerns ourselves or others, therefore, it becomes our duty to speak plainly and explicitly. We do not mean to deal in parables, or furnish occasion to be misunderstood; nor will we ever suffer ourselves to be misrepresented.

For our view of public measures, we will be explicit. We stand for the rights of the States and of the General Government, as those rights are defined by the Constitution, and are opposed alike to all encroachments by the States, and all to the powers and privileges of the General Government, which have been wisely settled, and that they are sufficiently guarded to ensure the entire safety, harmony, and protection of all.

We are, therefore, for the Union as it is, "one and indivisible"—and are opposed to any change that is predicated upon speculative theories, and to be tested by doubtful experiments, at best, neither called for by necessity, nor convenience.

We are in favor of an energetic Administration of the Government, as best calculated, at all times, to protect the interest, promote the prosperity, and sustain the honor of the nation, and command respect both at home and abroad. In our political principles we are, and always have been, decidedly Republican—and our paper shall be devoted to encourage and maintain Republican principles of policy, and a Republican administration of the General Government.

We believe that the powers and privileges of the States, and of the General Government, have been wisely settled, and that they are sufficiently guarded to ensure the entire safety, harmony, and protection of all. We are, therefore, for the Union as it is, "one and indivisible"—and are opposed to any change that is predicated upon speculative theories, and to be tested by doubtful experiments, at best, neither called for by necessity, nor convenience.

Our habits, our sense of propriety, our respect for the deities of life, and the feelings of others, will never permit us to prostitute our columns to personal invective, calumny, or abuse. They never shall be defiled with falsehood, nor degraded by low scurrility—by that reckless and indiscriminate disregard of character and feeling that disgrace an honorable man, debase the habits, and pervert the tastes and morals of the community.

Such a practice has crept into use amongst us, and we regret it. There are those who can descend to this degrading habit, and who daily indulge in it. If they believe it useful, and can feel that it is becoming, we shall not quarrel with their tastes, nor interfere with their pursuits. We have no feelings to prompt us to such associations, no disposition to follow such examples.

Our paper shall contain the truth, as we understand and believe it. It shall disseminate sound, wholesome doctrines in politics and in morals, so far as our judgment and information will enable us to comprehend these subjects. It shall be decorous, respectful, firm, dignified and independent. Independent in the cause of justice, to do what is right, and to prove what is wrong. Independent in the expression of our opinions with firmness enough to stand by them. And while doctrines in politics and in morals, so far as our judgment and information will enable us to comprehend these subjects. It shall be decorous, respectful, firm, dignified and independent.
