

POETIC RECESS

THE EARLY DEAD.

They go, a fresh and beautiful band, To the sunny sky of the "spirit land;" To the music soft of an angel choir; They hymn their joy on a golden lyre; Gladly, ah! gladly, they soar away, As a bird unaged, or a child at play.

VARIEY.

EDUCATION.

A friend, who was a passenger on board the beautiful little steamboat William Caldwell, on Lake George, a few days since; was particularly struck with a notice placed on the door of the room of the baggage man of the boat; several gentlemen took a copy of the bill, which was in manuscript, but our friend so struck with the chiropathy as well as the orthography, that he purchased the paper and brought it home with him. We give it to our readers as far as we can but it is impossible to do justice to the penmanship.

SNAILS.

Sum livin nice live ratel-snails to be seen in a boxes for the embelement of ladies and gentlemen kecht on lung mounting—sum on black mounting, hees a ratter no mistak.

Admitens sickpains or nothin just as yew pleas but the snail cost munny—please to caul and eck-zamen for yewerselves befor yew purches stone-ware as the man sez in the nusepaper when he wants to sel his trumpety.

Some Frenchmen, who had landed on the coast of Guinea, found a negro prince seated under a tree, on a block of wood for his throne, and three or four negroes, armed with wooden pikes, for his guards. His sable majesty anxiously inquired, "Do they talk much of me in France?"

An exchange paper says that "sometimes people stop their paper without paying the arrears!" We think we have a faint memory of having heard the like before.

The first consideration with a knave is to help himself—the second, how to do it with an appearance of helping you.

"There is no worse devil," said Jeremy Taylor, "than a devilish tongue."

Hard Rub.—Mr. Bidd W., of K., one of the pleasantest tuns in Plymouth county, Massachusetts, was a stone cutter, and withal given to hard jokes. One morning, as he was busy at work, surrounded as usual by a number of tombstones, carved out with the usual inscription—"In memory of," he was greeted by Doctor F., who was riding by, on a visit to some of his patients. "Good morning, Mr. W.," said the Doctor, "hard at work, I see; you finish your grave stones as far as 'In memory of,' and then wait, I suppose, to see who wants a monument next?" "Why, yes," replied the old man, resting a moment on his mallet; "unless somebody is sick, and you are doctoring him; and then I keep right on!"

"The boy at the head of the class will state what were the dark ages of the world." Boy hesitates. "Next—Master Smith, can't you tell us what the dark ages were?" "I guess they were the age just before the invention of spectacles."—"Go to your seats."

Fining a Governor.—A good joke is told of Governor Boggs. By the ordinances of the city of Jefferson, discharging a pistol within the city limits is punishable by fine. The Governor broke this law and was hauled up before the Mayor, and fined five dollars. The Governor protested—contending that he had the power to remit the fine.—The Mayor denied this doctrine, and was about preparing a mittimus to lodge the Governor in jail, when some of his friends forked over, and released the dignitary from "durance vile." As there is no precedent in the books, we commend this case to the attention of jurists.—St. Louis Rep.

A Providence Dandy.—A correspondent of the Providence (R. I.) Journal has given the editor an account of the "stirring up" of one of the "hannials." "Two little creeps—had come across one of them, whose lip was pretty considerably shaded with dark, grizzly-looking hair, in their travels up Westminster street."

"What's that?" asked the younger lad. "That," replied the other, "why that—that is—I don't know what they call it, but it belongs to the caravan."

"To the caravan!—why I wonder how it got loose—perhaps it will bite!" "No, I guess not; poke a stick at it and see." Not at all afraid, the younger did run after it, and coolly poked a stick at it.

"You impudent little rascal," exclaimed the exquisite, turning quickly round, "dost, or I'll chastise ye! dem me, if I will not."

"Hey!" cried the astonished urchin. "He-y!—yes, you low, vulgar, ill born, illiterate rascal, I'll chastise you in an instant!" and raising his foot to suddenly to effect his purpose, as ill-luck would have it, a seam gave way, and one leg of pantaloons was entirely ripped apart. "Burst his boiler! burst his boiler!" screamed the lads, and away they scampered.

The best of the joke was three ladies stopped by the way and witnessed the whole affair, apparently with much gratification. "Fierce, like a dowdless beauty, has more admirers than followers."

Destiny.—We remember a beautiful allegory illustrating the power of fate. King Solomon was walking in his garden, with an attendant, when an appalling figure was seen approaching him. The attendant exclaimed in alarm: "Solomon, the sight of that being affrights me! I know not why—send me I pray thee, to the furthest mountain of India." The king in his capacity of magician, complied—the attendant vanished. The stranger came up and said, "Solomon, what was that man doing here? My errand was to seek him on the furthest mountain of India." "Angel of Death," replied Solomon, "thou wilt find him there!"

"Why," said a physician to his intemperate neighbor, "don't you take a regular quantity every day—set down a stake, that you will go so far and no farther?" "I do," replied the other, "but I always set it down so far off, that I get drunk before I get to it."

A Yankee and an Irishman riding together, passed by a galloway. "Pat," said the Yankee, "give that galloway its due, and where would you be?"—"Faith that's easily known," replied Pat, "I'd be riding to town by myself all alone."

March of Inefficiency.—"Jim, how does the thermometer stand to-day?" "Ours stands on the mantel-piece, right agin the plasterin'."

Funny.—Some Yankee editor says "he like to a died larfin' to see a drunken chap trying to pocket the shadow of a swinging sign which he mistook for a pocket-handkerchief. It is enough to make a man laugh."

A patent has been secured in France for sewing boots and shoes with brass wire. It is said that they do not admit moisture or dust, nor do they rip when sewed in this manner. The sewing is done with as much ease as with a wax thread, nor is it more expensive.

Religion.—The celebrated Lord Burleigh is recorded to have said, "never trust any body not of sound religion, for he that is false to God can never be true to man."

Guilt.—Guilt, though it may attain temporal splendor, can never confer happiness. The evil consequences of our crimes long survive their commission, and like the ghosts of the murdered, forever haunt the steps of the malefactor. The paths of virtue, though seldom those of worldly greatness, are always those of pleasantness and peace.—Sir Walter Scott.

If an individual of the lowest rank, or without any rank at all, takes off his hat to you, you should do the same in return. A bow, says La Fontaine, is a note drawn at sight.—If you acknowledge it, you must pay the full amount. Gentlemen are never above speaking to their inferiors.

Contentment makes us more happy in desiring nothing, than the greatest monarchs upon earth in possessing all; it is the true Philosopher's stone, that turns all it touches into gold; in it we have all the treasure the world contains.

The Healing Springs.

THE SUBSCRIBER informs his friends and the public, that he is now enlarging his Establishment at the HEALING SPRINGS, in Davidson county, and making various improvements for the better accommodation of all who may call on him. He has now opened his house and is ready to receive all those who may favor him with their custom, and he assures them that no pains will be spared to render their stay easy and comfortable. He will have more rooms than during the last Summer, they will be better fitted up, and his table shall be abundantly supplied with the best the country affords.

The Healing Springs of Davidson, are known to be the best CALICHE water ever flowed out of the earth. They have long been celebrated for their strengthening, and invigorating qualities. These Springs are located in the midst of a range of considerable mountains, where the air is pure and pleasant. We are glad to see that Mr. Harris is fitting up the Establishment for the accommodation of visitors, and we hope he will receive the encouragement which the waters, and his attentions so well deserve.

New Foundry.

I HAVE lately completed and put in operation a large Iron Foundry at my mill on the South-Yadkin River (formerly Pearson's) in Davie county; where we are prepared to make all kinds of castings, such as—the running works of cotton or woolen factories, cotton gins, grist and saw mills, threshing machines, wind mills, plow blocks, godowns, iron shafts, pulleys, drums, driving wheels, and, in short, every thing else that is usually made at iron foundries. We are also prepared for turning shafts, &c., and for finishing and fitting up all kinds of machinery in this line of business.

I have employed James W. Wynn, formerly of Baltimore, a very skilful Machinist, to superintend and manage my establishment. Mr. Wynn has worked all his life in establishments of this kind, and is distinguished for his skill as a Machinist, and Millwright. He will also make calculations for water-wheels, mill-gearing, &c.; and when the machinery is obtained from us, he will attend to putting it up. Our prices are those of similar establishments at the North.

Orders addressed either to Jacob Wynn or myself, at Salisbury, will be promptly attended to. CHARLES FISHER.

MOFFAT'S VEGETABLE LIFE PILLS AND PHENIX BITTERS.

THE universal estimation in which the celebrated Life Pills and Phenix Bitters are held, is satisfactorily demonstrated by the increasing demand for them in every State and section of the Union, and by the voluntary testimonials to their remarkable efficacy which are every where offered. It is not less from a deeply gratifying confidence that they are the means of extensive and inestimable good among his afflicted fellow-creatures, than from interested considerations, that the Proprietor of these eminent medicines is desirous of keeping them constantly before the public eye. The sale of every additional box and bottle is a guarantee that some persons will be relieved from a greater or less degree of suffering, and be improved in general health; for in no case of suffering from disease can they be taken in vain.—The Proprietor has never known or been informed of an instance in which they have failed to do good. In the most obstinate cases of chronic disease, such as chronic dyspepsia, torpid liver, rheumatism, asthma, nervous debility, scrofulous swellings and ulcers, scurvy, salt rheum and all other chronic affections of the organs and membranes, they effect cures with a rapidity and permanency which few persons would theoretically believe, but to which thousands have testified from happy experience. In colds and coughs, which, if neglected, superinduce the most fatal diseases of the lungs, and indeed the viscera in general, these medicines, if taken but for three or four days, never fail. Taken nightly, they so promote the insensible perspiration, and so relieve the system of febrile action and stentent obstructions, as to produce a most delightful sense of consciousness in the morning; and though the usual symptoms of a cold should partially return during the day, the repetition of a suitable dose at the next hour of bed-time will almost invariably effect permanent relief, without further aid. Their effect upon fevers of a more acute and violent kind is not less sure and speedy if taken in proportionable quantity; and persons returning to bed with inflammatory symptoms of the most alarming kind, will awake with the gratifying consciousness that the fierce enemy has been overthrown, and can easily be subdued. In the same way, visceral turgescence, though long established, and visceral inflammations, however critical, will yield—the former to small and the latter to large doses of the Life Pills; and so also hysterical affections, hypochondriacism, restlessness, and very many other varieties of the Neurotical class of diseases, yield to the efficacy of the Phenix Bitters. Full directions for the use of these medicines, and showing their distinctive applicability to different complaints, accompany them; and they can be obtained, wholesale and retail, at 375 Broadway, where numerous certificates of their unparalleled success are always open to inspection.

For additional particulars of the above medicines, see Moffat's "GOOD SAMARITAN," a copy of which accompanies the medicines; a copy may also be obtained of the different Agents who have the medicines for sale. French, German, and Spanish directions can be obtained on application at the office, 375 Broadway.

All post paid letters will receive immediate attention. Prepared and sold by WILLIAM B. MOFFAT, 375 Broadway, N. Y. A liberal deduction made to those who purchase to sell again.

Others who have emigrated to that rich, and promising portion of our country—men who went out with hope, and confident of winning a competence from the luxuriance of the soil; or who carried to the corners of our settlements the mercantile or mechanical experience won in the crowded cities and towns of the old States, have either returned with shattered constitutions and depressed spirits, or they remain in their native haunts, dragging out a weary life; at last, to seek for some haven to which they are predisposed by the terror of the West, the Fever and Ague. Their hopes are blasted—their business energies destroyed—El Dorado become a desert, and the world, made to be a car, is broken to the hope.

To these individuals, Mr. Moffat would say—Try the Life Medicines, and you will yet anticipate your most sanguine expectations, for they will certainly restore you to health.

Fever and Ague is a complaint which requires to be met at its first approach, and combated at every stage. Seldom fatal of itself, it reduces the strength, and impairs the functions of the organs, so that upon the manifestation of disease, Nature is unable, unassisted, to resist the invader. The Life Medicines, when taken strictly according to directions will cure it, and give to the weak and trembling victim of disease, new health, and strength.

For full particulars of the mode of treatment, the reader is referred to the GOOD SAMARITAN, a copy of which accompanies the medicine. A copy may be obtained of the different Agents who have the medicines for sale.
