think, is calculated to do good by rebuking the shees of the abeliannists, and exhibiting a broadstiew than has generally been taken of the whole enterior of providence towards the black man. He begins with a glowing account of the happiness and prosperity of the colony of Laberia. Of which he says, "The people are industrious and exercing in their attempts to gain a comfortable livelihood, temperate and economical in their abits, and appear to be really enjoying life."— Lest is a declaration as to the ultimate objects of Colonization society, in these words: It conlates the entire annihilation of slavery in Amerand the christianizing of Africa." We copy on by the editor of the declaration thus made Dr. Gobeen. Yet the same paper contains minutes of the Annual Meeting of the Ameri-Colonization Society, with the Hon C. F. Meror in the chair, and the Hon. Henry A. Wise at Mr. Garland among the speakers. The forner (Mr. Wise) moved, "That the cause of colonization should be here fer, as heretofore, (in confrast to the example of Abilition, the declared antagonist and enemy of Colonization) guarded jealously from all union, aseistion or contact with the party politics of the country; and that such union, association or conect in any form, or to any extent would be polluion to its character and death to its hopes of door good as a cause of humanity, civilization, phihropy and patriotism,"

And the latter (Mr. Garland) moved,

"That while this Society is an object of violent stack from opposite portions of the Union, and by men of the most opposite and hostile sentiments, it is the duty of those who regard it as safe for the Union, benevolent towards our whole colored popion, and fraught with blessings inestimable to Africa, to unite their counsels-their devotions and heir prayers to give to its operations ten-fold energy and success.

How shall we reconcile Dr. Goheen, Mr. Wise, and Mr. Garland? And if they cannot be reconeled and the Dr. takes upon himself to affirm more than he is authorised, or the truth warrants Christian Statesman set him right. While things ce in this position, we no more dare advocata the Celonization Society than Abolitionists.

But to Dr. Goheen's letter. We have noticed schiefly for the purpose of presenting the follower extracts.

Since my residence in Africa, my eyes have been compelled to view things differently to what day did in America. Having been educated in a sheeholding State, I was daily taught to look pon the man who held slaves as a monster scarcehuman, and at all times to regard those engaged mer holding slaves, as participating in crimes of the deepest dye; and, notwit standing I have reided in one, and travelled in several slave States, and over beheld the shade of a shadow of an atnot at the cruelties said to be practised (daily) upon the slaves, yet it was impossible for me to come early prejudices, or to believe any thing cise than that slavery as there practised, was the gisalest evil in the States, or in the world, which how very much doubt. That slavery as it exfrin some parts of the universe, is an evil unparruleed by any other, is most true; but that it is unlessed in the United States, with all the cruelhe and barbarities that the race is subject to, is very far from the fact.

" Slavery in the United States, in its worst force adunder the lash, is not as bad as slavery in Afhas in the mildest form. It is a well known truth that in Western Africa nine tenths of the whole tion are in a state of slavery. The females small sold at an early age, to be, when they grow wives or beasts of burden, as their proprietors my require. If the majority here were not slaves, as land !- Where do the Portuguese and Ameres Spaniards get their cargoes of slaves ! By Handering and ravishing the country! No. By ing and tearing them from their habitations ing the coast? No. Nor yet by hunting them sing the coast? No. Nor yet by huming them place to place with dogs; but they are obtained from the kings of the country, who send and elfrom the kings of the country, in droves, and sellbring them from the far interior, in droves, and sell them as cattle to the highest bidder. They are made in bundreds from the interior to the "slave. factories," and sold for tobacco, powder, guns, cloth, and whiskey. Our coast is thickly settled by nawho dwell secure from molestation by the es; they are not stolen and gathered promiscuonly by every and any means; nor are they de-paired of their liberty when they are forced to leave shores—they only change masters.—Slaves bey are, such they had been to the most savage s, who inflict upon them the severest punishand feel free to kill, to eat, or to throw them to the funeral pile, at pleasure. Slavery in the les, cannot possibly be as great an evil as it is ne. There thousands hear the word of God, and me soundly converted to the Christian faith; ers, hitherto, they have had no such opportunities, and it appears evident that God is about to over-nishment, the colonization tery, this, as he did Joseph's slavery in Egypt, and thereby bring about a great and lasting blessing to this whole country. I have heard men who he been taken from this country in slave ships, that ever they were bought by the slaver and carted to the States, where they heard the gospel preached, and had their dark understandings illusaid by Divine grace.

Gentlemen in America may say the cruel atrohes heaped upon the colored men in the South are at paralleled in any country; but if they will only to ahroad and suffer themselves to fall into the and of a native king, or even a " head-man" they all experience to their sorrow punishments equalard of, nay, in a thousand degrees more and than any of the "torturing inventions of the ern planters." Colored men may also talk of the wrongs which they sustain, of the privations they endure, and of the inferior ranks they are complete to fill in society, and point the listener to the traded station that they occupy in the public beautiful they beautiful the problem. and in consequence of some of their brethren bestaves in the South ; when it had not been for " sime hell-deserving practice," they themwould now (if in existence at all) be prowthese African forests, with thousands of unught heathens who inhabit them, as naked would be light first dawned upon them. They would be light first dawned upon them. to bondmen, the slaves of slaves, used as beasts of , and at all times hable to decapitation; they old be without any knowledge of a God or a reafter, and suffering all the barbarities of a save invention. I say without any knowledge of a ed, or a hereafter, because I have seen them exfined before the courts of justice by an interpreter.

if they do wrong their gree grees will kill them and that they all die and nil rot, and that be the cnd. Such are the privileges and enjoyments from which they are torn, when sold to slavers, and lorced to leave "their happy homes and peaceful country" for a life of slavery, with Christian privileges, i another hamisphere.

Paris, Dec. 12, 1838.

There is no recent news from Circassin. We know however, that the advantage lately claimed by the Russians to have been gained in that quarter, cost them dearly. No further particulars of the insurrection in Georgia have reached us.
Russia is said to be a hot-bed of conspiracies.

Some hundreds of new arrests have taken place there; but these may or may not have been " motived" by correct information. A strange rumor is in circulation that Louis Napoleon Bonaparte will be offered the hand of the Grand Dutchess Olgo. This would complete the eccentricities of

The Catholic question in Prussia is still causing much uneasiness to the government.

The evacuation of the Roman states by both French and Austrians, is now complete.

Of the state of Spain it is dangerous to speak because of the ever varying incidents occupring there. A new cabinet has been established, but being of the milk senate sort, is not likely to be long lived. The revolt at Seville is at an end, but that government is not a whit better off. Espartero is said at length to have resigned the command of the army of the north, but it is doubted. Carlists and Christines alike continue to butcher the prisoners by scores. Don Carlos is hourly receiving remittances of money via Surdinia, (said to come from Russia) - but his arrival in Madrid does not appear much more likely than it was on this day last year, when wagers were laid that he would be in the capital before Christmas.

Death is making sad havoc among the remains of the Grand Army. Within these 8 days General Brack has been struck by apoplexy. General Cessie de Bressoles (one of the commissioners charged with delivering up the Duchess of Angouleme to the Austrians in 1793 in exchange for the five commissioners arrested and given over to the Austrians by Pichegru) has paid the debt of nature. Among the remarkable persons lately deceased, has been the Duke de Choiseul. He was a faithful adherent of the unfortunate Louis XVI, and was charged with the management of his escape to Varennes, He subsequently fell into the power of the Republicans, and escaped from Dunkirk in an the purpose, by the British Covernment. He returned to France by permission of Napoleon, but engaged, nevertheless, in the conspirary of Morcau, against him. He was imprisoned for that offence, and remained in confinement during 5 years. On the restoration, favors were showered on him which can be attained only by exertion. by Louis XVIII., yet he Lecame so notorious for his liberalism under Charles X., as to be namedas was Gerard-one of an imaginary Provisional Government, created on the "second of the three days" of July, to suggest to the insurgents that their proceedings were directed by great persons. Trade is not better than at the date of my last. In fact I never knew less appearance of bustle at this near approach of the Jour de PAn (New Year's day) than at the present moment. Mr. K. fell to the ground almost dead with the intense agony caused by the burning of the vitriol, and his cries brought some. persons to his assistance, who conveyed him to his home, where medical assistance was promptly procured, and the sufferings of the unfortunate man were relieved as far as could be done. He will, however, we regret to say, lose both his eyes, and witt, if he survives, be distigured forever.

Thus far, no clie has been found by which the perpetrator of this infamous outrage can be ferreted out; but as some of our most active police officers are put after him, it is to be hoped that he may ere long be brought to justice. The magis. FAYETTEVILLE AND WESTERN RAIL ROAD. It is now generally known to the friends of this scheme, that the Legislature, at its late Session, passed a bill granting more liberal aid on the part of the State, for its prosecution, than that previously extended; in this action they may not have gone as far as the friends of the measure had hoped and expected, yet, under the circumstances, we think the concessions are liberal, especially when we recollect that this; of all the schemes proposed, was the only one that found a degree of favor in their sight. Whether its friends are satisfied, or disappointed is not now the question; the action is passed, and liberal or not, it is perhaps as favorable as any future one will be; the point to be decided is, will those who are principally interested in its success avail themselves of this aid to accomplish the work. The first question naturally occurring is, can it be done with such assistance! We answer confidently that it can, if it is entered upon with the right spirit; for what insurmountable obstacle opposes ! let us look at a plain statement and see how the case stands.

The bill passed provides for a subscription on the part of the State of three-fifths of the capital stock, so soon as two-fifths shall be taken by individuals; according to an estimate, made by Maj McNeill, a road, with a single track, may be constructed from Favetteville to some point on the Yadkin above the Narrows, for $1,-250,000; taking this then, as the cost, a subscription of two-fifths or $500,000 is required from individuals to secure the remaining three-fifths or $750,000 from the State, to be paid-an important feature-in equal instalments with individual stock. And now, can it be possible that this vitally important measure shall be deaved or defeated for the want of such an amount as $500,000! The rich valley of the Yadkin and Catawba with all the region adjacent-even without considering the assistance which will be afforded by Favetteville and Wilmington-unable to raise the sum of $500, 000! We will not yet entertain so humiliating a doubt, humiliating-we should rather say insulting, for so it would be considered, if asserted abroad.

No man can doubt the ability of the country to raise this sum, and still less can any one doubt the absolute nocessity of doing something to resuscitate the decli-American vessel, purchased and seut thither, for ning life of trade and business of every kind; all are sensible of the downward tendency of things; but of what avail is it to perceive and not act! every one nesires to see projects of Internal Improvement going forward; but if we fold our arms and consider, and defer and wish forever, we shall hardly realize the objects

There is now, no longer any excuse for delay, the State has proffered her aid to foster the work, and the people, of the West especially, are called upon to come forward and answer the appeal which is made to their public spirit, patriotism, and interest. All classes of cit zens are interested in the matter; the accomplishment of this scheme will ensure to the farmer, many advantages, in the increased value of landed property, the saving of time, labor and exposure in the facilities it will afford for getting to market ;-to the merchant, and the mechanic a revival of business, and Convention - Mr. Pinel - is also lately deceased. - increase of profit consequent upon the fresh impulse which will be given to trade, when the tide of emigrachecked, and we shall no longer see many of our most The projected establishment of steam communi- enterprising and wealthy citizens descriing their homes.

were passed which place beyond doubt, that a com- give a helping head to the extent of his means; no matter how small the amount, if he is able to take but one share, it will be some assistance.

Another reason we would not forget to mention in favor of this work, is the progress which we see making all around us, in the manufacturing interest, this ought to act as a powerful incentive in pushing forward

We do hope that the people will go to work in earnest; throw aside that over-cautious fearfulness which is content to forego all the probable, if not certain advantages of a scheme such as this, and sink still lower every year, rather than risk the investment of a part of their means in a way which promises not only to be profitable in itself, but which will make a tenfold return in enhancing the value of all the balance of their

It is well to bear in mind one thing, that delay only begets danger, and is in no wise salutary; the longer it is deferred to commence, the longer it will be before the advantages can be realised, and as our neighbors are not waiting with us, there is the more need for our keeping pace with their progress, otherwise we may find Chrystie street, he was met at the corner of Walk. ourselves so far behind, as to make it a difficult matter

There has been conside-ble tobacco in market and sold at 8 a 84 for passed, and 87 a 71 for refused; corn 85 a 90; outs 50; wheat $1 25 a 1 30. Of cotton there has been about 350 bales sold here this week, at prices varying from 11 to 13 cents as extreme prices; sales to-day of a fair good article at the latter price; sagar 9 a 11; coffee 12 a 13½; molasses, New Orleans, hid. 42 a 45; do. Cuba, 37 a 40; salt, per sack, $2.75 a 3.00; iron, Swede, 5½ a 6; do. rolled 5 a 5½.—Some real estate sold at anction to-day, a corner lot near the market, 30 feet front, extending 60 in rear for $1575; also, another corner lot, directly south-cost of the market-house, 39 feet front extending 60 in rear, with ware-house on it, for $2925. Real estate is looking up in anticipation of a Rail Road. The above were sales of the lots, without the buildings on them. We do hope the time has come when the people of North Carolina will take hold of the Rail Road in good earnest, and instead of talking any longer act on the subject at once. We look to the West to do well her part in this enterprize.

Death of Gen. Bull, of Abbeville District. The death of this gentleman has occurred in a manner peculiarly distressing to his many warm friends, and shocking to the community in which he lived. He was murdered on the might of the 27th ult., near his own dwelling, and as circumstances evidently prove, by some of his own negroes. The following statement is taken from a letter written by a gentleman resident in the neig'sborhood of the deceased:

"The murder appears to have been committed "The murder appears to have been committed under these circumstances: At the time of his death, Gen. Bull had no overseer, and, as a consequence, had to give a particular personal supervision to his plantation offairs. After supper, on the night of the 27th ult., he walked to his negro quarter, a mife from his dwelling house. On his return, about three hundred yards from his house he was attacked and murdered by two of his own was attacked and murdered was attacked and murdered by two of his own was attacked and murdered was a young fellows, who were lying in wait for him .-They called a negro (Dick) to bring his horse to the gate, and then carried the body a quarter of a mile up the road, and above the house. They put the right foot in the left stirrup, and then frightened the horse, which ran about 40 yards before the stirrup broke. The body was found about 8 o'clock the next morning, with the stirrup on the left foot, and with the appearance of being dragged the distance I have mentioned. The horse was found in the cow-pen, with the saddle on, and the left stirrup gone. This was all contrived to make the impression that Gen. Bull had been thrown by his horse, his foot hung in the stirrup, and that he was thus killed but the schemes of villains are seldom perfect .-This very circumstance proves the murder instead of an accidental death. A puddle of blood was where the General was killed, and blood traced all the way to where the body was discovered. All the wounds were inflicted on his head, and appear to have been made by six blows with a hard, heavy stick. The skull was fractured in two places. C. B. & C. K. WHEELER. Eight of the negroes are now in jail. Three are supposed, from the circumstances, undoubtedly guilty. The trial is delayed to give every opportunity to discover all that is possible."

This extract briefly details the circumstances of this horrible murder; the news of which will bring anguish to the heart of many throughout the State, of which the deceased has been a distinguished citizen, holding a high rank for his talents, his patriotic spirit, his strict honesty of character, firmness and sterling courage, and his ordent, unswerving devotion to his friends.—Among them his place N. B. All orders from a distance when reference cannot be filled with one equal in genuine wit and is given, will be promptly attended to. social qualities. His nearest sorrowing relative is a brother, living in Abbeville District.
